CALLANDER, Ont., Mar. 14.—With her husband off to Toronto to battle the proposed bill making her quintuplet daughters wards of King George, Elzire Dionne came out in the open today in her fight for full possession of her babies.

Weeping and speaking in her native French, she said:

"If the bill goes through, I'll go to the hospital and take my babies myself, even if I have to die on the spot. I want my babies with me. I can take care of them well. I could get plenty of help. Several nurses offered their services to me free.

"My older children have seen their little sisters only twice, and then through a window. It is piti-

MYSTERY PLANE READY FOR NEW TEST FLIGHT

(International News Service)

OAKLAND AIRPORT, Cal., Mar. 14.—Uncle Sam's mysterious robot plane—nameless except for the simple number NC223Y—today was poised for another test flight over the blue Pacific.

The next time the huge twin-motored low-wing Douglass plane soars into the western sky—probably some time today—it is expected to fly directly to Honolulu.

Secrecy continued to mark the movements of the robot plane's crew composed of picked aviation experts of the army and the department of commerce. The only admission from the crew was: "We'll probably make another test flight today."

Flew Over Pacific.

Twice yesterday the plane flew over the Pacific. The first hop, starting in early morning darkness, took the fliers 170 miles at sea. The second flight, which took the plane 300 miles out, ended at 6:30 last night.

The crew of the robot plane—Capt. Albert Hegenberger, Capt. Clayton Bissell, Chester Snow, Jr., and B. R. Brown—was highly elated over the performance of their mechanical devices, declaring the two trial flights were "highly satisfactory".

From Wheeler field, Hawaii, came the only definite word that the next test flight probably will take Hegenberger and his companions across the 2,450 miles of water to the island paradise.

Major Ernest Clark, in charge at Wheeler field, admitted he had been notified to expect the flight "either today or Friday".

British Manufacturers On Tour Of America Inspect Local Plant

If you think your motor taxes are high, you should own a car in England, according to M. Melhuish and W. B. Brown, British manufacturers who were the guests of P. J. Flaherty, president of the Johnson Bronze Company on Wednesday. Fifteen shillings per rated horsepower, or about $3.75 American money is the rate for license plates, which means about $80 per year for that six cylinder puddle jumper of yours.

The two gentlemen are directors of the Glacier Metal Company of Wembley, London, England, a concern that manufactures bronze bushings and were here as a part of an American tour of inspection of motor plants and accessory plants. As a part of their trip they came to New Castle to see the workings of the Johnson Bronze Company.

City Engineer To Be Selected

ELECTION LIKELY FRIDAY MORNING

Members of council met in private conference in city hall today and as a result a successor to the late city engineer, Harry Hoskins, will probably be named Friday. In addition, it is also probable that matters affecting the city golf course, elevations in the fire department and grader bids will be settled.

At 10 a. m., today the four councilmen were closeted in the office of Safety Director Davies after which they shifted to the office of Mayor Mayne who took part in the conference in his office.

May Name Throop

Engineers were discussed as were other matters. Following the meeting Director of streets Butler was questioned concerning the late Hoskins' successor but he said he did not wish to state the name of the man he would recommend Friday.

Speculation in city hall, however, centered around possible selection of Glenn Throop, an engineer for the RWD who has been associated for

MORRO CASTLE AGAIN AFLOAT

(International News Service)

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Mar. 14.—The once palatial Ward liner, Morro Castle, a prisoner in the sands off here since the morning of September 8 last when it became a blazing inferno in which more than 130 lives were lost, has been re-floated.

She was pulled loose shortly before 2 a. m. today by two sturdy tugs which had been trying to salvage her for more than four months.

All day yesterday preparations were made to pull the huge liner free from its last bit of sand.

Cold Weather Checks Rivers At Pittsburgh

Three Big Pittsburgh Rivers Slowly Recede As Cold Wave Arrives

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 14.—Mud, water-soaked houseboats, and damage generally remained today as waters in Pittsburgh's three rivers receded after raging at flood levels for a day.

Colder weather and slight snow flurries checked the expanding streams from which water flowed inundating lowlands and cellars, from a high point of 26.3 feet water dropped during the night to about 23 feet.

Schools Closed

The Monongahela river was hit hardest. The rise in this watershed was so great and came so quickly that navigation was suspended for two days. Flood waters gushed over lowlands, closed schools and mines throwing approximately 10,000 miners out of work. If water levels continue to decrease, river traffic may be resumed either late today or tomorrow.

Damage to waterfront property was general.

Cloture Threat On Work-Relief Bill In Senate

Administration May Seek To Shut Off Debate On Huge Project

BALANCED BUDGET ADHERENTS ACTIVE

Long Seeks $300,000,000 To Send Poor Children Through Colleges

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—A proposal by Senator Huey P. Long (D) of Louisiana, to ear-mark $300,000,000 of President Roosevelt's $4,880,000,000 work relief fund for sending 300,000 children of poor parents through college today shared the senatorial spotlight with demands of conservatives for a balanced budget.

Long proposed to take the $300,000,000 from an allocation of $600,000,000 for the CCC. He said young men in CCC camps would prefer going to college. He previously was beaten by a 5 to 75 vote when he proposed spending $1,000,000,000 of the total relief fund on educational purposes.

Strange Lineup

Strangely enough, Long joined with such conservatives as Senator Glass (D) of Virginia, Tydings (D) of Maryland, and Adams (D) of Colorado, in protesting against the administration's present policy of borrowing billions of dollars to finance its recovery program. He shared their view that the administration was piling a tremendous debt upon future generations.

Long boasted that as governor of Louisiana, he never enacted an appropriation or floated a bond issue, without first having imposed the taxes necessary to finance it.

May Impose Cloture

There was a hint the administration might try to impose cloture on the senate to shut off debate. This would require a vote by two-thirds of the membership and neither the liberals nor the conservatives want to be gagged on a bill spending $4,880,000,000. They said the administration held the bill in committee

More than a score of lawyers representing Libby Holman Reynolds, Broadway torch singer, and Anne Cannon Reynolds Smith, the two wives of Zachary Smith Reynolds, the mysteriously slain tobacco heir, have been waging a fight to the finish over the disposition of the $25,000,000 estate of young Reynolds at a hearing at Winston-Salem, N. ## Bills Appropriating $42,000,000 In State Given To Legislature

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Thirteen appropriations bills totaling more than $42,000,000 to cover departmental deficits of almost $6,000,000 in the present budget, provide $23,000,000 for old age and blind pensions in the next biennium and supply funds for other pressing governmental obligations, were sent to the house today by Gov. George H. Earle.

The deficiency appropriation bill, totaling $5,821,175, covered deficits in eight departmental budgets. These were part of the $50,000,000 deficit Governor Earle charged up to the preceding administration and which he requested the legislature to provide in balancing his $497,000,000 budget for the 1935-1937 biennium. The money is needed to fulfill obligations incurred by the departmens during the current biennium.

Aid For Schools.

Included in the deficiency appropriation bill was $1,986,000 for the department of public instruction. Of this amount $4,300,000 is needed to make complete payment of school subsidies now due. Other items included $91,000 for salaries of county and assistant county superintendents, $380,000 for transportation of school pupils and $215,000 to support vocational education school.

Also included was $234,375 to pay interest on the first $25,000,000 relief bond issue; $60,000 for unexpected forest fire fighting expenses incurred

State To Receive Federal Grant Up To April 1

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Continuation of unemployment relief until at least the end of March was assured today with the promise of Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, that another check for $11,000,000 will be given Pennsylvania on Monday.

Assurance of further federal aid was announced by Robert L. Johnson, state relief director, after a telephone conversation in which he informed Hopkins the state relief treasury was virtually bare again.

The additional grant will increase to $28,000,000 the total received in March to care for more than 1,700,000 persons on relief rolls. This exceeds the $20,000,000 grant for February but comparing the lengths of the two months represents a 10 per cent decrease, according to Johnson. The decrease has been due to the suspension of costlier works relief, it was explained.

WOULD ASSIST IN PREVENTING WARS

Legion's Program For Government Is Presented To Committee

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—The American Legion today threw its full weight behind the senate munitions committee's drive to eliminate war profit.

The legion's cooperation was offered to the committee by James A. Drain, of Indianapolis, Ind., former national commander of the legion. He said:

"Your purpose, as we understand it, is in exact accord with that of the legion which has long held the belief that taking the profit out of war will assist to prevent war and increase the chances of success should war be unavoidable."

He said that the American Legions efforts to minimize the profits of war have increased with the years, adding:

"Plainly, each year, interest of the legion is a less and less selfish one. The average age of the men composing the legion today is close to 45 years. The age limit for men to fight is placed at 21 to 30 years, with complete exemption after 45.

"In other words, the men of the legion would be, as to age, the class to stay at home and profiteer out of the next war if profiteering were to be allowed. Stopping profiteering is one of the things you are trying to do and the legion is with you in that desire."

Harrison Dies In New York City

Played Here In Part Of "De Lawd" In "The Green Pastures"

Richard B. Harrison has been called to "The Green Pastures." The aged negro actor who portrayed the part of "De Lawd" for more than five years in the play "The Green Pastures," died in the Fifth Avenue Hospital, New York from a blood clot today.

Mr. Harrison was over 70 years of age and up to the time of his collapse on March 2 had played in every performance of his show for five years. In December he played in New Castle and charmed his audience with his characterization of his part.

He was probably the most eminent member of his race today. Son of a slave, college bred, professor in a college, friend of the late Paul Lawrence Dunbar and such other outstanding Negroes as Will Marion Cook, Richard B. Harrison stood for the finer things in life and was an inspiration to the members of his race.

CUBAN RADICALS IN FINAL STRIKE EFFORT

New Terrorism Wave Attempted

Near Normal Conditions Restored, However, Despite Strikers' Efforts

MANY AGITATORS PLACED IN JAIL

(International News Service)

HAVANA, Mar. 14—Bombs and bullets split the air today in a renewed wave of terrorism as radicals made a final desperate fight to halt the collapse of the revolutionary general strike.

In spite of the imposition of a drastic 9 p. m. curfew for the second time, residents of Havana spent another fearful night, with soldiers, sailors and police firing fusillades and sniping intermittently to clear stragglers off the darkened streets.

At least four bombs were exploded and bullets and police batons added two more to the long list of the injured in the strike.

Near Normal Conditions

Normal conditions however, had been practically restored in respect to transportation and most other public services. "The strike is absolutely ended," said President Carlos Mendieta, in a statement isued through his secretary. "The majority of government workers have returned to their posts, while one hundred who refused to return have been discharged. Many radical agitators have been put into jail."

Another source declared that 200 ex-government employees were in prison.

A Cuban workman was painfully beaten by police who were reclosing an English language newspaper. The newspaper, which was about to start republishing following the strike, was ordered closed by police who happened to pass by. When workmen did not move fast enough for the police, they were attacked with clubs.

last fall; $112,000 for insurance, surety and fidelity bonds; $200,000 for additional legislative printing costs, and $300 for salaries of superior court criers and tipstaves.

Damage In Riots.

Other items were $140,000 to cover damage resulting from recent riots at the eastern penitentiary and $68,000 for the Torrance state hospital. The remainder was comprised of a deficit of $5,500 in the bureau of standard weights and measures and $15,000 to pay mileage of mercantile appraisers.

Other bills included $60,000 to be transferred from the motor license fund to reimburse the department of property and supplies for costs incurred in making purchases for the highway department and $12,722,719.55 also to be transferred from the motor fund to the board of finance and revenue to meet interest and sinking fund requirements on outstanding highway bonds. Another bill would transfer $30,000 of motor funds to the finance and revenue board for expenses incurred in registering highway bonds and paying interest.

Old Age Pensions.

Three bills appropriated $19,880,000 to the department of welfare for old age assistance payments in the two years beginning June 1 next, $3,085,000 for blind pensions in the same period and $180,000 for expenses in paying the pensions.

A series of six bills appropriated a total of $398,875 from six special departmental funds to meet the state's contribution to the state employes' reitrement fund.

Another routine bill would lapse all unexpended balances remaining in appropriations made by the 1927, 1929 and 1931 assemblies.

Sometime ago bids for a grader for the department of streets were opened and read to council and they were referred to the streets director and Purchasing Agent Alexander for a report and recommendation. A grader may be bought tomorrow.

The civil service board for firemen has already submitted a list of lieutenants eligible for captaincies and first grade firemen who are eligible for elevation to lieutenancies.

When Safety Director Davies was asked if he would make recommendations Friday he said he was not sure. However, he added that he proposed to confer with Fire Chief Stockman this afternoon and the elevations may take place tomorrow.

Director of parkss J. D. Alexander declared that the Golf commission had provided him with recommendations relative to the management of the course and prices which would be effective throughout the coming summer.

It has been indicated recently that there may be a change in the management from the present incumbent, W. G. Fleming to Captain V. Arthur Smith. The prices which will be in effect this season are the same as those effective last season.

Handwriting Experts Seeking Huge Sums

Hand writing expert testimony is valued at a high figure in New Jersey. Among the bills submitted to the State of New Jersey and the County of Hunterdon for the cost of the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, are bills aggregating $46,661.15 from hand writing experts.

Albert S. Osborn submitted a bill for $12,000 for his services in testifying that the handwriting in the ransom notes was that of Hauptmann. Osborn is not unknown to Lawrence County Courts as he has testified here, but never for anything like $12,000. His son Albert D. Osborn is asking $9,655 with the other experts submitting high bills also.

For performing an autopsy on the body of the Lindbergh baby, and testifying Dr. Charles H. Mitchell asks $500. The price in Lawrence County would be $20 for the autopsy and the daily witness fee of $2 for the physician's testimony on the witness stand.

Prof. George H. Priest, of Princeton translated a letter written in German and for his service he asks a modest $500. The bills submitted thus far total $130,000 inclusive of the investigation fees.

Campbell Calls Off Attempt To Lower Record

Beach Unsatisfactory And Campbell Keeps Giant Bluebird In Garage

(International News Service)

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Mar. 14.—Sir Malcolm Campbell's record-making 2,500 horsepower Bluebird remained in its garage today as a rough beach brought postponement of a scheduled trial run.

The British speed ace, who last week sent his mechanical wonder thundering down the 12-mile beach course to a new world land speed record of 276.816 miles an hour, was out early to inspect the course and the result was not to his liking.

He expressed bitter disappointment and said he may soon return to England.

"It would be foolhardy to go out today," Sir Malcolm said. "The beach is not good enough for even a hundred miles an hour."

BRITISH ON TOUR; INSPECT PLANTS

but petrol (gasoline to you) costs 35 cents per imperial gallon. An imperial gallon is about 5 American quarts. Of the 35 cents, 16 cents goes for tax. All of which is one of the reasons why British made cars are small engined as compared with their American cousins.

High taxes do not stop with motor cars and gasoline. Income taxes are something to reckon with. A man making 150 pounds per year, or about $750 is exempt but on the next 100 pounds per year he makes he pays 2 shillings six pence on each pound. Up to 2000 pounds per year he pays 4 shillings six pence on the pound and if he makes 2000 pounds per year or over he pays 12 shillings on the pound or about 60 cent. Realty taxes are somewhat lower than in the United States but everything else is sky high.

Taxes on real estate are based on the rental value of the property. On a house assessed at $3500 American money, the taxes seem to be lower than they are here in New Castle.

Unemployment Insurance

The two visitors talked about the British "dole" but they insisted that it wasn't a dole at all. It is "unemployment insurance" said Mr. Melhuish. A worker pays fifty per cent of his unemployment insurance and the company pays the other fifty per cent. When he is out of work he is paid a certain sum each week from the government which in turn collects the payments. In normal times the plan is self liquidating but in times of depression the government is rather hard hit. Over 60 a worker is entitled to an old age pension and unemployables are given relief from still another fund."

"What about the money Great Britain owes the United States" was asked the visitors.

The answer was typically a British diplomatic answer.

"Britain paid her yearly amounts to the United States as long as the other nations owing her paid" said the two of them. "When the other countries quit paying Britain, then Britain quit paying the United States. "And" said Mr. Brown, "we can't forget that debt owed Great Britain by the Confederate States during your Civil War. That never was paid.

Conditions Improving

Conditions are improving in the British Isles they believe. American methods of production have been emulated, more efficient methods of industrial organization developed and Great Britain is coming through. The efficiency of American factories amazed the visitors and they were high in their praise of the American way of doing things. "Of course" said they, "we do not have the call for the hugh output you do in America. One of your major companies manufacturing a low priced car makes more cars than all of the British automobile companies in a year."

The American hotels amazed and pleased them. "We never expected such a complete hotel as we found in The Castleton" said they. "It has everything for the comfort of the traveller. All of your hotels here are arranged for the comfort of the guest and we have been pleased with them. Further, we have been treated with the utmost courtesy by your manufacturers on our trip and we appreciate this courtesy."

As for the NRA, the AAA, the CCC, the TVA and the other alphabetic agencies of the government, they beg to be excused. They didn't understand them all. In which they are little different than the average American.

Mr. Melhuish and Mr. Brown have visited Detroit, Buffalo, Cleveland and other cities. On Saturday they sail for the British Isles, pleased beyond measure with their experiences in visiting American industries. After a trip through the Johnson Bronze Company they expressed themselves as highly pleased and much interested in the speed and efficiency with which bronze bushings for automobiles are turned out.

3. A determination of the material resources, industrial organizations, public or prvate services, of which the government requires control, and power to commandeer the same.

ful for them. There is no reason for taking away my children."

Complains of Treatment

Reminded she is free to go to the Dafoe hospital and pick up the babies if she wishes, Mama Dionne cried:

"Yes, but I would sooner do a big washing than go into the hospital. We are treated like strangers there. But I go because I want to see my babies."

She said her trip to the United States with her husband could not have been better had it been a honeymoon, but she did not like the stage. The stage tour, she said, was merely to get money to aid them in getting back their babies.

Rally for Battle

With 200 French-Canadian mothers of the region rallying behind the Dionnes in their fight for possession of their babies, the entire family express emphatic dissatisfaction with the proposed bill. Oliva Dionne, father of the quintuplets, before leaving for Toronto, said:

"Who would like to have their children taken away? Would Welfare Minister Croll like to have his children taken from him? I want full control of my babies, the same as I have over my other children. All other Canadians look after their children, why can't I? Surely I should have the privilege of choosing whom I want to look after them.

"There are lots of poor children who need care more than mine. But, of course, there is no money to be made with them."

Oliva saw only two good points in the bill, that the children would be brought up in the religion of their parents and that the parents would be allowed to see them at any time.

Shot Through Heart

As the end approached today, he stood by the bed. Tears filled his eyes and sorrow enveloped his heart. He watched the last sparks of life flicker from her body and then reached into his pocket.

Out came his hand containing a pistol. Before hospital attaches realized the impending tragedy, he fired a shot through his heart. His body tumbled to the floor, as he joined the woman he loved in death.

The furlong, or 220 yards, originally meant the length of a furrow. It was supposed to be the distance oxen could plow without stopping to rest.

unnecessarily for 12 days whereas the present debate has lasted but four days.

Action on the McCarran prevailing wage amendment meanwhile was sidetracked. The senate was worried by a threat of Long to prevent a vote on that amendment until the leaders permit "pairs" for the absent senators (Mrs.) Caraway and Overton, who are ill in hospitals Both favor the amendment but without pairs, cannot be recorded on the issue. As it has been the senate's traditional custom to grant pairs (which keep an attending senator from voting to offset the missing vote of the absent senator), it was believed Long would win out in the end.

Long's demand for an educational allotment has stirred the senate. He was jeered when his billion-dollar plan was beaten by the lopsided 5 to 75 vote, but there was no laughter over his $300,000,000 amendment.

EAST SIDE CLUB HEARS INFORMATIVE ADDRESS

Garden enthusiasts, comprising members of the East Side Garden Club augmented to the number of 25 or 30, by members of the Reading Circle '06 who were club guests, heard an imformative talk by William Williams, of the Butler road, at their March session Wednesday, in the home of Mrs. J. A. Wilson, on Morton street.

Mr. Williams chose as his subject "Planning and Planting a Small Garden" in which he stressed the importance of having a definite plan mapped out before work is begun. He advised choice of the kind of garden, as the first requisite, then the location, planting material, furnishings, or adornments proportions, the preparation of the soil, the drainage and exposure in the order named. An open forum was conducted by the speaker, afterwards which cleared up many questions of the members.

Mrs. Harry Sturdevant introduced Mr. Williams and conducted the business session during which plans were furthered for County Day to be held in the Third U. P. church on April 4, at which the East Side club will be hostesses. Members spoke of Pests and Remedies in answer to roll call and the assembly repeated the creed.

Previous to the meeting, a nicely appointed buffet lunch was served from the dining room table. Mrs. Sturdevant and Mrs. Earl McKnight presided at the tea and coffee services. Tall lavendar tapers combined with green tones, the club's colors, were ornamental decorations.

Attractive green shamrocks carrying the names of the guests were suggestive of St. Patrick's Day, and served as a means of introducing the guests.

On April 10, the club will meet again in regular session with Mrs. C. R. Brenner, of Huron avenue, hostess.

Les Bridgeurs Meet

The March meeting of the North Beaver Garden club was an interesting one Wednesday evening, in the home of Mrs. Flossie Andrews at Mt. Jackson. There was a good attendance, about 30 being present, and they listened to a program particularly good for this time of year.

An original means was used in answering roll call, the members naming flowers, the first letter of which was the same as occurred in their own names. Several papers were given, J. W. Fullerton discussing "Hot Beds, Their Construction and Soil." "The Treatment of Seeds Before Planting" was a subject outlined by J. V. Brewster, and the topic, "Native Shrubs for Natural Effects; the Growing of Shrubs for Natural Effects, the Growing of Shrubs for Cutting," was taken up in detail by Mrs. J. W. Brewster.

Mrs. John V. Brewster and George Clark were in charge of this informative program, after which Howard Gilmore, who arranged for the music, presented a sextet composed of A. J. McCall, Merle Leslie, J. V. Brewster, J. W. Brewster, William McCombs and himself. They rendered several delightful vocal numbers.

George Clark conducted a question box and Mrs. J. W. Fullerton, the president, was in the chair for the business meeting. Three associate members were admitted to membership: Rev. Ray Woodburn, Kenneth Gwin and Earl Cox. During a social period following, refreshments were served by the wives and husbands on the committee: Mrs. John Brewster, Mrs. George Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gilmore.

CHECKING PERJURY

PERJURY has become common in American courts it is asserted. Its prevalence is recognized and deplored by judges, lawyers, prosecuting attorneys, grand and petty juries and independent investigators, yet very little is ever done about it. Persons accused and tried for this offense are usually acquitted. Many who have clearly committed perjury are never brought to trial because conviction would be so hard to obtain.

Partly this is the case because penalties for perjury seem to juries too severe. In New York state, for example, the maximum sentence for perjury is 20 years in felony trial and 10 years in others.

A law recently proposed to the New York legislature would set up different degrees of perjury with different penalties for each. Perjury in a trial for felony would be first degree. For this the punishment would be imprisonment for not more than five years, or a fine of not more than $5,000, or both. Perjury in other trials would be second degree, classed as a misdemeanor, and punishable by not more than one year of imprisonment, $500 fine, or both.

Certainty of punishment, after trial and conviction for false testimony, is the only remedy. Perjury has grown because it was "easy to get away with it."

A SHOW WITHOUT AN AUDIENCE

A resolution which has been introduced in congress would bar the public from sessions of that august body. The sponsor, Representative Raymond J. Cannon, Democrat, of Wisconsin, says that sometimes members make useless speeches solely for the benefit of the press and galleries. To some, that charge may come as a surprise. Surely, the sedate and dignified senators and representatives cannot be justly accused of making grandstand plays! That would be unthinkable.

There is a faint suspicion, however, that lawmaking might proceed at a more rapid pace if some of the "showing off" were eliminated. But we doubt very much if eliminating the small audience which sits in the congressional galleries would change the nature of those who "like to hear themselves talk."

In every group of considerable size there are a certain number who have that propensity, and while spectators may give impetus to the proclivity, they never forget that the press carries at least a few of their words to the public outside congressional halls.

ANOTHER PATHETIC BOY KING

The burden of royalty has usually proved too much for youth. Even the precocious Edward VI of England found it so. Probably little Peter of Jugoslavia, taken from his English school when his father was murdered, has often wished himself back. Now Prince Ananda, proclaimed King of Siam when Prajadhipok abdicated, who was at school at Lausanne, openly laments his new status. He says he is not glad to be King. "I like to play with locomotive trains," he tells a questioner. What boy would not,

To the suggestion that he would have hereafter all the toys he wished, he replied, with a pathetic understanding of the situation, "No, I won't; they won't let me." His days of boyhood freedom are over; he will be stifled by court ceremonial and trained for duties he cares little for and of which he understands less. He would rather stay in Lausanne, where he has companions whom he can meet as equals.

There isn't very much fun for a grown man in being a King. For a boy it is rather pitiable.

FEWER SUICIDES

One of the hopeful signs today is a decrease in the national suicide rate. One community of about 1,000,000 people reports a drop last year to 17.5 suicides per 100,000 population. The average for the previous three years had been 21 per 100,000.

The total fatalities of this type during the depression will never be known. The rate might be higher than any that could be figured from positive knowledge. The human loss from self-destruction is one of the most appalling effects of economic crisis. The rate is still distressingly high. If the 1934 figures quoted above could be assumed for the whole nation, it would mean about 22,000 suicides last year. An estimate covering the entire depression period might show a total as large as the United States army. Much of it would not be necessarily traceable to the depression, but economic distress would be the leading cause.

The change in trend of these figures suggests lessening pressure and returning confidence.

KISSING FOR SCIENCE SAKE

When a high school professor in California announced the other day that all the boys and girls in his biology class would participate in a test to determine whether germs are transmitted by kissing, the students promptly exhibited new interest in higher education. As a matter of duty in the cause of scientific research, the class showed up 100 per cent and a few alumni even made inquiries as to possible post-graduate work.

A lot of pleasurable anticipation was dashed, however, when the professor handed each pupil a pad of sterilized cloth upon which a solo kiss was to be imprinted for microscopic inspection.

It is plain that these students did not approach the microbe test in the true scientific spirit. They should have realized that a kiss may be viewed either as a biological experiment or as a—well, as a kiss, and should not have tried to combine research with pleasure.

Still, the chief difference is that a different crowd is getting money without earning it.

Old-timers didn't live longer. They did about the same amount of living, but took longer to do it.

---

Yes, boys and girls kissed back in 1890; but it resembled a chicken picking up corn, instead of vulcanizing.

---

Huey Long's denunciation of the rich sounds a little strange to those who would feel very rich if they had as much as he had.

---

You think men are stronger than women? Then show us a man who can cook a meal with two babies underfoot without going crazy.

DON'T STRUGGLE

I meet a friend whom I know as well as I know myself. But when I start to call him by his name—I can't remember it.

I struggle to call it back, but it will not come. I'm ashamed of myself, bewildered, impatient...What's the matter with me, anyway, that I can't remember a name I know so well?....I demand of my memory that it go to work, paddle out into the murgy swamps of my brain and retrieve this word. No use, it will not obey....I try to persuade my memory. Please, be a good boy and find that word for me! Again no use. My memory doesn't hear me, pays no attention....I become subtle and devious. I will wait till my memory isn't looking and then slip up behind it, seize the word, and run away again. No chance! My friend's name is gone—and I must wait patiently for his name to come back to me.

A similiar embarrassment occurs when I am talking and suddenly am unable to think of "the right word." It is right there on the tip of my tongue, lurking in the corners of my brain, but I cannot speak it.... Though I coax, though I threaten, I cannot draw it forth, though I can see its two eyes shining in the darkness of my brain cavity....I am humiliated, but I am helpless as long as I try to force that word to come gently to tongue.

But all is not lost, all is not futility. I learn one small precious fact from my embarrassment.... I learn that I cannot compel my memory to remember that misplaced name, that furtive word, but I know that if I wait and go about my other business those words will come back to my vocabulary. If I do not worry and strain, I shall know my friend's name when I meet him again. I shall remember the word when next I need it. They will come to me, as happiness will come if I do not struggle for it. They will come, as will peace if I do not seek to compel it. As will come many another precious possession, if I do not set myself up as despot, as master..Not even of myself.

LIFE'S GREAT JOY LIES IN ALTRUISM

If you would give less thought to yourself and more to others, you would be happier and get more from life.

Have you noticed the comfort it is to give to others?

If you have no joy in giving, you are to be pitied, for in this is the greatest joy in life.

Giving necessarily entails thinking of those who are less fortunate.

Constant thinking of your own ailments and disappointments makes life drab and robs it of cheery helpfulness.

To compare your own progress with those who have already reached the goal you have set for yourself is a foreboding line of thought.

In the first place, things are acquired through effort and sacrifice.

Only a few have luxury, comfort and eminence thrown at them.

The fact that they have them means persevering struggle for the creature comforts and privileges.

Your efforts may not benefit you greatly, but it is a comforting thought to know that you can make life easier for others.

RATHER MIRACULOUS

At the age of thirty-five a severe illness left E. A. Griswold, now of Dallas, Texas, totally blind. That was fifty years ago.

On a recent night, at the age of eighty-five, Griswold said he felt something snap in the top of his head. Not long afterward, to his great surprise, he found he could see again. Now his sight is being gradually restored, and Doctors believe he will soon see as well as the average person of his age.

Doctors declare the sensation described by Griswold as something having "snapped" was the sudden release of pressure on the optic nerve which had been paralyzed all these years.

Think of the fifty years of darkness and then consider what this miracle means to Griswold.

EVENING CHAT

What do we talk of mostly when alone
Beside the blazing fire we choose to sit?
Some golden dream and what has come of it;
The welfare of a friend we long have known;
Gay little memories of spirits flown;
The stricken neighbor, by a motor hit;
Birth, death and marriage, blending bit by bit
The joys and griefs of others with our own.

The hours fly by! Still much there stays to tell
And all so unimportant written down!
Somebody's son is doing very well.
Somebody's daughter now is back in town.
Trite bits of gossip, trivial if you please,
But is not life a sum of tales like these?

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:05. Sun rises tomorrow 6:11.

FIRST MARCH 12 BABY

To Frank Cooper Druschel, two-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Druschel, of 1062 Adams street, goes the honor of being the first claimant of the Hints and Dints man's award, for babies born on March 12, his birthday. Claim for the award was made Wednesday and little Frank already has the five dollars.

And now the high birth rate among families on relief is worrying the FERA officials. Figures just compiled show that in families on relief it is 210 per 1000 mothers while among those not on relief it is 137 per 1000. We don't know what is going to be done about it.

---

Down in Kentucky a man with a little patch of ground traded a $25 dollar radio for a cow. This was in 1932. Since then he has kept a family of five in milk and has sold milk and butter amounting to $456. Looks as though all you have to do to be prosperous is to trade your radio for a cow.

---

Happy is the man who realizes he is a moron. There is no heartache for the runner who doesn't expect to win.

Electricity now does almost evthing in the home except turn itself off when it isn't being used.

THE FICKLE TIMES

"What! Why he's the boy she's engaged to."

If you are getting alarmed about the future and don't know where your money will be safe, why not put it in real estate. Realty may be slow moving, and be over-taxed, but it stays right there—it doesn't blow away in a storm of cheap money.

AN ACCOUNTANT

The teacher was questioning the children about their ages.

"How old were you your last birthday?" she asked one boy.

"Seven, ma'am" was the answer.

"Nine, Ma'am."

"Nonsense," said the teacher. "If you were seven your last birthday, how can you be nine your next?"

"Well, you see teacher," he said, "I'm eight today."

One of the nice things about the installment plan is that young married couples can feather their nest with a little down.

There is nothing quite as rare as an inferiority complex in a girl who has just stepped out of a beauty parlor.

Hurrah for America! With only ten times greater resources she almost keeps up with England and Japan.

Out in Iowa the Farm Credit Bureau was looking for job applicants, who had to fill out a questionairre. There were two questions which were considered unanswerable, until an Iowa University graduate took the test. One question was "How long is a piece of string?" and the other was "How far can a dog run into the woods?" The bright young man said that a piece of string was twice as long as the distance between the center and either end, and that a dog can only run halfway into the woods: after that he would be running out. He got a job.

Old Mother Hubbard came back from the cupboard
And made to her dog a confession:
There isn't a bone—the chow is all gone—
On account of this dog-gone depression.

Our government seems to have forgotten the old recipe for "Rabbit Stew," first catch the rabbit. The way to raise money for expenses is to first provide business and industry, with a method of making or possessing money that can be assessed or taken for Government use by or through taxes. Therefore until the "Rabbit" is found there will be no stew. It looks like a long line will be waiting for "Soup."

PRACTICED UP

"There is talk of the next war being fought with radio."

"Well, I'm in training. I've listeneded to some terrific programs during the past few months."

"Why do you weep over the sorrows of people in whom you have no interest when you go to the theatre?" asked the man.

"I don't know," replied the woman. "Why do you cheer wildly when a man with whom you are not acquainted slides into second base?"

A scientific journal tells us that a great many people of Asia believe that a cup made of rhinoceros horn will fall to pieces if poison is put into it. We believe it would be a good thing if a lot of cups in this country made of glass and china would fall to pieces when poison is put into them.

Mr. Barnum should be living today. Reports from Mississippi relate that a calf was born with skin resembling that of an alligator, had a spiked tail, and its feet were like those of an alligator. Must be powerful stuff they are concocting down in those Mississippi swamps these days.

The foreman of an FERA job in Massachusettes was astonished by the unusual activity of his men, until he discovered that one of them in digging a ditch uncovered a half-dozen silver coins. We pass this on to job foremen here for what it is worth. Even then, we doubt if some of the men employed on these projects would do any more than lean heavily on the handle of their shovel.

An Allegheny legislator is asking for an appropriation of eighty-five thousand dollars to install an electrical device by which the votes of senators and representatives could be simultaneously recorded. ## The World At A Glance

Attitude On President.
Leaders Seem Lacking.
Reaction Seen In World.

New York Bureau
235 East 45th street
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 14.—If reports from various parts of the United States are accurate, the Roosevelt administration is making little headway against the forces that have risen up against it. Readers seem to be overwhelmingly with those forces.

Old line politicians are bewildered. They never previously have seen an opposition rise so quickly, so emotionally. The sweep of it all reminds them of war-time emotions — and causes the old line politicians to shudder.

If the movement "merely" were nation-wide, the situation would not be complicated. It is, however, world-wide.

LEADERS?

Can Huey Long's capital levy tax actually distribute wealth? Isn't something more fundamental than that needed—and will the world not have to come to it to save itself? But Huey's simple economics, as fascinating as they seem, are not even the beginning of the alphabet in any real study of government and economics.

The La Follettes, Norman Thomas, Senator Couzens know a thousand times more concerning workable economics than does a Huey Long.

And the economics of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, no matter how splendid his social program may be, can only add to the monetary confusion of the world, economists say.

WORLD REACTION

Liberals believe that if the United States would take the lead now, world conditions could be stabilized, and a semblance of democracy could be saved.

The average American does not fully realize the world link to every decision he may make in the mass.

He sees a revolution in Greece as something far away — having no affect on him. But if the revolutionists are the last stand in southern Europe against encroaching fascism, there is a potent bearing on American life.

Then, too, there is "another" revolution in Cuba. Cuba always is having revolutions. But why is it always having them? Is is because American sugar interests determine the government, even influencing the American government to support the regime the sugar interests desire? That is what Latin American nations are saying, to the detriment of friendly feeling. They hope the revolutionists gain control.

The United States is spending hundreds of millions on armaments (perhaps leading the armament race of the world), but its foreign policy (which governs good will or wars) is a hidden game of chess to the American people—more so under the Roosevelt administration than any other.

There is not a single political leader who discusses that. There is not an all-embracing leader in the entire nation—one who will "let the people in" on everything, tell hard facts, bitter truths.

Bible Thought For Today

And behold, I come quickly: and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be.—Revelation 22:12.

Correctly Speaking—

Long compound sentences consisting of many statements strung together with "and's" "but's" and "so's" are especially bad violations of unity.

Words of Wisdom

A gentleman is often seen, but very seldom heard to laugh.—Chesterfield.

THURSDAY, MARCH 14

Today's Yesterdays—Mar. 14, 1643.—Rev. Roger Williams, 44, obtained from Charles I a charter for Providence Plantations in Narraganset Bay, the colony destined to become the State of Rhode Island.

The minister was led to establish the new colony by being driven out of Plymouth because of the "heresy of Anabaptism" and his suggestion that the land in the New World belonged to the natives (Indians) rather than the king of England.

Mar. 14, 1757.—Admiral John Byng, 53, was executed by a firing squad at Portsmouth, England, in the presence of men he had commanded in His Majesty's navy.

He was shot because the expedition he commanded had been unsuccessful in relieving Minorca when it was beseiged by French warships.

Mar. 14, 1782.—Thomas Hart Benton was born in Orange county, North Carolina, destined to become one of the ablest men ever to sit in the U. S. Senate. As senator from Missouri for 30 years, after having been reared and started his career in Tennessee, he was the first great foe of pension raids on the treasury.

Mar. 14, 1794.—Eli Whitney, aged 28, Yale '92, obtained a patent on his cotton-gin.

He had never seen cotton fields, raw cotton or cotton seed until a few months before!

Mar. 14, 1829.—Charles Charlesworth was born in Staffordshire, England, destined to become one of the strangest cases in medical history. He reached physiological maturity and grew whiskers at the age of four; developed the wizened face, white hair, piping voice and infirm gait of an old man at seven; died suddenly in a faint of "the extremities of age" when he was seven.

You're Wrong If You Believe—

That the coldest part of the day comes in the middle of the night, when our part of the earth is turned farthest from the sun.

The coldest time usually is about sunrise, before or after.

That oxygen is necessary to all living things.

It isn't. There are organisms, anaerobies, which oxygen kills!

That pigs are naturally dirty animals.

They aren't, and we don't expect any hog-raiser to doubt this. They are cleaner than other farm animals if allowed to be so. They won't sleep in a dirty bed unless compelled to.

READERS WRITE WRONGS: R. Whitby, Elyria, O.—That was a typographical error. Talleyrand was born Feb. 13, 1754. Also you're right about Frederick the Great, he became king at 28. * * * Mrs. Edward White, Minneapolis, Minn., believes the phrase, "the majesty of death," originated in Amalie Rives' "Shadows of Flames," in which it appears as "clothed in the majesty of death." ### HANDY ASSET

Georgia Lawyer—Well, Rastus, do you want me to defend you? Have you any money?

Rastus—No, suh. Ah ain't got no money, but I got a 1922 model car.

Lawyer—Well, can you raise some money on that? Now, let's see—just what is it that they accuse you of stealing?

Rastus—A 1922 model car.

THE OTHER WAY ABOUT

Lady—What part of the price do you charge for the water in your milk?

GOOD HELPERS SCARCE

Barber (whispering to new helper) —Here comes a man for a shave.

Helper—Let me practice on him.

WISE WOMAN

Husband—I shall put these steel bonds my uncle left me into a safety deposit box.

Wife—Don't Jack; put them into a car and save all that box rent.

NOT WORRYING

The Cornetist—If you get much fatter you won't be able to reach out to your drum. Then you'll lose your job.

The Bass Drummer—I guess not. I've thought of that and made arrangements to use the drum major's baton for a drumstick.

MORE PROFITABLE

An amiable old man, a visitor in a home, was trying to win the friendship of the small daughter of the house.

"I'll give you a nickel for a kiss," he said.

"No, thank you," she replied sweetly. "I can make more money taking castor oil."

FOOLISH PROMISE

Her Dad—Would you give my daughter all the luxuries of life?

"Cubbing" Essay Continued Today

'Cubbing And The Cub Pack' Is Article's Title; Cole Wrote It

EDITOR'S NOTE: Judges chose this essay of Scout Robert Cole, Troop V-37, as the winner in a contest. The fifth installment is presented today.

"CUBBING AND THE CUB PACK"
Installment No. 5

Junior's tenth birthday came and he was ready to pass his Bear rank test.

The test was as follows:

1. Indicate steps in history of flag and make a set of colors illustrating these steps.
2. Draw or trace a world map showing those countries having cubs. List principle historical spots in your community.
3. Give the history of the flag.
4. Do push four times, running broad jump one and one half times his height, running high jump one half his height.
5. Practice fire safety rules.
6. Write eight laws on health, and tell why they should be observed.
7. Bring evidence of an annual health check up and show a plan for remeding any defects shown.
8. Show that he has helped around the home.
9. Have regular attendance at church and school.
10. Make an approved article in handicraft.
11. Elective.
12. Keep a note book not more than 50 words illustrating some hobby.
13. Demonstrate three ways of tying two ropes together, how to use a tow rope, whip ends of rope and tie bowline.

When Junior's father heard that he had passed the test he promised him a scout uniform if he passed his next test successfully.

After returning from a den meeting one day, Mr. Winston asked Junior just what they did at their cub meetings.

"First we get in a circle and give the grand howl then we give the pledge to the flag. While the den is in line they are inspected and I take attendance and dues. We usually play a game after that, then we close by a story told by one of the boys or by the den chief. Our closing ceremony is the "living circle". Sometimes in the meetings we make things for our tests. We do almost the same thing in our cub pack meetings except that they give us our badges there and there are more boys in packs than in dens.

"Last week we were each given a kit to build an airplane with and last night they had a contest to see whose plane was the best. The first prize was a set of cub hand books. I won second place and received a mouth organ. After the contest was over we had wiener sandwiches and boy were they good.

Next week we are going to have a picnic over in the grove and afterwards there will be some baseball games between the dens."

"I wish that I were your age so that I could go on all of these picnics and do all the things that you do."

IF your physical let-down is caused by a lowered red-blood-cell and hemo-glo-bin content in the blood—then S.S.S. is waiting to help you... though, if you suspect an organic trouble, you will, of course, want to consult a physician or surgeon.

S.S.S. is not just a so-called tonic. It is a tonic specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions, and also has the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin of the blood.

This two-fold purpose is important. Digestion is improved... food is better utilized... and thus you are enabled to better "carry on" without exhaustion—as you should naturally.

You may have the will-power to be "up and doing" but unless your blood is in top notch form you are not fully yourself and you may remark, "I wonder why I tire so easily."

Let S.S.S. help build back your blood tone... if your case is not exceptional, you should soon enjoy again the satisfaction of appetizing food... sound sleep... steady nerves ... a good complexion... and renewed strength.

On Court House Hill

The step up to the rear seats in court room number one still continues to be a stumbling block. Several witnesses at the present term of court, narrowly escaped falls, while coming out of the seats.

A certificate showing that Judson F. Beight has been appointed administrator in the estate of the late Charles A. Zimmerman of Youngstown, O., has been filed in the register and recorder's office. Mr. Zimmerman was interested in real estate in Lawrence county, more particularly at Mt. Jackson.

Deputy Prothonotary Jack Edgar had a busy time Tuesday night. He was called from his home about 10 o'clock when the jury reported in the Joe Stinnett murder case, and had just got home and put his car away, when he was again called to the court house on the report that the jury in the George Fox case wanted to come in for further instructions from the court.

Tax collectors of the different boroughs and townships of Lawrence county are not very much enthused over the proposed bill in the legislature, which would make the county treasurer collector of all taxes, except in the city. It would mean that there would be one less job in all of the townships and boroughs, and jobs are now pretty hard to get.

J. R. Rick of this city has filed at the register and recorder's office a certificate showing that he has been appointed as executor of the will of the late Bert J. Rick, who died in Conneaut township, Crawford county, Pa. The will of the decedent has been filed at the register and recorder's office in Crawford county.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Samuel W. Lewis have been granted by the register and recorder to Freda Solomon. In the estate of the late John F. McConnell of New Wilmington, letters of administration have been granted to Elizabeth McConnell. William E. Marquis has been granted letters in the estate of the late Nellie D. Marquis of this city.

Farmers and poultrymen of Lawrence county seem to be taking a lively interest in branding their chickens. Sheriff Pritchard is receiving new brands every day. The brands are on cards and are being indexed so that they can be readily found when it becomes necessary to identify the owner of any chickens that have been stolen. Few chicken thefts have been reported in the county recently and there are likely to be less, when all of the stock is branded.

In the case of Cora B. Haley against Elizabeth Boyer, growing out of a claim for damages as the result of an automobile accident, questions of law are decided in favor of the defendant in an opinion handed down at court by Judge R. L. Hildebrand. The case grows out of an accident at the intersection of West Washington street and Beaver street. The Haley car, driven by William Haley, was going west on Washington street when the Boyer car, being driven south on Beaver street, crashed into it. It was contended by the defendant that no itemized bill of the damages to the Haley car had been filed. The court holds that an itemized bill is only necessary where the action is brought before a magistrate, alderman or justice of the peace. Where it is brought in court, as in the present instance, no itemized bill is necessary. The defendant is given 15 days in which to file an affidavit of defense.

The old saying that a man's home is his castle, seems to have been upheld by the jury which tried the Joe Stinnett murder case. It was shown during the trial that Stinnett was on his own property, on the front porch of his home, when Clinton Jones, who was shot, picked a quarrel with him.

Temple Israel Friday Service

Purim Entertainment And Party Sunday Afternoon At Temple

Temple Israel, Highland and Moody avenues, will conduct its next regular service on Friday evening, March 15 at 8 o'clock. Rabbi Avery Jonah Grossfield officiating. The topic of the sermon will be: "Purim —Its Manifold Significance."

Plans are now being completed for the annual Purim entertainment and play to be given by the children of the religious school on Sunday afternoon, March 17, at 2:30 o'clock in the vestry rooms of the Temple. The final dress rehearsal will take place Saturday afternoon, March 16, at 1:30 o'clock. The ladies who are coaching the play and planning the costumes are Miss Beatrice Gonick, Mrs. Harry Botwin, Mrs. Maurice Schoenberger and Mrs. Harry Freedman, under the auspices of Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, chairman of the Sisterhood committee on Religion. After the program Sunday afternoon the children and adults will participate in a double birthday party, in honor of two of the children, whose birthdays occur this week.

After the Friday evening service, the members and friends will enjoy an hour of fellowship in the vestry rooms of the Temple: Mr. and A. H. Gonick will be the hosts, in honor of the first birthday of their son Jackie. A contribution to the Temple Floral fund has also been received from Mr. and Mrs. Gonick in honor of this joyous occasion.

Purim—The Feast Of Lots

On Monday evening, March 18, 1935, the Jewish people will begin its celebration of Purim, the Feast of Lots. This festivay is a minor holiday. It is based upon the story of the Book of Esther, and it is observed with great festivity and joy.

Around the fourth century B. C. E. a great number of Jews lived in the provinces that Persia had conquered. During the reign of Ahasuerus, Mordecai, a Jew of the capital city of Susa, had been of signal service to the king and was of influence in the court. His beautiful cousin, Esther, had been taken by the king and crowned queen. About the same time Ahasuerus had raised a certain Haman to the highest office in the Persian court. This new Prime Minister bore a personal grudge against Mordecai and because of that he decided upon a general massacre of all Jews. But for this he had to obtain an edict from the king.

One day Haman and the king discussed the conditions of the Persian provinces. Haman noticed that the king feared for the security of his widely-spread dominions, and took advantake of it. He falsely accused the Jewish people of being disloyal and a menace to the unity of the Empire. Ahasuerus, deceived by the seeming devotion of his Prime Minister to the welfare of his dominions, said to him, "Do unto the people as it seemeth good to thee."

Mordecai conveyed the fateful edict to Esther, and bade her go to the king and tell him of the peril to the life of her people. Esther prepared a banquet to which she invited her royal spouse and to his delight, Haman. At the feast she informed the King of Haman's real purpose. "Behold," she said, "we are sold, I and my people, to be utterly destroyed." Hamon had previously avoided to mention the name of the people he sought to wipe out. The king was furious, and thereupon, ordered the hanging of Haman. To save Esther and her people, he issued an order authorizing the Jews to organize for self-defense."

This story typifies the persecutions that the Jewish people suffered during the last two thousand years. In every age there are those who, because of personal prejudice against, or quarrel with individual Jews, condemn the whole people. But Jewry cannot be destroyed. And in every age the Jewish people fight such evil decrees and frustrate them. This is the message of the feast of Purim to Jewry today.

To commemorate this deliverance from the hands of Haman, the Jewish people established the fourteenth of the month Adar as a day "of feasting" and joy, and of sending presents one to another and gifts to the poor. The festival typifies the false accusations made against Jews in every generation. Its chief message, however, is that it recalls the triumphs of the Jewish people over injustice and tyranny.

Church Accepts Resignation Of Dr. S. B. Copeland

Congregation Of Third U. P. Expresses Regret At Pastor's Forthcoming Departure

Last night the congregation of the Third United Presbyterian church made formal acceptance of Dr. S. B. Copeland's resignation, at the same time expressing its regret at losing the pastor, and deep appreciation for the 14 years of splendid service he has given to the church.

The congregational meeting opened in the assembly room of the church with about 150 members present. A short devotional service was conducted by Dr. Copeland, and after the pastor withdrew, the business session was started with C. C. McKibben, congregational chairman, presiding.

The resignation was presented and accepted. It will take effect on April 1. Dr. Copeland will go to Wheeling, W. Va. where he has accepted the pastorate of the Wheeling United Presbyterian church.

A pulpit committee, comprised of J. R. A. Paatison, J. W. Rupert, Gilbert H. Colnot, G. G. Orr and Dr. R. M. Eagleson, with John Ulrich as an alternate, was selected. Instructions to start immediately to locate a new minister for the church was given to this committee.

It was announced that there will also be appointed a committee from the church session to go before the Presbytery and make official announcement of the congregation's action according to the rules and regulations of the Presbytery.

Find Solicitors Misrepresenting

Complaint Made That Persons Are Representing Selves As Employed By FHA

Complaints have been made to the office of the Federal Housing Administration here that men and women have been visiting the homes of local residents, purporting to come from the Federal Housing Administration office, and are making a list of prospective purchasers of different articles.

Mr. Feuchtwanger stated that home owners who are approached regarding home repairs and modernization of their homes should request to see the identification card, since those who are employed by the Federal Housing Administration have proper credentials, and desire only the information on repairs and modernization of the home.

Others claiming to represent the Federal Housing Administration are imposters, he states.

Pope Pius Gives Warning Message

Warns Members Of Catholic Action About Allying Selves With Politics

(International News Service)

VATICAN CITY, Mar. 14.—Members of Catholic action "cannot remain idle" in working for the common good of society but must not ally themselves with parties or politics, Pope Pius XI. declared today.

Addressing an audience of 500, including seminarians of 22 foreign colleges in Rome, teachers and representatives of Catholic action, the pontiff said:

"Catholic action must be kept severely apart from parties and politics.

"If, however, politics must be understood in its classical significance of that which relates to the common good of society, then members of Catholic action cannot remain idle but must procure it in every way."

More Than Four Thousand Persons Made Homeless By Flood Waters

(International News Service)

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Mar. 14.—With more than four thousand persons in southeast Missouri and northeast Arkanssas rendered homeless as the rampaging flood waters of the Black and St. Francis rivers crashed through levee walls, four companies of National Guardsmen and an army of several thousand civilian workers were being concentrated in Dunklin county today where the next serious levee breaks are anticipated.

Red Cross relief workers estimated about 750 families or approximately 3,000 persons were homeless as the result of the floods which have ravaged southeast Missouri. One hundred and fifty families were added to the army of homeless by the cracking of the Black river levee at Moard, Arkansas, yesterday, relief workers said. Although lives are known to have been lost in the high waters, inestimable damage to homes and livestock has been caused by the flood which is described as the worst in this section since the inundation of 1927.

Bituminous Roads Show Winter Wear

Discuss Navy Building Plan

U. S. May Make Answer To Japan With Huge Fleet Program

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 14.—A $350,000,000 battleship replacement program as America's answer to Japan's denunciation of the Washington Naval Treaty was being discussed in navy department circles today.

Seven American battleships will be over-age on Jan. 1, 1937, the date when Japan's denunciation of the Washington treaty becomes effective.

Unless Japan can be induced to enter a new agreement before that time, the naval powers will then be free to build as they like.

Remodernize Ships

Present plans call for the remodernization of most of the seven battleships which will be over-age in 1937. Naval experts estimate remodernization of these ships will cost from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 each.

Although officials claimed the idea of replacement instead of modernization had not yet reached the blue-print stage, it was admitted this step probably would be taken "as a routine measure" once it became definitely evident Japan was unwilling to enter any new agreement.

Cost Will Be Less

The feeling prevailed that in the long run it would cost the government less to build new ones at a cost of around $50,000,000 each than spend $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 trying to remodernize the old ones.

The seven battleships which will be over-age next year are the New York, Texas, Oklahoma, Pennsylvanian, Arizona, Nevada and Mississippi.

Weavers Not Guilty Costs Are Divided

Verdicts Rendered In Cases Of Marshall Weaver And John Weaver Sr.

In the cases of Marshall Weaver, charged with assault and battery on his wife, Anna Weaver, and John Weaver, Sr., charged with aggravated assault and battery on his daughter-in-law, Anna Weaver, which were tried before Judge R. L. Hildebrand, the jury brought in verdicts of not guilty in both cases. Two thirds of the costs were placed on each of the defendants and one-third on the prosecutrix.

Marshall Weaver, whom the plaintiff claimed had beaten and choked her, denied the charges, claiming that the black and blue marks on Mrs. Weaver had been made when she fell over a chair. John Weaver, who was charged with striking Mrs. Weaver with a chair, denied that he had ever struck her, claiming that she had fallen over a chair.

Long Amendment Is Rejected By Senate

Senate By Vote Of 58 To 27 Hands Rebuke To Senator Huey Long Of Louisiana

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14—In another obvious effort to rebuke Senator Huey P. Long (D) Louisiana, the senate this afternoon rejected his amendment to President Roosevelt's $4,880,000,000 relief bill, proposing to set aside $100,000,000 to furnish college educations to the children of poor parents.

The amendment was beaten by a vote of 27 to 58, although endorsed by Senators Borah (R) Idaho, and Johnson (R) California.

Huey slashed his original $300,000,000 request to the $100,000,000 hoping thus to attract his fellow Democrats.

All but eight voted against him.

Study Opposition To Tax Measures

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Opposition of utility companies to 11 bills in Governor George H. Earle's $203,000,000 tax program was studied by the House ways and means committee today.

Some 4,000 utility company employes and stockholders from various sections of the state besieged the capitol yesterday afternoon to cheer utility company officers as they attacked the governor's suggested taxes at the last public hearing scheduled by the ways and means committee.

"It is the customer in his service and the employe in his job who will have to bear a large share of this unjust increase," the committee was warned by Berne Evans, Harrisburg, counsel for gas and electric company associations.

In addition to hearing opponents of the utility taxation bills, the committee heard speakers against measures taxing insurance companies and other revenue bills in the governor's program still held in committee.

"Unjust and Unfair"

Principal speakers for the utility companies in addition to Evans were Charles H. English, Erie; W. H. Wade, Altoona; F. H. Hunter, Reading; Joseph A. Beck, Pittsburgh, and former State Senator Henry L. Snyder, Allentown.

In the main they asserted proposed utility taxes were "unjust and unfair" and represented a 241 per cent increase on the levy on such corporations in contrast to a 131 per cent tax increase on taxpayers generally.

"The eventual effect upon Pennsylvania can only be increased unemployment, increased relief, increased handicaps to industry, increased hardship to every citizen," Wade declared.

Earle's Budget Figures Hit School Funds

Deficiency Is Seen For Biennium Unless Budget Is Changed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Unless Gov. George H. Earle's budget figures are changed, public schools face the same reduction in their state subsidies in the next biennium which, pardoxically, the administration today moved to prevent during this biennium.

Pointing out this fact, school authorities and educational leaders were preparing plans for a campaign to have the legislature increase the executive's recommended appropriation for subsidies by about $5,000,000 for the next biennium so that full statutory payments can be made next year and the year following.

The administration bill carrying a deficiency appropriation of $4,300,000 for the 1933-35 biennium for school subsidies was introduced in the house today. If this money is made available, it will obviate the necessity of slashing school subsidies 30 per cent for the fourth quarter, now being paid.

The administration's 1935-37 budget, however, carries only $53,000,000 for school subsidies. The same amount as provided for this biennium and which has been shown to be short of the amount needed unless this $53,000,000 figures is boosted the same shortage will exist in the next biennium which exists today.

School districts already are being paid their fourth quarter subsidies, abated 30 per cent because of the shortage of money. Fourth class districts were paid last month, second and third class districts are being paid this month and Pittsburgh and Philadelphia payments are scheduled to be made next month. If the deficiency appropriation is passed, additional funds will be allocated to all districts.

British Court Supports Her Contention Sir Robert Peel Responsible For Bills

By H. K. REYNOLDS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Mar. 14.—A British court today supported the contention of sobbing, auburn-haired Mrs. Doris Draper that Sir Robert Peel, late husband of Beatrice Lillie, had assumed financial responsibility for her large dressmaker's bill.

She won an order in King's bench division for the return of two ermine coats, worth $1,500, that the dressmaker had been holding "as security," while the court dismissed a counter-claim for $1,259, the balance due when Sir Robert died.

Following her testimony of yesterday that she had lived with the wealthy baronet for five years as "Lady Peel," the slim, attractive Mrs. Draper added tearfully today that Sir Robert "was being divorced" to marry her.

She had had an account with the dressmaker, Ella Wells, before she lived with Sir Robert, she said, but afterwards he paid the bills, as she lacked a personal income.

"Sir Robert made some payments to Ella Wells by telegraphing the cash," Mrs. Draper continued.

Former Screen Star Faces Plot Charges

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 14.—George K. Arthur's cheery laugh. The laugh that made him famous on the silver screen, was missing today as he prepared for arraignment in federal court on charges of plotting the smuggling of a stolen bracelet into the country.

The man who was regarded as one of the outstanding stars of the silent films vigorously protested his innocence. But the authorities had the word of Miss Mary Hewitt Jopling, Park avenue debutante, to offset that plea.

Miss Joplin, it was alleged, was the innocent dupe of Arthur in bringing into the country the bracelet after it had been stolen allegedly from Stephen Raphael, English banker.

The plot, federal authorities insist, had its inception on the beach at Cannes. Arthur, it was charged, met Miss Joplin and said the bracelet, valued at $1,600, was his mother's. He reputedly asked her to care for it on her return to America.

According to federal officials, the former screen star had been Raphael's roommate and the bracelet actually was the banker's property.

Arthur might have avoided arrest had it not been for a letter which Miss Jopling wrote to the mutual acquaintance who introduced them.

She asked the acquaintance to forward the note to Arthur and, she insisted that he obtain the bracelet immediately.

"I have, and I am holding the bracelet," the letter set forth. "I will keep it until Sept. 18. If I don't see or hear from you I will mail it to your mother."

The bracelet finally was pawned and Arthur, according to charges, eventually recovered it. The letter aroused the suspicions of the friend, however, and when the former screen star returned to the country from a subsequent ocean trip yesterday he was arrested.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. Emma Fox Linneman was pleasantly surprised on her 76th birthday, when her grandchildren, and great grandchildren gathered at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Murphy, with whom she is residing.

The dinner table was centered with a large birthday cake, which bore the motto, "Happy Birthday Grandma," which was cut by the honor guest. The time was spent in chat.

The honor guest received many beautiful gifts.

MORAVIA NOTES

Miss Cornelia Crawford is confined to her home with the measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mielke of Willow Grove, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stephenson.

USE OPEN ROASTER

A fine cut of beef should always be roasted in an open roaster. The cheaper cuts are for pot roasting and braising. No water should ever be added during the cooking process. The liquor in the roasting pan is used for basting.

Your new spring ensemble will not be complete without at least one dressy blouse. An attractive crepe blouse with Peter Pan collar and sunburst tuckings at front, and self-bands trimming the raglan shoulders, is ideal for semi-formal occasions.

Plan To Go Ahead On Beaver Park Plan

(International News Service)

BEAVER, Pa., Mar. 14.—Preparations for the program to develop a 5,000 acre outdoor recreational center in the Raccoon creek area were underway here Wednesday, following announcement in Washington of the acceptance of options on the project.

Attorneys were preparing to start work on the clearing of titles on tracts of land, which will comprise a total of 4,759 cases. Meanwhile, Donald H. Graham, Beaver, project manager, arranged to go ahead with his plans for the work.

The area lies in Hanover and Independence townships, Beaver county, and will provide the only outdoor recreational park of its size located in the vicinity of Pittsburgh. Great interest in the project has been evinced by residents in this section of the state.

In announcing approval of the development project, Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, said:

"Farming in this area has been on the decline over a period of several years due to the poverty of the soil in comparison with more fertile areas of the west. The acquisition and reservation of this land by the government will insure to society its most beneficial use in the future."

Kiwanis To Back Steel Mill Drive

President Long Will Name Committee To Act; Plan Delegation

President Gilbert E. Long of the local Kiwanis club will appoint "within a day or two" a club committee to immediately call upon the Rotary and Lions clubs and the Chamber of Commerce for the express purpose of arranging for a representative New Castle delegation to personally interview President I. Lamont Hughes of the Carnegie Steel company concerning the possibility of re-opening the concern's plant here.

At its luncheon at The Castleton on Wednesday, the club also voted its unanimous endorsement to a letter which is to be sent to officials of the American Sheet & Tin Plate company at Pittsburgh, calling upon them to exert every effort they can toward re-opening the closed New Castle works of that corporation. The same company operates the Shenango works.

The name of every Kiwanian will be carried on the letter which the American Sheet & Tin Plate company executives will receive.

Featuring yesterday's meeting was a talking picture film depicting the making of paint, shown by C. C. Oliver and Thomas B. Williams, representatives of the National Lead & Oil company.

The Kiwanians also organized a new male quartet to sing at Kiwanis functions and members of it will be Chester Reynolds, first bass; C. D. Parker, second bass; Sam Lewis, first tenor, and W. T. Reed, second tenor. Harry Hammond will be its pianist and Lewis will be director.

BLIZZARD BLOWS SKUNK INTO MAN'S KITCHEN

GLENVILLE, W. Va., Mar. 14.—A blizzard, an open door, a warm stove and a polecat sent Blaine Elder, Glenville College student on a search for a new home. ## Youth's Enthusiasm Results In Death

(International News Service)

CHARLEROI, Pa., Mar. 14.—Sixteen-year-old Robert C. Bratten's enthusiasm over his hobby as an amateur photographer caused his death.

In order to take a picture of himself in an unusual manner, the youth climbed with his camera to an upper tier of a high tension tower near his home here. But as he had clicked the shutter his body accidentally contacted the highly charged wires and Robert was hurled to the ground 75 feet below by the electric shock, his clothing ablaze. Death, physicians said, was due to electrocution.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. March 14, six arrests on charges as follows: Violating parking law 4, suspicion 1 and drunkenness and disorderly conduct 1.

It is anticipated that members of council will confer informally within the next few days and decide upon who will succeed the late G. Harry Hoskins as city engineer. Ordinarily councilmen would let the problem hang for a while but inasmuch as a big program of amiesite paving is to be put through this spring someone will have to be named soon so that he can pick up where Hoskins left off. Hoskins was not only a popular figure in city hall and civic life but was also a very good engineer—and according to some, one of the best the city ever had. He was on the job early, worked late, proved efficient and was ever trying to develop projects in order that work could be given to the unemployed. There is no question but that for two years he had been the busiest official the city has had and his departure cast a mantle over city hall and other places where he was known.

With April not far in the offing it is expected that city officials will join in the request of the state health department for clean up week. At present some yards look rather drab but by May a different complexion will be seen.

In the days of prohibition the cry was raised that were liquor legalized it would mean passing of the "speakeasy" and the "Blind Pig", but such has not occurred, evidence of which is seen almost daily in police court. While there may not be as many "speakeasies" and "Blind Pigs" as flourished during prohibition days the fact remains there are some here and persons have not ceased to use their automobiles to transport illegal liquor. It is a serious offense to have unstamped liquor in one's possession. Several times Mayor Charles B. Mayne has threatened to urge prosecution on this charge of persons who have other than legal liquor in their possession. No doubt he takes this attitude from the fact that men have gone into the liquor business, paid a license for so doing and illicit liquor places should be forced out of business.

Frank Coen, game protector for Lawrence county visited city hall today and said that 850 rabbits had been put out for stock purposes in the county. He said the county could have used 1,500 for this purpose. While Coen was talking rabbits, Charles Withers, a member of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association, said that a shipment of trout for stock purposes would be received here next week. During the discussion concerning game and fish Coen said that he believed that between 100 and 200 deer were killed by Lawrence countians last fall.

It was announced that the Young Married People's class of Bethel U. P. church will present a play "Aaron Slick at Pumpkin Creek" at the Mahoning grange hall on Wednesday evening, March 20. Miss Eleanor Drury, it was also announced, will conduct another meeting for making slip-covers at the home of Mrs. F. A. Montgomery on March 20.

SCHOOLS COULD USE $80,000,000

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Pennsylvania school districts could use $80,000,000 immediately for school building construction with PWA funds, according to a report from the United States office of education to the Department of Public Instruction. The total needed for this purpose throughout the nation is approximately $626,000,000.

A survey of the school building situation was started by the United States Office of Education last December, and is independent of the inventory of public works projects now being taken by PWA and the National Resources board. The Pennsylvania estimate of $80,000,000 represents the amount that could be used in both urban and rural areas.

Piles Go Quick
Without Salves or Cutting
Thousands of sufferers from itching, bleeding or protruding piles have learned that quick and lasting relief can be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor cutting remove the cause.
Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts lifeless. To end Piles an internal medicine should be used to stimulate the circulation, and restore the affected parts.
Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for hundreds of patients with a marvelous record of success and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID tablets from their own druggist with a rigid money back guarantee.
So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. says "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe clean way to get rid of your Pile misery or money-back."

USES STATE PLAN ON INDIAN RELICS

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Following the example of Pennsylvania in removing valuable pre-historic Indian writings and relics from the Susquehanna river before completion of the Safe Harbor dam, the federal government completed similar work on the site of the Boulder dam, according to Donald A. Cadzow, archaeologist of the State Historical Commission, Department of Public Instruction.

Materials taken from the river bed at Safe Harbor are now housed in the state museum here, and a national museum is being built at Boulder dam where historical materials taken from the "Lost City of Nevada" are to be preserved.

Numbers Racket Workings Bared

Hearing In Philadelphia Brings Out Some Unusual Facts

SOME STARTLING TESTIMONY GIVEN

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 14.—The inside workings of the lucrative $5,000,000 numbers racket were bared in testimony presented at Wednesday's session of the hearing on the Philadelphia Bar Association's charges against eight prominent lawyers, cited for unprofessional conduct.

The startling testimony disclosed how numbers racketeers provided legal representation for their "pick-up men and writers"; how such prisoners were released on copies of the charge without knowing who obtained them; how they were supplied with legal counsel, which they neither asked for nor paid for, and how they were supplied with bondsmen.

The five judges of the common pleas court, sitting en banc at the hearings into the charges that the eight cited attorneys had sold their services on a yearly retaining basis to the underworld kingpins, gave their rapt attention as a parade of underworld witnesses told their stories.

Because of nearly 300 witnesses to appear in the Bar Association's case against Fred C. Gartner, Bernard L. Lemisch and Brad Brodsky, it was announced that hearings in the cases of State Senator Samuel W. Salus, his brother Civil Service Commissioner Herbert W. Salus, and Albert P. Goldberg, a lawyer employed in their office, will not be called before Monday.

This brought up the question of whether the court has power to summon Senator Salus from his seat at legislative sessions in Harrisburg.

A postponement of this hearing may be required unless Senator Salus obtains a leave of absence, it was said.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Letters Intended For This Column Must Be Signed With Name And Address Of Writer.

Editor News:

I believe the taxpayers of this city, if they will stop and consider the expense, will see that the city council should not try and acquire the old post office for a public library. The council has already pulled a boner in not buying the old Shenango hospital and using the required amount of material to build an addition to the present library and using the balance of such material for a city tool house on the city owned site on Jefferson street at Central fire station. This could have been done as a CWA project. It would have meant a large amount of useful labor instead of building parks out in the wilderness where half the people of New Castle don't know where they are located.

Also, why does council lump the expense of tools and material instead of publishing an itemized bill so that every dealer can see it and compare his prices.

Compulsory health insurance would not in the least affect the millions of people still unemployed in the United States. It would affect, though, the small wage-earner, who, 90 per cent of the time, would have to expend more, in direct contributions and indirect taxation, than at present and for this added burden he would receive less efficient medical care than he may now obtain.

YOUR STOMACH AT WORK ★ Curious Facts About Digestion

Many men—and a great many women — are dieting needlessly. They mistake slow digestion, for indigestion. Or they don't know how easily sour stomach and gas pains can be relieved.

A man named Pape long ago discovered a simple way to relieve that acid condition causing certain foods to lie like lead in the stomach. Diapepsin, in tablets that are just eaten like candy, has brought happiness to thousands who thought they could eat only certain dishes.

If you have distress after meals, any acid discomfort at all, your stomach is probably slow in emptying. If you relieve this condition with Pape's Diapepsin, you can eat in greater comfort and enjoyment.

Test this out, and you will find that it works.

Then carry the pocket tin and take a tablet or two after meals until your digestion is "clicking" and the sourness is relieved. Pape's Diapepsin; remember the name. Your druggist will know about it.

STATE SALES TAX SENTIMENT IS INCREASING

Would Replace Earle's Program

FOUR THOUSAND IN DEMONSTRATION

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—A wave of protests chiefly from utility companies today retarded action on Gov. George H. Earle's 22-point $203,000,000 tax program in the house after several of the measures were speedily rushed ahead by the Democratic majority earlier in the week.

After witnessing a demonstration by 4,000 employes and stockholders of utility companies and hearing their representatives denounce the governor's proposed taxes on utilities and business as "unjust and unfair," the ways and means committee deferred plans to report the measure to the house for action.

Sales Tax Sentiment

Increased comment was heard in the legislative halls, meanwhile, on the advisability of scrapping many features in the governor's program for a two or three per cent sales tax, a measure strongly opposed by Governor Earle. Democrats, as well as Republicans, expressed more than passing interest in the sales tax proposal.

Approximately $75,000,000 of the revenue needed for the coming biennium was represented in the assorted tax bills held by the ways and means committee. Some of the bills were before the house briefly for first and second reading this week. The bills would impose new taxes on utility companies, electric current, insurance companies, certain manufacturing companies and bank stocks.

Appropriation Bills

The house today received 13 appropriation bills from Governor Earle to cover deficiencies in the present budget and make money available for the payment of old age and blind pensions in the next biennium. Totaling more than $42,000,000, the bills were referred to the appropriations committee for consideration.

Passed finally by the house, two more of the governor's tax bills to raise $5,000,000 in the biennium by a stamp tax of five cents for each $100 on legal and business documents and $375,000 by cancelling exemptions on the gross receipts tax paid by truckers were in transit to the senate. There they will join the $4,000,000 "chain store" tax bill.

Near House Vote

Four tax bills expected to raise $7,000,000 by increasing fees on trucks and trailers and limiting their size were on the calendar as a special order of business on final passage next Monday night.

The gasoline, amusement and tobacco tax bills, designed to bring in $57,000,000 were similarly scheduled for next Tuesday.

On the calendar for the first time was the bill of Rep. Darlington Hoopes, Berks socialist, guaranteeing labor the right of self organization without interference from employers. The measure was a thrust at so-called "company unions."

A banking department bill sponsored by Rep. H. G. Andrews, Cambria, to strengthen the banking code also was on the calendar for first reading. The Weiss bill requiring banks to disclose information on deposits of persons seeking unemployment relief was listed for the first time also.

Pleasant News.
Four Good Names.
The Airfleet Controls.
24 Billions a Year.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

SAN SIMEON, Cal., Mar. 13.—IT IS pleasant to read here, at the edge of the Pacific, a Washington dispatch saying that the government will establish a great airport in Hawaii near Fort Kamehameha, named for the last King of Hawaii.

The ide ais to keep enough bombing planes there to take care of unwelcome fliers or surface ships arriving from Asia.

IT WILL be more pleasant to read, as you may do later, that government plans to establish a powerful air base on the Island of Guam, which we are free to fortify, now that the Washington conference agreements have been repudiated and our silly pledge not to fortify Guam is wiped out.

That Guam air base, which should be as powerful as any in the world, and another one located on the land that we shall retain from the foolishly soon to be abandoned Philippines, should provide for any Asiatic danger.

Any Asiatic shipping that might interest us would pass within convenient striking distance of one or the other of those air bases.

IN REPLY to the question. "Whom will you support in the coming presidential campaign," W. R. Hearst tells the United Press he expects to support President Roosevelt, who will doubtless get the Democratic nomination.

As possible and desirable nominations by the Republicans, Mr. Hearst suggests, "Chief Justice Hughes, if he could be induced to run. He adds:

"Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, would make a good candidate for the Republican party, as would Senator Borah, of Idaho, or Senator Norris, of Nebraska."

It is pleasant in these "steal-the-wealth" days to be reminded that there still exist in the United States men of the type of Chief Justice Hughes, Hiram Johnson, Senator Borah and Senator Norris. It is easy to overlook them, with so many mountebanks gyrating.

THANKS TO airplanes, the Greek rebellion is crushed. The old Greek patriot, Venizelos, leading the revolt at the age of seventy-two, fled yesterday from his home on the Island of Crete across the Aegean Sea to an Italian island for refuge.

Weeping, the old man vowed that he would never again set foot on Greek soil. A rebel cruiser took Venizelos to the protection of the Italian flag. Then, last of the fleet that had rebelled, the cruiser Averoff surrendered to the government.

INTERESTING old names come in reports of events in Greece—Chios and Samos, where the "tyrant's" cook found inside of a fish the valuable ring the king had dropped in the sea, and Mytilene, all three islands that the rebel fleet captured, at the beginning of the civil war.

The collapse of this rebellion by some of the most powerful men in Greece, accompanied by the seizure of the Greek fleet, shows that whoever controls air fleet can control the country.

Somebody might tell that to Washington. A little flare-up here is not impossible.

THE CALIFORNIA assembly votes 58 to 17 in favor of the Townsend plan. The state Senate, however, revolted, and defeated the resolution calling on Congress to enact the Old Age Pension bill.

It is not possible for the United States to pay twenty-four thousand million dollars every year, the total cost of giving $200 per month to every man past sixty.

It does not cost the Assemblymen anything to vote for the impossible and it makes him feel politically safe.

Mr. Weber said to Mr. Fields:

"Why did you offer that man the $5,000 for his dog. You ain't got $5,000."

Mr. Weber replied:

"I know it, but ain't it a good offer?"

The United States should establish old age pensions sufficient to insure freedom from anxiety in old age. It is a pity to delude the aged, with promises that cannot be kept, and may prevent any old age pension.

GERMANY'S BODY of highly trained air pilots, members of the civilian "Air Sport" Association, have all been placed under the orders of the regular army and will become a valuable part of Germany's defensive force.

Germany is told by indignant French newspapers, "That is a violation of the Versailles treaty," but without agitating Mr. Hitler.

The Versailles treaty is disintegrating like our own NRA, a venerable bird that is moulting, losing its beautiful feathers prematurely.

SOME THINK that after June first this country will say of the NRA bird, what the poem says of Sir John Moore:

"His breast but once heaved, and forever grew still."

LABOR AND political troubles continue in Cuba, where government decrees "death for terrorism" which means armed attack on the government and sabotage.

Strikers have been thwarted in the attempt to cut off light, power and food supplies. School teachers on strike, are warned to return in seventy-two hours or lose their jobs.

TRAFFIC CHIEF ON TRAIN

Aboard his private car, Traffic Manager H. C. Oliver of the Central region of the Pennsylvania railroad, passed through the city today enroute from Pittsburgh to Erie. The coach was on the rear of a regular train.

Phalanx Fraternity Hears Prof. Graham

Westminster Man Speaks On Journalism Topic Here Last Night

Misunderstanding was blamed last night by Prof. R. X. Graham, Westminster college journalism professor and its news bureau head, as the cause for much of the criticism that may be directed against newspapers of today.

Speaking before the Phalanx fraternity of the Y. M. C. A. on "The Value of Journalism to Other Professions and Vocations," Mr. Graham called for "a greater understanding as to what's back of the story" on the part of readers. He told of the tremendius influence exerted by the 960 daily newspapers now published.

"Contrary to popular belief," Prof. Graham added, "crime news constitutes but two percent of the total volume of news printed today. Because most of that appears on the front page we think the newspapers are full of crime."

PIONEER MINISTER OF ALLIANCE CHURCH WILL PREACH FRIDAY

Rev. William T. McArthur, of Philadelphia, a pioneer in the Alliance work, will preach at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church on Pearson street, at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening.

Rev. McArthur has made several trips to the mission fields and to various parts of Europe. He lately returned from a visit to Scotland and Ireland.

Under the rule which permits a British woman government employe who leavese on marriage to return if widowed, 100 returned to work last year.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy whenever we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

New Castle Plant Asks For Trademark Exclusive Rights

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 14.—The Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Company of New Castle and Taylor Township has applied to the United States Patent Office for exclusive rights on a trademark on its products.

The company wants sole rights to use of the combination "Uni-Closet" on combination closets and flush tanks. The company claims it has used the combination as a trademark since March 19, 1934, and would now have the Patent Office restrain others from using it.

Milk cure—that is, a diet consisting at first of milk only—is a very old remedy, since it is mentioned by Hippocrates who lived from about 460 to 357 B. C.

Executive Board Plans Activities

At a meeting of the Executive board of the Christian Endeavor society of the First Christian church Wednesday evening at the church, Laura Snider was appointed program chairman for the new year.

The secretary's report was read and approved and the social committee announced the appointment of the following members to serve on the social committee: Dorothy Osborne, Jane Moffett, Clarence Workman, Lenora Coates, Robert Montgomery and Robert Selby.

A special program was arranged for the first Sunday evening in April, with George Fox as speaker. It was also decided to begin a contest to promote a drive for increasing membership in the Endeavor society, the contest to run for a period of two months.

A box social was planned for March 27 at the church, in a new and novel way.

Recalls Olden Days When Famous Stars Played At Opera House

Most of us over thirty years of age, bemoan the "passing of the road." The theatrical road that is. Apparently the road tours of dramatic successes is a thing of the past and those of us who took the spoken drama seriously long for the old days.

One gentleman in New Castle who looks back with a reminiscent eye to the old days of the road is Albert Dinsmore, who for 27 years conducted the Opera House Transfer here. He knew them all. The stars and the hams, the tragedians and the comediennes, the greats and near greats. All of them went through his hands as he hauled their baggage from the railroad station to the old Opera House and his memory is rich with tales of the old theatre.

Wonderful People

"For the most part they were wonderful people" said Mr. Dinsmore today as he sat reminiscing of the old days. A carefree group for the most part, artists in their work and wanderers at heart. I liked them all. Now and then we got a troupe in that couldn't pay, but they were willing to if they had the money."

As he talked Mr. Dinsmore began naming some of the famous old stars that had played New Castle and whose baggage he had hauled to the theatre. Lillian Russell was one of them, the toast of the world, the beautiful actress who was at home behind the footlights or in the drawing room of a king. Madame Nordica, the Peerless Corinne, Maude Adams and her character of Peter Pan, Dustin and William Farnum, Lou Tellegen, Charles T. Gardiner, Geraldine Farrar and Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw.

"There was a funny thing happened one night when Lillian Russell played here" said Mr. Dinsmore. "Her dressing rom leaked and outside a heavy rain was pouring down. The famous star came out into the backstage area and hunted the property man, who unfortunately was slightly drunk."

"Mister Property Man" said Miss Russell "the roof of my dressing room is leaking."

"Well what do you think I am," he replied, "a shingle?"

Glamorous Anna Held

Anna Held, the glamorous French actress who startled America with her famous milk baths (or was it a publicity stunt) was another who Mr. Dinsmore remembers, but not for her acting. Miss Held was indisposed when she got to New Castle and she stayed in her hotel room from the time the train got in until it left. "Her part was played by her daughter" said Mr. Dinsmore, "but the audience never knew it. Fact is nobody knew it and I kept the secret for years. And I'm not so sure but the daughter was the better of the two actresses."

Honey Boy Evans was the king of the minstrel men who played here, Mr. Dinsmore thinks. He remembers Al G. Fields, Lew Dockstader, Primrose and West, and the others, but Honeyboy led them all. Montgomery and Stone he still reveres as a pair of great actors. Robert Mantell, Richard Mansfield, Al Bernard, De Wolf Hopper, McIntyre and Heath, Guy Bates Post, all of them giants in their line and all of them Mr. Dinsmore knew.

And The Magicians

Harry Houdini was a favorite of Mr. Dinsmore although he liked the Great Kellar, Thurston and the other of the prestidigators. Svengali thrilled him with his mysterious eyes and George Sidney, (Busy Izzy) amused him with his comic actions. Chauncey Olcott thrilled him with that lyric Irish voice of his and Fritzie Scheff went broke here, leaving her scenery behind her.

On and on he mentioned the stars of other days. Eddie Leonard, Jack Richards, Billy Church, Laurette Taylor, Henrietta Crosman, Nora Bayes, Jack Norworth, Bob Fitzimmons, Little Egypt, Chester De Vonde, Otis Skinner, these and a host of others that made the world glad they had lived and trod the boards. In his record book Mr. Dinsmore has the names of all of them and a perusal of them looks like the registry of the theatre for a quarter of a century in the days when the theatre really lived.

He never claimed to be a dramatic critic, he was a transfer man, and a good one. He knew the stars as people, not as characters in a make believe world. And as he sits and talks of the road that is gone, one gets a liberal education in the theatre back of the footlights.

Will Cut Short Lecture Tour

Federal Immigration Authorities To Give Hearing To British Author

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Mar. 14.—Federal immigration authorities went into action today to cut short the American lecture tour of Evelyn John St. Joe Strachey, British communist author arrested on a deportation warrant as an undesirable alien.

Suddenly ordered back here from Cleveland where he spoke last night, the radical was to appear today at a hearing before Fred J. Schlotfeldt, district director of immigration.

Strachey returned willingly but promised he would fight the charges that he made false statement on entering the United States on Christmas day when he swore under oath that he was not a communist and did not advocate overthrow of the government by force or violence.

Kashgar, China, has just received its Christmas, 1932 mail, unsettled conditions in Chinese Turkestan having practically isolated the town for two years.

Olean Salesman Tries Suicide In Pittsburgh

Earl R. Gender, 22, Critically Wounds Self With Gun In Hotel Room

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 14.—Earl R. Gender, 22, Olean, N. Y., salesman, wounded himself in the head and abdomen, police said, today after carefully laying out clean clothes in his hotel room.

The youth, who declined to give any reason for his act, was rushed to Mercy hospital where an emergency operation was performed. His condition is critical.

Watchman Finds Body

A watchman found the youth's body, clad in pajamas, lying on the floor of his room. Nearby lay a revolver with two discharged shells.

Two letters found in the room may provide a motive for the shooting, police believe. One was addressed to Mrs. George J. Gender, (812 W. Henley St.,) Olean, and the other to Miss Lola Truesdell, Cuba, N. Y. Attaches at the hotel, where the youth had been residing since November 6, said he complained of being in ill health and had planned to return to Olean for a rest this week-end.

The films to be shown are of an interesting nature, showing fleet maneuvers, maneuvers of naval airplans, sight seeing in Washington, and various other subjects of an educational nature.

The consideration of the Americanization program will also be taken up at this meeting. Acting Captain Sam Gaston says, "It is important that we prepare for citizenship, and the Squadron can do no better than to know something of the background of our government. ## School Board To Meet On Friday

While none of the directors will verify the story, there seems to be considerable authenticity to the statement that there will be no long drawn out fight for the election of a new secretary of the school board on Friday night when the board meets. The election will actually be for the post of assistant secretary but the assistantship will last only till June when the incumbent Hugh M. Marquis retires on age.

At a meeting held several nights ago in the office of one of the directors, reports are that the field of candidates was narrowed to about three and out of this three, John B. Bechtol, William J. Connery and Albert C. Davis, the new officer will probably be picked.

MEADVILLE, Pa., Mar. 14.—With the approval of detailed plot plans by the Federal Housing Administration, preparations for work on the Meadville housing project were started today.

The local program, first large-scale project of home building to be approved by the FHA, will be started with construction of streets, sewers and public utilities, according to members of the executive committee. Work on the 200 homes that have been allotted will be begun later.

These homes will rent for $26 to $39 a month. The government will guarantee the mortgage structure up to 89 per cent. Construction costs of the work program will total approximately $900,000.

Keep faith with those who paid

Gas tax and auto fees are paid for highway construction, safety and upkeep. It is true economy to live up to this bargain and to STOP DIVERSION because:

1 IT COSTS MOTORISTS MORE in gas, oil, tires and car repairs to drive on poor roads and streets instead of modern pavements.

2 DEATH, INJURY AND PROPERTY DAMAGE RESULT from narrow, congested roads, from dangerous grade crossings, curves and bottle necks. Let's eliminate them with the money that has been paid for the purpose.

3 HORSE AND BUGGY STREETS block modern highway traffic. Let's widen our arterial streets as we improve our highways and get traffic through towns quickly, safely.

4 MORE THAN 85¢ of every dollar spent for road building goes to the laboring man. Let's give him what he wants—a job, not a dole.

Increasing gas tax without increasing road construction does not give jobs to the unemployed and places an unfair tax burden on the motorist. Ask your legislator today to vote against any increased gas tax!

IT IS YOUR POCKETBOOK DIVERSION WILL REACH! IT IS UP TO YOU TO STOP DIVERSION! Drop in at your local motor club, or any place you see an AAA sign, affix your name to our petition protesting against diversion and thus ask your Legislators to give us a square highway deal for Pennsylvania.

Cincinnati Casts Lot With Rookies

Oldest Man In Infield Is 25; Most Veterans Will Ride Bench

Pitching Staff Is Mediocre; Manager Dressen Has Lots Of Confidence

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

TAMPA, Fla., Mar. 14.—On first base is John Robert Mize, 22, and built on the general lines of a caribou and what the tailors call a stylish stout. On second base is a gentleman named Alex Kampouris, also 22. At shortstop is Bill Myers, aged 24, and at third is Lew Riggs, aged 25.

I might add that on the bench sits Jim Bottomley, once a great first baseman: Tony Piet, supposedly a first class infielder, and Gordon Slade, a major league shortstop for five years. They're going to stay on the bench.

Young Infield

At least, that's what Charley Dressen, the Cincinnati manager said today in discussing his 1935 ball club. Thus, the noble experiment of all the ages, beside which prohibition and the daily double at the race track are made to seem pale and insipid.

No major league club has ever gone to bat with an all-Freshman infield before. No major league club has ever committed itself to a first baseman who has played less than 90 games at the position and who nevertheless cost the owner of this club the rather sonorous sum of $55,00, paid to the Rochester Club. And no major league club, not even Connie Mack's Baker-Barry-Collins combination, went on the field with an infield averaging less than 23 years and a combined outlay of $125,000.

Has Confidence

"That's us," said Mr. Dressen today, succinctly, if not with especial elegance. "Win, lose, draw or no dice, that's my infield. We couldn't win with the veterans last year. So what's the matter with losing with the kids? We just can't go any wronger than we did and by 1936 I'll wake up some fine morning with a ball club."

I looked at the fledgling infield today and was at least two parts impressed. That Myers from the Columbus club is very likely to play 154 games of ball this year and do all right by himself, at that, He's quite a young man out there, with an arm that cuts them down like a sickle in a field of weeds. Mize, awkward but fast, will do at first base: in the first place, because he hits, in the second because he takes throws into the runner very well.

Look To Future

This means that Bottomley will be traded and, by July first, the club will be running fifteenth in a field of eight. However, by July first, Mr. Dressen will be signed to a contract for 1936. It's that kind of a ball team. They's building into the future, not the present, and sooner or later they're going to brush by a few national league clubs that seem determined to survive on the basis of the past.

As they stand, the Reds have fair pitching from Paul Derringer, who won the amazing total of fifteen games for a last place club, ten of them after Dressen took charge in mid-season: Don Brennan, who can win in the minors and not in the majors: Benny Frey, consistent to a fault: Tony Freitas, a little left hander from the coast: Si Johnson and Danny MacFayden, from the Yankees.

This Would Make Eddies' Face Red

(International News Service)

DENVER, Mar. 14.—Was Eddie Klipka, amateur heavyweight boxer, embarrassed?

After receiving the encouragement of his admirers in his dressing room he dashed into the arena and climbed through the ropes into the ring before several hundred men and women fans at a local boxing and wrestling tournament.

Someone called his attention to the fact that he had forgotten his pants.

American Horses In Big Pay-Off

(International News Service)

LONDON, Mar. 14.—Eleven totalisator punters who had faith in American-owned horses had a lucky day in a "tote double" at the Hurst Park race course recently. They received $735 each for an outlay of $2.

The winning double was Kellsboro Jack, 1933 Grand National winner, owned by Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark, and Uncanny II, G. H. Bostwick's horse. Mr. Bostwick rode Uncanny II.

The horses were priced at 7-1 and 20-1 respectively, and if a punter had "coupled" them in betting with a bookmaker he would have received $400 for a $2 outlay.

OLNEY SHOWS PROMISE AS BOXER AT HARVARD

(International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Peter Butler Olney, 2d of Brookline, whose grand-uncle was attorney general of the United States and later Secretary of State under President Cleveland, is one of the most promising members of the Harvard boxing team. Freshman boxing team captain last year and member of the football team, Olney is making a strong bid in the 155 lb. class.

Vehicle owners of England paid nearly $163,000,000 for road licenses last year.

Shenango And Bessemer Will Play On Friday

Horteg, McConahy And Leitenen Will End Careers At Shenango High Friday

Shenango High school basketball team will close the 1935 floor season Friday night at the Shenango High floor by battling the fast Bessemer high team. Second place will be at stake in the County league in the final engagement. The game will mark the end of scholastic basketball for three of the Shenango High stars Horteg, McConahy and Leitenen.

The Shenango High girls will play the Bessemer High girls in a preliminary game at 7:30 o'clock.

Two Men Left

Coach Ed Raney will start his strongest team tomorrow night in an effort to take the victory. Shenango just missed the championship last year by a split hair at New Wilmington, when McKean shot a field goal just as the whistle blew. It was a tough old game to lose, but Shenango will be back next year with a faster team than ever and will have Tanner and Gibson as the nucleus.

Bessemer High will go to Shenango determined to knock the Shenangos out of second place if at all possible. This looks like a mighty big task in view of the fact that the championship New Wilmington team eked out a one-point victory on their own floor over the East New Castle boys.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

LISTEN TO THIS

The Sons of the Emerald Isle can still boast of Notre Dame as the "Fighting Irish" without going into whispers. The Student Directory, which lists the enrollment of the university, shows that the Sullivans and Murphys are at the top of the list of names. There are 24 Sullivan names and the Murphys come next, numbering 21. The Jones tribe, usually quite thick anywhere, didn't even rate, being able to show only three names on the whole campus. . . . $15,896,365 was the total betting rung up in the 65-day meet of the Santa Anita race track in California this season. The average daily wagering at the track was almost a quarter of a million dollars. . . . When Creighton university signed Marchy Schwartz to coach the football team they gave him a two-year contract.

This is Jack Moakley's thirty-sixth year as track coach at Cornell and the seventy-second year of his life. He is the oldest intercollegiate track coach and has never dropped a man from his squad. . . . Paul Pirrone, Frankie Wallace and Carmen Barth, Cleveland boxers, plan to invade Europe in April. . . . In addition to winning four letters in football at Notre Dame, Clipper Smith, Santa Clara coach, earned monograms in track, basketball and baseball. . . . Arpad Elo, associate professor of physics at Marquette university, recently won the Wisconsin state chess championship. . . . Joe Managan, former track star at Cornell, worked his way through school by playing a tenor banjo in an orchestra.

It isn't often that three decisions are given in one boxing bout, but it happened in the Mike McTigue-Young Stribling match at Columbus, Ga., in 1924. Harry Ertle, imported by McTigue, who held the 175-pound title at the time, first gave it to Stribling, then to McTigue, and finally called it a draw. . . . The Irish are still at it insofar as Jimmy McLarnin is concerned. They can't figure out where Jimmy was born—Dublin or Belfast. He's too smart to tell and his parents say they can't remember. . . . Sam Hardy, the former Davis Cup captain, says all a young man needs to develop into a top-ranking tennis player is $10,000 and ten years. . . . Robertshaw, center, and Zabriskie, guard, are the only linemen of the 1934 Navy football team who will be back for the 1935 season.

There are golf courses in England that compel golfers to wear red coats. It all started when they were required to warn grazing cattle of the approach of the strange white missiles. . . . Although eight years have passed since he won the national intercollegiate two-mile run, Melvin (Buster) Shimek, freshman track coach at Marquette university, still trains regularly and can outrun most of the candidates who present themselves to him. . . . General George H. Sherrill was the first American sprinter to use the crouch start in track competition. . . . Bill Werber, the Boston Red-sox crack third baseman and stolen base artist, is the only one of seven of the Duke university team of 1930 that entered pro ball, who reached the major leagues and stayed there.

Rankin To Meet St. Marys Next

Altoona Will Go Against Fifth Avenue Of Pittsburgh In Other Sectional Battle

(International News Service)

Elimination of more district and local champions increased the pace of the schoolboy race for Pennsylvania's basketball crown today as teams pointed for the quarter finals to be played Saturday.

Another district champion fell by the wayside last night when Allentown defeated Steelton 30 to 24 by rallying in the second half in a thrill-packed game at Harrisburg. As a result Allentown will engage Pottstown in a regional playoff on the Villanova college court Saturday night.

In the only other game last night St. Marys won the district 9 crown from Knox 30 to 25. Rankin, District 7 winner, will meet St. Marys in the quarter-finals Saturday. The other western district game will pit Altoona against Fifth avenue of Pittsburgh.

Japanese Cannot Throw Nor Hit

Babe Ruth Says Sons Of Nippon Have Become Baseball Mad

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Mar. 14.—Babe Ruth sized up the Japanese baseball situation on his visit to the Braves headquarters.

"The Japanese ball players is a good fielder, very nimble on his feet, and daring on the bases," said Ruth. "But two of the most important things in baseball he can't do. He can't throw and can't hit that old onion as we say. One of our good semi-professional teams could defeat the best nine the Japs could get together."

Ruth revealed they have actually gone mad over the game. It is nothing, he said, to see businessmen get up at dawn and play a full nine-inning game before going to work.

Reds To Operate Farm At Fort Worth

(International News Service)

FORT WORTH, Tex., Mar. 14.—The Fort Worth Cats of the Texas League will operate during the 1935 baseball season in co-ordination with the Cincinnati Reds. Larry McPhail, Red general manager, held a lengthy conference with President Roy Westbrook of the Cats, and the latter emerged with a grin and the statement he "expected big things" from the new alliance.

St. Michaels Drop Battle

St. Nicholas Of Hazelton, Ohio, Defeat St. Michaels At Youngstown 24 To 17

(Special To The News)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Mar. 14.—St. Michaels of New Castle, Pa., leaders of the Penn-Ohio Church league were defeated here last night by the fast St. Nicholas church team of Hazelton, Ohio, at the Lincoln gym floor 24 to 17. The game was nip and tuck all the way, with the Ohioans forging ahead in the final few minutes of play.

At the end of the first half the Babovskymen were leading at 10 to 9, and held the lead in the second half until near the end of the game when Zuppko went on a scoring spree along with Schirilla and the Hazeltons took the lead. The St. Michaels put up a fine battle, but could not overcome the Ohioans.

James "Shimmy" Balla, the New Castle ace forward, was held scoreless from the field for the first time this year. Carik, Chernyavsky and Mackiewicz played fine basketball for the losers. For Hazelton the work of Schirilla and Zuppko was the bright spots.

The defeat for St. Michaels places them in a tie for the league lead with the strong Lansingville, Ohio, team. The St. Michaels team last night was a vastly improved team over the showing they made earlier in the year.

Softball Moguls To Meet Tonight

First Meeting Of Year For Softball Called For Y. M. C. A. At 8 O'clock

Softball managers and officials will gather for the first meeting of the 1935 season tonight at the "Y" at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be presided over by Charles "Bugs" Walther who has been at the head of softball league here for the past seven years.

The meeting is open to all managers and officials of the league only. The custom of players gathering in the meeting room will cease. Two representatives from each of the teams in the league will be admitted to the meeting room, in addition to President Walther, vice-president Dave Riley, and secretary Michael "Jake" Babovsky.

Expect New Teams

It is planned to have a fast eight or ten team league this year with all teams using the 60 foot base line. No other ideas will be accepted as the New Castle league will operate as nearly as possible under the National Softball Association rules and will stick to them.

There is considerable enthusiasm already for softball here, and many new teams will no doubt seek admission to the league.

The first ten teams to be enrolled will constitute the league. Player lists will be required. There is a possibility that contracts will be handed out this year. This will do away with a lot of confusion.

The managers are asked to take notice of the limited meeting tonight and are asked not to request the presence of any of their players.

There will be a lot to accomplish at the meeting and the managers and officials are asked to get to the "Y" on time.

Pittsburgh Fight Promotors Offer Champion $250,000 To Battle Colored Boy

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 14.—A reply from Ancil Hoffman, manager of Max Baer, was awaited today by Lew Raymond, who offered the world's heavyweight boxing champion $250,000 to defend his title here on July 4 against Joe Louis, youthful Detroit negro.

None too confident of landing the match, Raymond thinks a Baer-Louis fight would draw nearly a half million dollars here. He thinks Louis' sensational rise in fistic circles and his long string of victories entitles hm to a crack at the title.

Raymond has delayed communicating with Louis until some word is received from Hoffman. It is expected, however, the Detroit slugger will be offered the customary challenger's share of 12½ per cent.

Wife And Baby Plead For Father Who Went Insane And Used Butcher Knife

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 14.—A husband who protested he had become temporarily deranged from imbibing vast quantities of "hair oil" and then had attacked his wife and baby with a butcher knife, was arraigned in court here today. Theodore Fleming, 31, won only a 30-day sentence after his wife, Mary, 24, holding the baby in her arms, asked the judge for leniency.

SEES NEWSPAPERS CHECKING CRIME

(International News Service)

TULSA, Okla.—Newspaper publicity was laded as a forceful crime deterrent by Eli Foster, Tulsa high school principal, in addressing the board of directors of the local chamber of commerce.

"The greatest influence in keeping people straight today is the fear of publicity," he said. "I used to think that fear of the law was the greatest influence for good, but we have come to the place where we select the laws we obey.

"If I had my way every crime and violation would be spread on the first page of our newspapers."

Stock Market Is Irregular

Undertone Of Market Is Firm Today, Reflects End Of Liquidation

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 14.—The stock market lapsed into irregularity today after yesterday's modest recovery. The undertone was firm, however, reflecting cessation of steady liquidation.

There were a few pronounced gains. Union Pacific spurted 2 points. Other rail shares were moderately higher, responding to reports that the I. C. C. would grant the carriers a rate rise "any day."

Sears Roebuck rose more than a point, reflecting the special dividend of 75 cents a share and the good earnings report for last year. Montgomery Ward was better in sympathy. Farm implement issues pointed higher.

Liquor shares were aided by National Distillers excellent earnings report.

On the other hand, American Telephone, ex-dividend, fell more than a point and there was pressure on other utilities. North American and American Water Works equalled their record lows.

Chrysler firmed up on the board's decision to call the dodge debentures. Other motor issues were quiet and easy, as were the accessories. The steels were sluggish and ruled in a narrow range around the previous close. Mining issues were dull, though International Nickel was moderately active and higher. Oils were irregular, as were the industrials.

Adolf Hitler Is Matchmaker

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Mar. 14.—Adolf Hitler, who has unswervingly shunned matrimony himself, today was hailed as the "perfect matchmaker".

The Reichsfuehrer was dubbed Eros by Emmy Sonneman, the blonde actress whose cap has netted the second-best "catch" in Germany, Hermann Wilhelm Goering, whose latest glory is the command of the Reich's new official air fleet.

In her star's dressing room at the State theater here, while she waited for the curtain to go up the premier of the "concert", Fraulein Sonneman told International News Service how Hitler introduced her to Goering, starting the romance.

Introduced By Hitler.

"A couple of years ago, while I was performing with the National Theatre group at Weimar, Hitler, who had just been appointed chancellor, gave me one of the biggest thrills of my life.

"He introduced me to Herr Goering."

She repeatedly referred to her fiance as "Herr Goering", never using any more intimate expression.

"So," she continued, "I suppose it is only fair to give the Fuehrer credit for being a perfect matchmaker.

"I'm thrilled and delighted that he is going to be the best man at our wedding April 11. It's a great honor."

GARDNER

Attorney C. W. Fenton of the Ellwood road spent the week-end in Philadelphia in the interest of the Odd Fellows.

Mrs. Scott Mayers of West Middlesex is a guest this week at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gibson, of Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Anderson of the old Pittsburgh road had as their guests last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Mercer and daughter Maxine of the Harlansburg road.

Lawrence Polen of Santyville, O., came to Gardner on Sunday to see Mrs. Polen, who has been staying at the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Reed had the family of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mayberry, and daughter Mildred, of Aliquippa, over the week-end at their home on the old Pittsburgh road.

The Gardner Community Circle met on Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Moore and there was a good attendance. Mrs. Brunton had charge of the games and there were some merry contests. Norman Walker won the prize in two games and Miss Lois Myers was the winner in one. The husbands were invited to this meeting and there were a number of children present. After an evening of fun and fellowship Mrs. Moore served a delicious oyster supper which won the praise of every guest. Several of the ladies assisted Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Frank M. Hay is the teacher of the Sunshine class at the Gardner Sunday school and takes great pleasure in planning delightful parties for her little pupils. These parties are held at the homes of the members of the class, and last Saturday afternoon the host of the occasion was Thomas Robison. There were 12 members present and lively games and contests kept the children busy until Mrs. Robison invited them to the dining room, where substantial and delicious dainties were served by Mrs. Robison and her daughter Dorothy. The colors of St. Patrick were used and were a pleasing feature. In the contests the prize-winners were Margaret McGary, Mary Zorens, John Proudfoot, Harry Donley and Sidney Moore. The little folks enjoyed every minute of the time spent at the pleasant home of Mrs Robison and her family.

Contracts For Teachers Up

Extension Of Some May Come Before School Board This Evening

COACHING STAFF BEING DISCUSSED

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 14—From all indications the School Board of Ellwood City will have one of its most important meetings tonight in the Lincoln school. The situation has been tense in the Lincoln school for the past few days, although all officials were tight lipped on all questions.

From seemingly common knowledge, extension of the contracts of Head Coach George "Ganzy" Benedict and Assistant and Faculty Manager M. J. Ferrare, ex-coach Todd Lloyd, and one woman teacher, is under question. It was revealed that an important recommendation is expected from the Education committee, headed by J. W. Mayne, this evening.

Regardless of the attitude of officials there is still the fact that for the past few days, the various school directors and superintendent of Schools Vaughn R. DeLong have been visited by several well known coaching candidates. Among those reported to be here were Coach Edw. Treadwell of Franklin: Coach Sachren, of East Liverpool, O., Coach Roark, of New Brighton, ex-Coach of Ellwood Robert Ingle, Paul Cuba of New Castle, former Pitt star and professional player, and Bill King, of Ellwood City, former Ellwood High and W. & J. star.

Finishing Wins League Title

COLD DRAW TRIPS BAR MILL QUINT

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 14.—Finishing cagers are again the champions of the Shelby Inter-department Basketball League as a result of their 39-21 victory over the Mechanicals Wednesday night at the Shelby auditorium. In the second game of the evening the Cold Draw passers trounced the Bar Mill, 45-23.

Although the season does not close until Saturday, the Finishing clinched the title with their victory. After losing two games they proceeded to win the first half, and since then have not been defeated. They are scheduled to meet the Office on Saturday, but the game can have no bearing on their standing. The Finishing, who were champs last year, have compiled a wonderful record.

It was a good and close game in the first half, but in the third chapter the Finishing came out with a determination and took a commanding lead, which they never relinquished. The score in the first quarter was 8-4, in the second 19-15, in the third 29-18, and final 39-21 for the champs. Barnes, Frew and Lasso were the big guns in the attack. Tomei was outstanding for the losers.

The Cold Draw seemed to be in top form last night, and after a slow start began clicking on all six. The score was 10-8 in their favor in the first quarter, 23-11 at the half, 29-19 in the third and 45-23 in the final. Sheeler and Clyde led the attack for the victors, while Patterson, Smith and Richards were best for the losers.

By RICHARD ARMSTRONG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HAVANA, Mar. 14.—Never did I write a story with so much pleasure—for I am lucky to be alive to write it!

Taken for a couple of rebels last night, Mrs. Armstrong and I narrowly escaped with our lives when troops sent a spray of bullets whizzing past our ears.

After I had spent a busy day "covering" the revolutionary strike, and Mrs. Armstrong had been equally busily occupied with harassed Americans at the United States consulate, were were about to drag our weary bones to bed when we were attracted to the window by a loud argument in the street.

Bullets Miss Heads

Barely had we protruded our heads when shots cracked out, bullets zinged past us, and embedded themselves in the wall of the apartment.

We hadn't recovered from our fright when soldiers and sailors poured into the room, tearing it upside down in a search for arms. Somebody had been shot from our building, they said.

Our American passports and credentials appeased them, and they left us to bemoan the state of our apartment.

MANY LEGISLATORS HAVE BEEN CALLED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Illness and death have cut a wide swath in the ranks of public officials, particularly members of the legislature, in the two months since Democrats took office, a checkup showed today.

Death of Senator James S. Boyd, Montgomery, was the second in legislative circles within six weeks. The other was Rep. Edward B. Labar, Pike county Democrat.

Both the Republican senate and the Democratic house have been badly hit by absentee members. Four senate members were absent this week and six house members were missing from their seats. Most serious at the present are Reps. Frank W. Ruth, Berks, Democratic floor leader and chairman of the powerful Ways and Means Committee, and Harry N. Boyd, Westmoreland, Democratic whip. Ruth suffered pneumonia and a breakdown two weeks ago; Boyd suffered a stroke nearly a month ago.

On the other side of the legislative hall, Senator Andrew J. Sordoni, Luzerne, has been too ill to take his seat this session.

Illness among Gov. George H. Earle's cabinet has been prevalent. Insurance Commissioner Owen B. Hunt has just returned to his desk after an emergency appendicitis operation. Secretaries H. Edgar Barnes of revenue and Michael J. Hartneady of mines also have been absent from their desks and confined to bed several days since they took office January 15.

Nearly 850,000 tons of rice were shipped from Saigon, French Indo-China, in the first six months of this year.

MYSTERY PLANE READY FOR NEW TEST FLIGHT

(International News Service)

OAKLAND AIRPORT, Cal., Mar. 14.—Uncle Sam's mysterious robot plane—nameless except for the simple number NC223Y—today was poised for another test flight over the blue Pacific.

The next time the huge twin-motored low-wing Douglass plane soars into the western sky—probably some time today—it is expected to fly directly to Honolulu.

Secrecy continued to mark the movements of the robot plane's crew composed of picked aviation experts of the army and the department of commerce. The only admission from the crew was: "We'll probably make another test flight today."

Flew Over Pacific.

Twice yesterday the plane flew over the Pacific. The first hop, starting in early morning darkness, took the fliers 170 miles at sea. The second flight, which took the plane 300 miles out, ended at 6:30 last night.

The crew of the robot plane—Capt. Albert Hegenberger, Capt. Clayton Bissell, Chester Snow, Jr., and B. R. Brown—was highly elated over the performance of their mechanical devices, declaring the two trial flights were "highly satisfactory".

From Wheeler field, Hawaii, came the only definite word that the next test flight probably will take Hegenberger and his companions across the 2,450 miles of water to the island paradise.

Major Ernest Clark, in charge at Wheeler field, admitted he had been notified to expect the flight "either today or Friday".

British Manufacturers On Tour Of America Inspect Local Plant

If you think your motor taxes are high, you should own a car in England, according to M. Melhuish and W. B. Brown, British manufacturers who were the guests of P. J. Flaherty, president of the Johnson Bronze Company on Wednesday. Fifteen shillings per rated horsepower, or about $3.75 American money is the rate for license plates, which means about $80 per year for that six cylinder puddle jumper of yours.

The two gentlemen are directors of the Glacier Metal Company of Wembley, London, England, a concern that manufactures bronze bushings and were here as a part of an American tour of inspection of motor plants and accessory plants. As a part of their trip they came to New Castle to see the workings of the Johnson Bronze Company.

Council Considers Vacancy At Conference Today—May Name Throop

ELECTION LIKELY FRIDAY MORNING

Members of council met in private conference in city hall today and as a result a successor to the late city engineer, Harry Hoskins, will probably be named Friday. In addition, it is also probable that matters affecting the city golf course, elevations in the fire department and grader bids will be settled.

At 10 a. m., today the four councilmen were closeted in the office of Safety Director Davies after which they shifted to the office of Mayor Mayne who took part in the conference in his office.

May Name Throop

Engineers were discussed as were other matters. Following the meeting Director of streets Butler was questioned concerning the late Hoskins' successor but he said he did not wish to state the name of the man he would recommend Friday.

Speculation in city hall, however, centered around possible selection of Glenn Throop, an engineer for the RWD who has been associated for

Cold Weather Checks Rivers At Pittsburgh

Three Big Pittsburgh Rivers Slowly Recede As Cold Wave Arrives

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 14.—Mud, water-soaked houseboats, and damage generally remained today as waters in Pittsburgh's three rivers receded after raging at flood levels for a day.

Colder weather and slight snow flurries checked the expanding streams from which water flowed inundating lowlands and cellars, from a high point of 26.3 feet water dropped during the night to about 23 feet.

Schools Closed

The Monongahela river was hit hardest. The rise in this watershed was so great and came so quickly that navigation was suspended for two days. Flood waters gushed over lowlands, closed schools and mines throwing approximately 10,000 miners out of work. If water levels continue to decrease, river traffic may be resumed either late today or tomorrow.

Damage to waterfront property was general.

Cloture Threat On Work-Relief Bill In Senate

Long Seeks $300,000,000 To Send Poor Children Through Colleges

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—A proposal by Senator Huey P. Long (D) of Louisiana, to ear-mark $300,000,000 of President Roosevelt's $4,880,000,000 work relief fund for sending 300,000 children of poor parents through college today shared the senatorial spotlight with demands of conservatives for a balanced budget.

Long proposed to take the $300,000,000 from an allocation of $600,000,000 for the CCC. He said young men in CCC camps would prefer going to college. He previously was beaten by a 5 to 75 vote when he proposed spending $1,000,000,000 of the total relief fund on educational purposes.

Strange Lineup

Strangely enough, Long joined with such conservatives as Senator Glass (D) of Virginia, Tydings (D) of Maryland, and Adams (D) of Colorado, in protesting against the administration's present policy of borrowing billions of dollars to finance its recovery program. He shared their view that the administration was piling a tremendous debt upon future generations.

Long boasted that as governor of Louisiana, he never enacted an appropriation or floated a bond issue, without first having imposed the taxes necessary to finance it.

May Impose Cloture

There was a hint the administration might try to impose cloture on the senate to shut off debate. This would require a vote by two-thirds of the membership and neither the liberals nor the conservatives want to be gagged on a bill spending $4,880,000,000. They said the administration held the bill in committee

More than a score of lawyers representing Libby Holman Reynolds, Broadway torch singer, and Anne Cannon Reynolds Smith, the two wives of Zachary Smith Reynolds, the mysteriously slain tobacco heir, have been waging a fight to the finish over the disposition of the $25,000,000 estate of young Reynolds at a hearing at Winston-Salem, N. C., in a case which has become the most involved litigation in North Carolina's history. The fight centers on the settlement on Anne Cannon Reynolds II, age four, Smith's first child and granddaughter of the millionaire towel manufacturer, and on the infant son, Christopher, that Libby Holman, his second wife, bore him.

Bills Appropriating $42,000,000 In State Given To Legislature

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Thirteen appropriations bills totaling more than $42,000,000 to cover departmental deficits of almost $6,000,000 in the present budget, provide $23,000,000 for old age and blind pensions in the next biennium and supply funds for other pressing governmental obligations, were sent to the house today by Gov. George H. Earle.

The deficiency appropriation bill, totaling $5,821,175, covered deficits in eight departmental budgets. These were part of the $50,000,000 deficit Governor Earle charged up to the preceding administration and which he requested the legislature to provide in balancing his $497,000,000 budget for the 1935-1937 biennium. The money is needed to fulfill obligations incurred by the departments during the current biennium.

Aid For Schools.

Included in the deficiency appropriation bill was $1,986,000 for the department of public instruction. Of this amount $4,300,000 is needed to make complete payment of school subsidies now due. Other items included $91,000 for salaries of county and assistant county superintendents, $380,000 for transportation of school pupils and $215,000 to support vocational education school.

State To Receive Federal Grant Up To April 1

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Continuation of unemployment relief until at least the end of March was assured today with the promise of Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, that another check for $11,000,000 will be given Pennsylvania on Monday.

Assurance of further federal aid was announced by Robert L. Johnson, state relief director, after a telephone conversation in which he informed Hopkins the state relief treasury was virtually bare again.

The additional grant will increase to $28,000,000 the total received in March to care for more than 1,700,000 persons on relief rolls. This exceeds the $20,000,000 grant for February but comparing the lengths of the two months represents a 10 per cent decrease, according to Johnson. The decrease has been due to the suspension of costlier works relief, it was explained.

Legion Backs Senate Drive On War Profits

Throws Weight To Senate Committee's Move To Eliminate War Profits

Legion's Program For Government Is Presented To Committee

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—The American Legion today threw its full weight behind the senate munitions committee's drive to eliminate war profit.

The legion's cooperation was offered to the committee by James A. Drain, of Indianapolis, Ind., former national commander of the legion. He said:

"Your purpose, as we understand it, is in exact accord with that of the legion which has long held the belief that taking the profit out of war will assist to prevent war and increase the chances of success should war be unavoidable."

He said that the American Legions efforts to minimize the profits of war have increased with the years, adding:

"Plainly, each year, interest of the legion is a less and less selfish one. The average age of the men composing the legion today is close to 45 years. The age limit for men to fight is placed at 21 to 30 years, with complete exemption after 45.

"In other words, the men of the legion would be, as to age, the class to stay at home and profiteer out of the next war if profiteering were to be allowed. Stopping profiteering is one of the things you are trying to do and the legion is with you in that desire."

Harrison Dies In New York City

Played Here In Part Of "De Lawd" In "The Green Pastures"

Richard B. Harrison has been called to "The Green Pastures." The aged negro actor who portrayed the part of "De Lawd" for more than five years in the play "The Green Pastures," died in the Fifth Avenue Hospital, New York from a blood clot today.

Mr. Harrison was over 70 years of age and up to the time of his collapse on March 2 had played in every performance of his show for five years. In December he played in New Castle and charmed his audience with his characterization of his part.

He was probably the most eminent member of his race today. Son of a slave, college bred, professor in a college, friend of the late Paul Lawrence Dunbar and such other outstanding Negroes as Will Marion Cook, Richard B. Harrison stood for the finer things in life and was an inspiration to the members of his race.

CUBAN RADICALS IN FINAL STRIKE EFFORT

Near Normal Conditions Restored, However, Despite Strikers' Efforts

MANY AGITATORS PLACED IN JAIL

(International News Service)

HAVANA, Mar. 14—Bombs and bullets split the air today in a renewed wave of terrorism as radicals made a final desperate fight to halt the collapse of the revolutionary general strike.

In spite of the imposition of a drastic 9 p. m. curfew for the second time, residents of Havana spent another fearful night, with soldiers, sailors and police firing fusillades and sniping intermittently to clear stragglers off the darkened streets.

At least four bombs were exploded and bullets and police batons added two more to the long list of the injured in the strike.

Near Normal Conditions

Normal conditions however, had been practically restored in respect to transportation and most other public services. "The strike is absolutely ended," said President Carlos Mendieta, in a statement isued through his secretary. "The majority of government workers have returned to their posts, while one hundred who refused to return have been discharged. Many radical agitators have been put into jail."

Another source declared that 200 ex-government employees were in prison.

A Cuban workman was painfully beaten by police who were reclosing an English language newspaper. The newspaper, which was about to start republishing following the strike, was ordered closed by police who happened to pass by. When workmen did not move fast enough for the police, they were attacked with clubs.

last fall; $112,000 for insurance, surety and fidelity bonds; $200,000 for additional legislative printing costs, and $300 for salaries of superior court criers and tipstaves.

Damage In Riots.

Other items were $140,000 to cover damage resulting from recent riots at the eastern penitentiary and $68,000 for the Torrance state hospital. The remainder was comprised of a deficit of $5,500 in the bureau of standard weights and measures and $15,000 to pay mileage of mercantile appraisers.

Other bills included $60,000 to be transferred from the motor license fund to reimburse the department of property and supplies for costs incurred in making purchases for the highway department and $12,722,719.55 also to be transferred from the motor fund to the board of finance and revenue to meet interest and sinking fund requirements on outstanding highway bonds. Another bill would transfer $30,000 of motor funds to the finance and revenue board for expenses incurred in registering highway bonds and paying interest.

Old Age Pensions.

Three bills appropriated $19,680,000 to the department of welfare for old age assistance payments in the two years beginning June 1 next, $3,085,000 for blind pensions in the same period and $180,000 for expenses in paying the pensions.

A series of six bills appropriated a total of $398,875 from six special departmental funds to meet the state's contribution to the state employes' reitrement fund.

Another routine bill would lapse all unexpended balances remaining in appropriations made by the 1927, 1929 and 1931 assemblies.

Sometime ago bids for a grader for the department of streets were opened and read to council and they were referred to the streets director and Purchasing Agent Alexander for a report and recommendation. A grader may be bought tomorrow.

The civil service board for firemen has already submitted a list of lieutenants eligible for captaincies and first grade firemen who are eligible for elevation to lieutenancies.

When Safety Director Davies was asked if he would make recommendations Friday he said he was not sure. However, he added that he proposed to confer with Fire Chief Stockman this afternoon and the elevations may take place tomorrow.

Director of parkss J. D. Alexander declared that the Golf commission had provided him with recommendations relative to the management of the course and prices which would be effective throughout the coming summer.

It has been indicated recently that there may be a change in the management from the present incumbent, W. G. Fleming to Captain V. Arthur Smith. The prices which will be in effect this season are the same as those effective last season.

Handwriting Experts Seeking Huge Sums

Hand writing expert testimony is valued at a high figure in New Jersey. Among the bills submitted to the State of New Jersey and the County of Hunterdon for the cost of the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, are bills aggregating $46,661.15 from hand writing experts.

Albert S. Osborn submitted a bill for $12,000 for his services in testifying that the handwriting in the ransom notes was that of Hauptmann. Osborn is not unknown to Lawrence County Courts as he has testified here, but never for anything like $12,000. His son Albert D. Osborn is asking $9,655 with the other experts submitting high bills also.

For performing an autopsy on the body of the Lindbergh baby, and testifying Dr. Charles H. Mitchell asks $500. The price in Lawrence County would be $20 for the autopsy and the daily witness fee of $2 for the physician's testimony on the witness stand.

Prof. George H. Priest, of Princeton translated a letter written in German and for his service he asks a modest $500. The bills submitted thus far total $130,000 inclusive of the investigation fees.

Pa Newc, after watching two or three careless motorists try to do Sir Malcom Campbell's Daytona beach act along Highland avenue last night, can readily see why Chief of Police Haven might order out his cruiser cars again. One of the speeding cars narrowly missed striking a youngster at one corner. Speed has a place but neither Highland avenue nor any other city street is that place.

Quietly but steadily, New Castle's plans for playing host to an army of high school orators and musicians on April 12 and 13 are progressing. The city on those days will be the focal point of attention for all of the Northwestern Pennsylvania high schools because all will be represented—or many of them—in the competitive events to be held. The official name of the affair is the Northwestern Pennsylvania Inter-Scholastic Forensic and Music contest.

Campbell Calls Off Attempt To Lower Record

Beach Unsatisfactory And Campbell Keeps Giant Bluebird In Garage

(International News Service)

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Mar. 14.—Sir Malcolm Campbell's record-making 2,500 horsepower Bluebird remained in its garage today as a rough beach brought postponement of a scheduled trial run.

The British speed ace, who last week sent his mechanical wonder thundering down the 12-mile beach course to a new world land speed record of 276.816 miles an hour, was out early to inspect the course and the result was not to his liking.

He expressed bitter disappointment and said he may soon return to England.

"It would be foolhardy to go out today," Sir Malcolm said. "The beach is not good enough for even a hundred miles an hour."

BRITISH ON TOUR; INSPECT PLANTS

but petrol (gasoline to you) costs 35 cents per imperial gallon. An imperial gallon is about 5 American quarts. Of the 35 cents, 16 cents goes for tax. All of which is one of the reasons why British made cars are small engined as compared with their American cousins.

High taxes do not stop with motor cars and gasoline. Income taxes are something to reckon with. A man making 150 pounds per year, or about $750 is exempt but on the next 100 pounds per year he makes he pays 2 shillings six pence on each pound. Up to 2000 pounds per year he pays 4 shillings six pence on the pound and if he makes 2000 pounds per year or over he pays 12 shillings on the pound or about 60 cent. Realty taxes are somewhat lower than in the United States but everything else is sky high.

Taxes on real estate are based on the rental value of the property. On a house assessed at $3500 American money, the taxes seem to be lower than they are here in New Castle.

Unemployment Insurance

The two visitors talked about the British "dole" but they insisted that it wasn't a dole at all. It is "unemployment insurance" said Mr. Melhuish. A worker pays fifty per cent of his unemployment insurance and the company pays the other fifty per cent. When he is out of work he is paid a certain sum each week from the government which in turn collects the payments. In normal times the plan is self liquidating but in times of depression the government is rather hard hit. Over 60 a worker is entitled to an old age pension and unemployables are given relief from still another fund."

"What about the money Great Britain owes the United States" was asked the visitors.

The answer was typically a British diplomatic answer.

"Britain paid her yearly amounts to the United States as long as the other nations owing her paid" said the two of them. "When the other countries quit paying Britain, then Britain quit paying the United States. "And" said Mr. Brown, "we can't forget that debt owed Great Britain by the Confederate States during your Civil War. That never was paid.

Conditions Improving

Conditions are improving in the British Isles they believe. American methods of production have been emulated, more efficient methods of industrial organization developed and Great Britain is coming through. The efficiency of American factories amazed the visitors and they were high in their praise of the American way of doing things. "Of course" said they, "we do not have the call for the hugh output you do in America. One of your major companies manufacturing a low priced car makes more cars than all of the British automobile companies in a year."

The American hotels amazed and pleased them. "We never expected such a complete hotel as we found in The Castleton" said they. "It has everything for the comfort of the traveller. All of your hotels here are arranged for the comfort of the guest and we have been pleased with them. Further, we have been treated with the utmost courtesy by your manufacturers on our trip and we appreciate this courtesy."

As for the NRA, the AAA, the CCC, the TVA and the other alphabetic agencies of the government, they beg to be excused. They didn't understand them all. In which they are little different than the average American.

Mr. Melhuish and Mr. Brown have visited Detroit, Buffalo, Cleveland and other cities. On Saturday they sail for the British Isles, pleased beyond measure with their experiences in visiting American industries. After a trip through the Johnson Bronze Company they expressed themselves as highly pleased and much interested in the speed and efficiency with which bronze bushings for automobiles are turned out.

1. Freezing prices at the very beginning of war as of a time set by the president.
2. A subsequent adjustment of prices up or down.
3. A determination of the material resources, industrial organizations, public or prvate services, of which the government requires control, and power to commandeer the same.
4. Authority to license classes of public or private services, dealers, manufacturers, etc. These not to be allowed to engage in business otherwise.
5. The determination of priorities by which orders may be filled in any public or private service by any dealer including the transportation or the furnishing of power.
6. The creation of agencies of whatever kind required, the appointment of the necessary personnel and rearrangement of the departments and bureaus through which the war powers may be exercised by the president.
7. A penal clause attaching an appropriate penalty consisting of a large fine and imprisonment for violation of any of the war laws.

Drain made it clear that in event of war he would not expect legionnaires to "stay at home if they could find any possible way to get in." He added, however, that the legion is for peace.

ful for them. There is no reason for taking away my children."

Complains of Treatment

Reminded she is free to go to the Dafoe hospital and pick up the babies if she wishes, Mama Dionne cried:

"Yes, but I would sooner do a big washing than go into the hospital. We are treated like strangers there. But I go because I want to see my babies."

She said her trip to the United States with her husband could not have been better had it been a honeymoon, but she did not like the stage. The stage tour, she said, was merely to get money to aid them in getting back their babies.

Rally for Battle

With 200 French-Canadian mothers of the region rallying behind the Dionnes in their fight for possession of their babies, the entire family express emphatic dissatisfaction with the proposed bill. Oliva Dionne, father of the quintuplets, before leaving for Toronto, said:

"Who would like to have their children taken away? Would Welfare Minister Croll like to have his children taken from him? I want full control of my babies, the same as I have over my other children. All other Canadians look after their children, why can't I? Surely I should have the privilege of choosing whom I want to look after them.

"There are lots of poor children who need care more than mine. But, of course, there is no money to be made with them."

Oliva saw only two good points in the bill, that the children would be brought up in the religion of their parents and that the parents would be allowed to see them at any time.

As the end approached today, he stood by the bed. Tears filled his eyes and sorrow enveloped his heart. He watched the last sparks of life flicker from her body and then reached into his pocket.

Out came his hand containing a pistol. Before hospital attaches realized the impending tragedy, he fired a shot through his heart. His body tumbled to the floor, as he joined the woman he loved in death.

HAVANA, Mar. 14.—Many members of the opposition to the regime of President Carlos Mendieta today were reported missing in the wake of the strict martial measures employed to crush the nation-wide general strike.

In view of the widespread shootings during the past week, relatives expressed grave fears for the safety of these persons.

Many oppositionists were known to have taken refuge in the Uruguayan and Brazilian legations and in the Mexican embassy under asylum agreements with these countries.

Action on the McCarran prevailing wage amendment meanwhile was sidetracked. The senate was worried by a threat of Long to prevent a vote on that amendment until the leaders permit "pairs" for the absent senators (Mrs.) Caraway and Overton, who are ill in hospitals. Both favor the amendment but without pairs, cannot be recorded on the issue. As it has been the senate's traditional custom to grant pairs (which keep an attending senator from voting to offset the missing vote of the absent senator), it was believed Long would win out in the end.

Long's demand for an educational allotment has stirred the senate. He was jeered when his billion-dollar plan was beaten by the lopsided 5 to 75 vote, but there was no laughter over his $300,000,000 amendment.

DOES YOUR HUSBAND CALL YOU GROUCHY?

He's truthful if not tactful. Manlike, he is bewildered by your offishness and irritability. He can't understand what you have to be blue about. He wishes that you'd snap out of it. He'd do anything he could to help you. If he knew how good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was, he'd go straight to the nearest drug store and buy you a bottle.

Mrs. Barbara Spears

"My husband says I am my old self again," says Mrs. Barbara Spears, 799 Elma Street, Akron, Ohio. "I was tired and all in with no appetite. Had no pep and was in poor spirits. Your Vegetable Compound eliminated that awful tired feeling."

Don't try your husband's patience too far. Get a bottle from your druggist NOW. It probably will help you, because nearly a million American women know from personal experience that it helps them.

EAST SIDE CLUB HEARS INFORMATIVE ADDRESS

Garden enthusiasts, comprising members of the East Side Garden Club augmented to the number of 25 or 30, by members of the Reading Circle '06 who were club guests, heard an imformative talk by William Williams, of the Butler road, at their March session Wednesday, in the home of Mrs. J. A. Wilson, on Morton street.

Mr. Williams chose as his subject "Planning and Planting a Small Garden" in which he stressed the importance of having a definite plan mapped out before work is begun. He advised choice of the kind of garden, as the first requisite, then the location, planting material, furnishings, or adornments proportions, the preparation of the soil, the drainage and exposure in the order named. An open forum was conducted by the speaker, afterwards which cleared up many questions of the members.

Mrs. Harry Sturdevant introduced Mr. Williams and conducted the business session during which plans were furthered for County Day to be held in the Third U. P. church on April 4, at which the East Side club will be hostesses. Members spoke of Pests and Remedies in answer to roll call and the assembly repeated the creed.

Previous to the meeting, a nicely appointed buffet lunch was served from the dining room table. Mrs. Sturdevant and Mrs. Earl McKnight presided at the tea and coffee services. Tall lavendar tapers combined with green tones, the club's colors, were ornamental decorations.

Attractive green shamrocks carrying the names of the guests were suggestive of St. Patrick's Day, and served as a means of introducing the guests.

On April 10, the club will meet again in regular session with Mrs. C. R. Brenner, of Huron avenue, hostess.

Les Bridgeurs Meet

An enjoyable evening of cards was spent in the home of Mrs. Charles Whalen, North Jefferson street, Wednesday evening, by members of the Les Bridgeurs club, when they assembled for their usual biweekly event. Two tables competed for honors, and at the close of play, lovely prizes were awarded to Gertrude Wolf, Mrs. Harold Hannon and Mrs. John Darby.

The evening was brought to a close by the serving of a delicious lunch, the appointment being suggestive of St. Patrick's day. The hostess was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Russell Hannon, with the menu.

In two weeks, Miss Gertrude Wolf of Morton street, will entertain at her residence.

NORTH BEAVER CLUB HAS TIMELY PROGRAM

The March meeting of the North Beaver Garden club was an interesting one Wednesday evening, in the home of Mrs. Flossie Andrews at Mt. Jackson. There was a good attendance, about 30 being present, and they listened to a program particularly good for this time of year.

An original means was used in answering roll call, the members naming flowers, the first letter of which was the same as occurred in their own names. Several papers were given, J. W. Fullerton discussing "Hot Beds, Their Construction and Soil." "The Treatment of Seeds Before Planting" was a subject outlined by J. V. Brewster, and the topic, "Native Shrubs for Natural Effects; the Growing of Shrubs for Natural Effects, the Growing of Shrubs for Cutting," was taken up in detail by Mrs. J. W. Brewster.

Mrs. John V. Brewster and George Clark were in charge of this informative program, after which Howard Gilmore, who arranged for the music, presented a sextet composed of A. J. McCall, Merle Leslie, J. V. Brewster, J. W. Brewster, William McCombs and himself. They rendered several delightful vocal numbers.

George Clark conducted a question box and Mrs. J. W. Fullerton, the president, was in the chair for the business meeting. Three associate members were admitted to membership: Rev. Ray Woodburn, Kenneth Gwin and Earl Cox. During a social period following, refreshments were served by the wives and husbands on the committee: Mrs. John Brewster, Mrs. George Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gilmore.

The next gathering is planned for April 10, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reed, at Mt. Jackson.

The happy couple was tendered a miscellaneous shower, when many lovely and useful gifts were received. Radio music, dancing and chat formed pleasing pastimes, and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses Miss Virginia Gensante and Miss Mary Favorito. Prizes during the evening were won by Miss Susie Favorito, Mrs. Bortalino and Miss Rose Venasco.

Proceeds will be used for the Hadassah Medical organization and for the establishment of the Medical center to be built on Mt. Scopus in Jerusalem, identified as Rothschild Hadassah University hospital.

Tindall, all whom share credit in the complete success of the afternoon.

An entertaining program was presented, arranged by Mrs. Julius Blaha and Mrs. M. S. Kincaid. Those who participated included Mrs. Ben Agnew, who gave two vocal selections with Miss Lena Richards, accompanist; Miss Barbara Schultz favored the guests with two piano numbers, and Miss Helen Blaha pleased with two readings, while the concluding feature was two vocal solos by Mrs. June Bernard, with Miss Schultz playing her accompaniment.

Following this feature, the guests were ushered into the dining room where they were given places at a beautifully appointed table, and served a delicious repast. ### CHECKING PERJURY

PERJURY has become common in American courts it is asserted. Its prevalence is recognized and deplored by judges, lawyers, prosecuting attorneys, grand and petty juries and independent investigators, yet very little is ever done about it. Persons accused and tried for this offense are usually acquitted. Many who have clearly committed perjury are never brought to trial because conviction would be so hard to obtain.

Partly this is the case because penalties for perjury seem to juries too severe. In New York state, for example, the maximum sentence for perjury is 20 years in felony trial and 10 years in others.

A law recently proposed to the New York legislature would set up different degrees of perjury with different penalties for each. Perjury in a trial for felony would be first degree. For this the punishment would be imprisonment for not more than five years, or a fine of not more than $5,000, or both. Perjury in other trials would be second degree, classed as a misdemeanor, and punishable by not more than one year of imprisonment, $500 fine, or both.

Certainty of punishment, after trial and conviction for false testimony, is the only remedy. Perjury has grown because it was "easy to get away with it."

A SHOW WITHOUT AN AUDIENCE

A resolution which has been introduced in congress would bar the public from sessions of that august body. The sponsor, Representative Raymond J. Cannon, Democrat, of Wisconsin, says that sometimes members make useless speeches solely for the benefit of the press and galleries. To some, that charge may come as a surprise. Surely, the sedate and dignified senators and representatives cannot be justly accused of making grandstand plays! That would be unthinkable.

There is a faint suspicion, however, that lawmaking might proceed at a more rapid pace if some of the "showing off" were eliminated. But we doubt very much if eliminating the small audience which sits in the congressional galleries would change the nature of those who "like to hear themselves talk."

In every group of considerable size there are a certain number who have that propensity, and while spectators may give impetus to the proclivity, they never forget that the press carries at least a few of their words to the public outside congressional halls.

ANOTHER PATHETIC BOY KING

The burden of royalty has usually proved too much for youth. Even the precocious Edward VI of England found it so. Probably little Peter of Jugoslavia, taken from his English school when his father was murdered, has often wished himself back. Now Prince Ananda, proclaimed King of Siam when Prajadhipok abdicated, who was at school at Lausanne, openly laments his new status. He says he is not glad to be King. "I like to play with locomotive trains," he tells a questioner. What boy would not,

To the suggestion that he would have hereafter all the toys he wished, he replied, with a pathetic understanding of the situation, "No, I won't; they won't let me." His days of boyhood freedom are over; he will be stifled by court ceremonial and trained for duties he cares little for and of which he understands less. He would rather stay in Lausanne, where he has companions whom he can meet as equals.

There isn't very much fun for a grown man in being a King. For a boy it is rather pitiable.

FEWER SUICIDES

One of the hopeful signs today is a decrease in the national suicide rate. One community of about 1,000,000 people reports a drop last year to 17.5 suicides per 100,000 population. The average for the previous three years had been 21 per 100,000.

The total fatalities of this type during the depression will never be known. The rate might be higher than any that could be figured from positive knowledge. The human loss from self-destruction is one of the most appalling effects of economic crisis. The rate is still distressingly high. If the 1934 figures quoted above could be assumed for the whole nation, it would mean about 22,000 suicides last year. An estimate covering the entire depression period might show a total as large as the United States army. Much of it would not be necessarily traceable to the depression, but economic distress would be the leading cause.

The change in trend of these figures suggests lessening pressure and returning confidence.

KISSING FOR SCIENCE SAKE

When a high school professor in California announced the other day that all the boys and girls in his biology class would participate in a test to determine whether germs are transmitted by kissing, the students promptly exhibited new interest in higher education. As a matter of duty in the cause of scientific research, the class showed up 100 per cent and a few alumni even made inquiries as to possible post-graduate work.

A lot of pleasurable anticipation was dashed, however, when the professor handed each pupil a pad of sterilized cloth upon which a solo kiss was to be imprinted for microscopic inspection.

It is plain that these students did not approach the microbe test in the true scientific spirit. They should have realized that a kiss may be viewed either as a biological experiment or as a—well, as a kiss, and should not have tried to combine research with pleasure.

Still, the chief difference is that a different crowd is getting money without earning it.

---

Old-timers didn't live longer. They did about the same amount of living, but took longer to do it.

---

Yes, boys and girls kissed back in 1890; but it resembled a chicken picking up corn, instead of vulcanizing.

---

Huey Long's denunciation of the rich scunds a little strange to those who would feel very rich if they had as much as he had.

---

You think men are stronger than women? Then show us a man who can cook a meal with two babies underfoot without going crazy.

---

Brisbane says a man particular about his personal appearance is about through. Or he's not a famous enough person to risk being sloppy.

DON'T STRUGGLE

I meet a friend whom I know as well as I know myself. But when I start to call him by his name—I can't remember it.

I struggle to call it back, but it will not come. I'm ashamed of myself, bewildered, impatient...What's the matter with me, anyway, that I can't remember a name I know so well?....I demand of my memory that it go to work, paddle out into the murgy swamps of my brain and retrieve this word. No use, it will not obey....I try to persuade my memory. Please, be a good boy and find that word for me! Again no use. My memory doesn't hear me, pays no attention....I become subtle and devious. I will wait till my memory isn't looking and then slip up behind it, seize the word, and run away again. No chance! My friend's name is gone—and I must wait patiently for his name to come back to me.

A similiar embarrassment occurs when I am talking and suddenly am unable to think of "the right word." It is right there on the tip of my tongue, lurking in the corners of my brain, but I cannot speak it.... Though I coax, though I threaten, I cannot draw it forth, though I can see its two eyes shining in the darkness of my brain cavity....I am humiliated, but I am helpless as long as I try to force that word to come gently to tongue.

---

But all is not lost, all is not futility. I learn one small precious fact from my embarrassment.... I learn that I cannot compel my memory to remember that misplaced name, that furtive word, but I know that if I wait and go about my other business those words will come back to my vocabulary. If I do not worry and strain, I shall know my friend's name when I meet him again. I shall remember the word when next I need it. They will come to me, as happiness will come if I do not struggle for it. They will come, as will peace if I do not seek to compel it. As will come many another precious possession, if I do not set myself up as despot, as master..Not even of myself.

LIFE'S GREAT JOY LIES IN ALTRUISM

If you would give less thought to yourself and more to others, you would be happier and get more from life.

Have you noticed the comfort it is to give to others?

If you have no joy in giving, you are to be pitied, for in this is the greatest joy in life.

Giving necessarily entails thinking of those who are less fortunate.

Constant thinking of your own ailments and disappointments makes life drab and robs it of cheery helpfulness.

To compare your own progress with those who have already reached the goal you have set for yourself is a foreboding line of thought.

In the first place, things are acquired through effort and sacrifice.

Only a few have luxury, comfort and eminence thrown at them.

The fact that they have them means persevering struggle for the creature comforts and privileges.

Your efforts may not benefit you greatly, but it is a comforting thought to know that you can make life easier for others.

RATHER MIRACULOUS

At the age of thirty-five a severe illness left E. A. Griswold, now of Dallas, Texas, totally blind. That was fifty years ago.

On a recent night, at the age of eighty-five, Griswold said he felt something snap in the top of his head. Not long afterward, to his great surprise, he found he could see again. Now his sight is being gradually restored, and Doctors believe he will soon see as well as the average person of his age.

Doctors declare the sensation described by Griswold as something having "snapped" was the sudden release of pressure on the optic nerve which had been paralyzed all these years.

Think of the fifty years of darkness and then consider what this miracle means to Griswold.

EVENING CHAT

What do we talk of mostly when alone
Beside the blazing fire we choose to sit?
Some golden dream and what has come of it;
The welfare of a friend we long have known;
Gay little memories of spirits flown;
The stricken neighbor, by a motor hit;
Birth, death and marriage, blending bit by bit
The joys and griefs of others with our own.

The hours fly by! Still much there stays to tell
And all so unimportant written down!
Somebody's son is doing very well.
Somebody's daughter now is back in town.
Trite bits of gossip, trivial if you please,
But is not life a sum of tales like these?

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:05. Sun rises tomorrow 6:11.

FIRST MARCH 12 BABY

To Frank Cooper Druschel, two-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Druschel, of 1062 Adams street, goes the honor of being the first claimant of the Hints and Dints man's award, for babies born on March 12, his birthday. Claim for the award was made Wednesday and little Frank already has the five dollars.

And now the high birth rate among families on relief is worrying the FERA officials. Figures just compiled show that in families on relief it is 210 per 1000 mothers while among those not on relief it is 137 per 1000. We don't know what is going to be done about it.

Down in Kentucky a man with a little patch of ground traded a $25 dollar radio for a cow. This was in 1932. Since then he has kept a family of five in milk and has sold milk and butter amounting to $456. Looks as though all you have to do to be prosperous is to trade your radio for a cow.

Happy is the man who realizes he is a moron. There is no heartache for the runner who doesn't expect to win.

Electricity now does almost everything in the home except turn itself off when it isn't being used.

If you are getting alarmed about the future and don't know where your money will be safe, why not put it in real estate. Realty may be slow moving, and be over-taxed, but it stays right there—it doesn't blow away in a storm of cheap money.

AN ACCOUNTANT

The teacher was questioning the children about their ages.

"How old were you your last birthday?" she asked one boy.

"Seven, ma'am" was the answer.

"Nine, Ma'am."

"Nonsense," said the teacher. "If you were seven your last birthday, how can you be nine your next?"

"Well, you see teacher," he said. "I'm eight today."

Out in Iowa the Farm Credit Bureau was looking for job applicants, who had to fill out a questionairre. There were two questions which were considered unanswerable, until an Iowa University graduate took the test. One question was "How long is a piece of string?" and the other was "How far can a dog run into the woods?" The bright young man said that a piece of string was twice as long as the distance between the center and either end, and that a dog can only run halfway into the woods: after that he would be running out. He got a job.

Our government seems to have forgotten the old recipe for "Rabbit Stew," first catch the rabbit. The way to raise money for expenses is to first provide business and industry, with a method of making or possessing money that can be assessed or taken for Government use by or through taxes. Therefore until the "Rabbit" is found there will be no stew. It looks like a long line will be waiting for "Soup."

The World At A Glance

Attitude On President. Leaders Seem Lacking. Reaction Seen In World.

New York Bureau
235 East 45th street
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 14.—If reports from various parts of the United States are accurate, the Roosevelt administration is making little headway against the forces that have risen up against it. Readers seem to be overwhelmingly with those forces.

Old line politicians are bewildered. They never previously have seen an opposition rise so quickly, so emotionally. The sweep of it all reminds them of war-time emotions — and causes the old line politicians to shudder.

If the movement "merely" were nation-wide, the situation would not be complicated. It is, however, world-wide.

LEADERS?

Can Huey Long's capital levy tax actually distribute wealth? Isn't something more fundamental than that needed—and will the world not have to come to it to save itself? But Huey's simple economics, as fascinating as they seem, are not even the beginning of the alphabet in any real study of government and economics.

The La Follettes, Norman Thomas, Senator Couzens know a thousand times more concerning workable economics than does a Huey Long.

And the economics of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, no matter how splendid his social program may be, can only add to the monetary confusion of the world, economists say.

WORLD REACTION

Liberals believe that if the United States would take the lead now, world conditions could be stabilized, and a semblance of democracy could be saved.

The average American does not fully realize the world link to every decision he may make in the mass.

He sees a revolution in Greece as something far away — having no affect on him. But if the revolutionists are the last stand in southern Europe against encroaching fascism, there is a potent bearing on American life.

Then, too, there is "another" revolution in Cuba. Cuba always is having revolutions. But why is it always having them? Is is because American sugar interests determine the government, even influencing the American government to support the regime the sugar interests desire? That is what Latin American nations are saying, to the detriment of friendly feeling. They hope the revolutionists gain control.

The United States is spending hundreds of millions on armaments (perhaps leading the armament race of the world), but its foreign policy (which governs good will or wars) is a hidden game of chess to the American people—more so under the Roosevelt administration than any other.

There is not a single political leader who discusses that. There is not an all-embracing leader in the entire nation—one who will "let the people in" on everything, tell hard facts, bitter truths.

Georgia Lawyer—Well, Rastus, do you want me to defend you? Have you any money?

Rastus—No, suh. Ah ain't got no money, but I got a 1922 model car.

Lawyer—Well, can you raise some money on that? Now, let's see—just what is it that they accuse you of stealing?

Rastus—A 1922 model car.

THE OTHER WAY ABOUT

Lady—What part of the price do you charge for the water in your milk?

MORE PROFITABLE

An amiable old man, a visitor in a home, was trying to win the friendship of the small daughter of the house.

"Cubbing" Essay Continued Today

'Cubbing And The Cub Pack' Is Article's Title; Cole Wrote It

EDITOR'S NOTE: Judges chose this essay of Scout Robert Cole, Troop V-37, as the winner in a contest. The fifth installment is presented today.

"CUBBING AND THE CUB PACK"
Installment No. 5

Junior's tenth birthday came and he was ready to pass his Bear rank test.

The test was as follows:

1. Indicate steps in history of flag and make a set of colors illustrating these steps.
2. Draw or trace a world map showing those countries having cubs. List principle historical spots in your community.
3. Give the history of the flag.
4. Do push four times, running broad jump one and one half times his height, running high jump one half his height.
5. Practice fire safety rules.
6. Write eight laws on health, and tell why they should be observed.
7. Bring evidence of an annual health check up and show a plan for remeding any defects shown.
8. Show that he has helped around the home.
9. Have regular attendance at church and school.
10. Make an approved article in handicraft.
11. Elective.
12. Keep a note book not more than 50 words illustrating some hobby.
13. Demonstrate three ways of tying two ropes together, how to use a tow rope, whip ends of rope and tie bowline.

When Junior's father heard that he had passed the test he promised him a scout uniform if he passed his next test successfully.

After returning from a den meeting one day, Mr. Winston asked Junior just what they did at their cub meetings.

"First we get in a circle and give the grand howl then we give the pledge to the flag. While the den is in line they are inspected and I take attendance and dues. We usually play a game after that, then we close by a story told by one of the boys or by the den chief. Our closing ceremony is the "living circle". Sometimes in the meetings we make things for our tests. We do almost the same thing in our cub pack meetings except that they give us our badges there and there are more boys in packs than in dens.

"Last week we were each given a kit to build an airplane with and last night they had a contest to see whose plane was the best. The first prize was a set of cub hand books. I won second place and received a mouth organ. After the contest was over we had wiener sandwiches and boy were they good.

Next week we are going to have a picnic over in the grove and afterwards there will be some baseball games between the dens."

"I wish that I were your age so that I could go on all of these picnics and do all the things that you do."

(Concluded Next Thursday)

Do you tire easily?

no appetite? nervous? losing weight? pale? then don't gamble with your body

IF your physical let-down is caused by a lowered red-blood-cell and hemo-glo-bin content in the blood—then S.S.S. is waiting to help you... though, if you suspect an organic trouble, you will, of course, want to consult a physician or surgeon.

S.S.S. is not just a so-called tonic. It is a tonic specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions, and also has the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin of the blood.

This two-fold purpose is important. Digestion is improved... food is better utilized... and thus you are enabled to better "carry on" without exhaustion—as you should naturally.

You may have the will-power to be "up and doing" but unless your blood is in top notch form you are not fully yourself and you may remark, "I wonder why I tire so easily."

Let S.S.S. help build back your blood tone... if your case is not exceptional, you should soon enjoy again the satisfaction of appetizing food... sound sleep... steady nerves ... a good complexion... and renewed strength.

S.S.S. is sold by all drug stores in two sizes. The $2 economy size is twice as large as the $1.25 regular size and is sufficient for two weeks treatment. Begin on the uproad today.

On Court House Hill

The step up to the rear seats in court room number one still continues to be a stumbling block. Several witnesses at the present term of court, narrowly escaped falls, while coming out of the seats.

A certificate showing that Judson F. Beight has been appointed administrator in the estate of the late Charles A. Zimmerman of Youngstown, O., has been filed in the register and recorder's office. Mr. Zimmerman was interested in real estate in Lawrence county, more particularly at Mt. Jackson.

Deputy Prothonotary Jack Edgar had a busy time Tuesday night. He was called from his home about 10 o'clock when the jury reported in the Joe Stinnett murder case, and had just got home and put his car away, when he was again called to the court house on the report that the jury in the George Fox case wanted to come in for further instructions from the court.

Tax collectors of the different boroughs and townships of Lawrence county are not very much enthused over the proposed bill in the legislature, which would make the county treasurer collector of all taxes, except in the city. It would mean that there would be one less job in all of the townships and boroughs, and jobs are now pretty hard to get.

J. R. Rick of this city has filed at the register and recorder's office a certificate showing that he has been appointed as executor of the will of the late Bert J. Rick, who died in Conneaut township, Crawford county, Pa. The will of the decedent has been filed at the register and recorder's office in Crawford county.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Samuel W. Lewis have been granted by the register and recorder to Freda Solomon. In the estate of the late John F. McConnell of New Wilmington, letters of administration have been granted to Elizabeth McConnell. William E. Marquis has been granted letters in the estate of the late Nellie D. Marquis of this city.

Farmers and poultrymen of Lawrence county seem to be taking a lively interest in branding their chickens. Sheriff Pritchard is receiving new brands every day. The brands are on cards and are being indexed so that they can be readily found when it becomes necessary to identify the owner of any chickens that have been stolen. Few chicken thefts have been reported in the county recently and there are likely to be less, when all of the stock is branded.

In the case of Cora B. Haley against Elizabeth Boyer, growing out of a claim for damages as the result of an automobile accident, questions of law are decided in favor of the defendant in an opinion handed down at court by Judge R. L. Hildebrand. The case grows out of an accident at the intersection of West Washington street and Beaver street. The Haley car, driven by William Haley, was going west on Washington street when the Boyer car, being driven south on Beaver street, crashed into it. It was contended by the defendant that no itemized bill of the damages to the Haley car had been filed. The court holds that an itemized bill is only necessary where the action is brought before a magistrate, alderman or justice of the peace. Where it is brought in court, as in the present instance, no itemized bill is necessary. The defendant is given 15 days in which to file an affidavit of defense.

The old saying that a man's home is his castle, seems to have been upheld by the jury which tried the Joe Stinnett murder case. It was shown during the trial that Stinnett was on his own property, on the front porch of his home, when Clinton Jones, who was shot, picked a quarrel with him.

The final dress rehearsal will take place Saturday afternoon, March 16, at 1:30 o'clock. The ladies who are coaching the play and planning the costumes are Miss Beatrice Gonick, Mrs. Harry Botwin, Mrs. Maurice Schoenberger and Mrs. Harry Freedman, under the auspices of Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, chairman of the Sisterhood committee on Religion. Purim—The Feast Of Lots

On Monday evening, March 18, 1935, the Jewish people will begin its celebration of Purim, the Feast of Lots. This festivay is a minor holiday. It is based upon the story of the Book of Esther, and it is observed with great festivity and joy.

Around the fourth century B. C. E. a great number of Jews lived in the provinces that Persia had conquered. During the reign of Ahasuerus, Mordecai, a Jew of the capital city of Susa, had been of signal service to the king and was of influence in the court. His beautiful cousin, Esther, had been taken by the king and crowned queen. About the same time Ahasuerus had raised a certain Haman to the highest office in the Persian court. This new Prime Minister bore a personal grudge against Mordecai and because of that he decided upon a general massacre of all Jews. But for this he had to obtain an edict from the king.

One day Haman and the king discussed the conditions of the Persian provinces. Haman noticed that the king feared for the security of his widely-spread dominions, and took advantake of it. He falsely accused the Jewish people of being disloyal and a menace to the unity of the Empire. Ahasuerus, deceived by the seeming devotion of his Prime Minister to the welfare of his dominions, said to him, "Do unto the people as it seemeth good to thee."

Mordecai conveyed the fateful edict to Esther, and bade her go to the king and tell him of the peril to the life of her people. Esther prepared a banquet to which she invited her royal spouse and to his delight, Haman. At the feast she informed the King of Haman's real purpose. "Behold," she said, "we are sold, I and my people, to be utterly destroyed." Hamon had previously avoided to mention the name of the people he sought to wipe out. The king was furious, and thereupon, ordered the hanging of Haman. To save Esther and her people, he issued an order authorizing the Jews to organize for self-defense."

This story typifies the persecutions that the Jewish people suffered during the last two thousand years. In every age there are those who, because of personal prejudice against, or quarrel with individual Jews, condemn the whole people. But Jewry cannot be destroyed. And in every age the Jewish people fight such evil decrees and frustrate them. This is the message of the feast of Purim to Jewry today.

To commemorate this deliverance from the hands of Haman, the Jewish people established the fourteenth of the month Adar as a day "of feasting" and joy, and of sending presents one to another and gifts to the poor. The festival typifies the false accusations made against Jews in every generation. Its chief message, however, is that it recalls the triumphs of the Jewish people over injustice and tyranny.

Congregation Of Third U. P. Expresses Regret At Pastor's Forthcoming Departure

Last night the congregation of the Third United Presbyterian church made formal acceptance of Dr. S. B. Copeland's resignation, at the same time expressing its regret at losing the pastor, and deep appreciation for the 14 years of splendid service he has given to the church.

The congregational meeting opened in the assembly room of the church with about 150 members present. A short devotional service was conducted by Dr. Copeland, and after the pastor withdrew, the business session was started with C. C. McKibben, congregational chairman, presiding.

The resignation was presented and accepted. It will take effect on April 1. Dr. Copeland will go to Wheeling, W. Va. where he has accepted the pastorate of the Wheeling United Presbyterian church.

A pulpit committee, comprised of J. R. A. Paatison, J. W. Rupert, Gilbert H. Colnot, G. G. Orr and Dr. R. M. Eagleson, with John Ulrich as an alternate, was selected. Instructions to start immediately to locate a new minister for the church was given to this committee.

Complaint Made That Persons Are Representing Selves As Employed By FHA

Complaints have been made to the office of the Federal Housing Administration here that men and women have been visiting the homes of local residents, purporting to come from the Federal Housing Administration office, and are making a list of prospective purchasers of different articles.

Mr. Feuchtwanger stated that home owners who are approached regarding home repairs and modernization of their homes should request to see the identification card, since those who are employed by the Federal Housing Administration have proper credentials, and desire only the information on repairs and modernization of the home.

Others claiming to represent the Federal Housing Administration are imposters, he states.

Pope Pius Gives Warning Message

Warns Members Of Catholic Action About Allying Selves With Politics

(International News Service)

VATICAN CITY, Mar. 14.—Members of Catholic action "cannot remain idle" in working for the common good of society but must not ally themselves with parties or politics, Pope Pius XI. declared today.

Addressing an audience of 500, including seminarians of 22 foreign colleges in Rome, teachers and representatives of Catholic action, the pontiff said:

"Catholic action must be kept severely apart from parties and politics.

"If, however, politics must be understood in its classical significance of that which relates to the common good of society, then members of Catholic action cannot remain idle but must procure it in every way."

Missouri Area Is Under Water

More Than Four Thousand Persons Made Homeless By Flood Waters

(International News Service)

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Mar. 14.—With more than four thousand persons in southeast Missouri and northeast Arkanssas rendered homeless as the rampaging flood waters of the Black and St. Francis rivers crashed through levee walls, four companies of National Guardsmen and an army of several thousand civilian workers were being concentrated in Dunklin county today where the next serious levee breaks are anticipated.

Red Cross relief workers estimated about 750 families or approximately 3,000 persons were homeless as the result of the floods which have ravaged southeast Missouri. One hundred and fifty families were added to the army of homeless by the cracking of the Black river levee at Moard, Arkansas, yesterday, relief workers said. Although lives are known to have been lost in the high waters, inestimable damage to homes and livestock has been caused by the flood which is described as the worst in this section since the inundation of 1927.

Discuss Navy Building Plan

U. S. May Make Answer To Japan With Huge Fleet Program

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 14.—A $350,000,000 battleship replacement program as America's answer to Japan's denunciation of the Washington Naval Treaty was being discussed in navy department circles today.

Seven American battleships will be over-age on Jan. 1, 1937, the date when Japan's denunciation of the Washington treaty becomes effective.

Unless Japan can be induced to enter a new agreement before that time, the naval powers will then be free to build as they like.

Remodernize Ships

Present plans call for the remodernization of most of the seven battleships which will be over-age in 1937. Naval experts estimate remodernization of these ships will cost from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 each.

Although officials claimed the idea of replacement instead of modernization had not yet reached the blue-print stage, it was admitted this step probably would be taken "as a routine measure" once it became definitely evident Japan was unwilling to enter any new agreement.

Cost Will Be Less

The feeling prevailed that in the long run it would cost the government less to build new ones at a cost of around $50,000,000 each than spend $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 trying to remodernize the old ones.

The seven battleships which will be over-age next year are the New York, Texas, Oklahoma, Pennsylvanian, Arizona, Nevada and Mississippi.

Study Opposition To Tax Measures

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Opposition of utility companies to 11 bills in Governor George H. Earle's $203,000,000 tax program was studied by the House ways and means committee today.

Some 4,000 utility company employes and stockholders from various sections of the state besieged the capitol yesterday afternoon to cheer utility company officers as they attacked the governor's suggested taxes at the last public hearing scheduled by the ways and means committee.

"It is the customer in his service and the employe in his job who will have to bear a large share of this unjust increase," the committee was warned by Berne Evans, Harrisburg, counsel for gas and electric company associations.

In addition to hearing opponents of the utility taxation bills, the committee heard speakers against measures taxing insurance companies and other revenue bills in the governor's program still held in committee.

"Unjust and Unfair"

Principal speakers for the utility companies in addition to Evans were Charles H. English, Erie; W. H. Wade, Altoona; F. H. Hunter, Reading; Joseph A. Beck, Pittsburgh, and former State Senator Henry L. Snyder, Allentown.

In the main they asserted proposed utility taxes were "unjust and unfair" and represented a 241 per cent increase on the levy on such corporations in contrast to a 131 per cent tax increase on taxpayers generally.

"The eventual effect upon Pennsylvania can only be increased unemployment, increased relief, increased handicaps to industry, increased hardship to every citizen," Wade declared.

Weavers Not Guilty Costs Are Divided

Verdicts Rendered In Cases Of Marshall Weaver And John Weaver Sr.

In the cases of Marshall Weaver, charged with assault and battery on his wife, Anna Weaver, and John Weaver, Sr., charged with aggravated assault and battery on his daughter-in-law, Anna Weaver, which were tried before Judge R. L. Hildebrand, the jury brought in verdicts of not guilty in both cases. Two thirds of the costs were placed on each of the defendants and one-third on the prosecutrix.

Marshall Weaver, whom the plaintiff claimed had beaten and choked her, denied the charges, claiming that the black and blue marks on Mrs. Weaver had been made when she fell over a chair. John Weaver, who was charged with striking Mrs. Weaver with a chair, denied that he had ever struck her, claiming that she had fallen over a chair.

Long Amendment Is Rejected By Senate

Senate By Vote Of 58 To 27 Hands Rebuke To Senator Huey Long Of Louisiana

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14—In another obvious effort to rebuke Senator Huey P. Long (D) Louisiana, the senate this afternoon rejected his amendment to President Roosevelt's $4,880,000,000 relief bill, proposing to set aside $100,000,000 to furnish college educations to the children of poor parents.

The amendment was beaten by a vote of 27 to 58, although endorsed by Senators Borah (R) Idaho, and Johnson (R) California.

Huey slashed his original $300,000,000 request to the $100,000,000 hoping thus to attract his fellow Democrats.

All but eight voted against him.

Deficiency Is Seen For Biennium Unless Budget Is Changed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Unless Gov. George H. Earle's budget figures are changed, public schools face the same reduction in their state subsidies in the next biennium which, pardoxically, the administration today moved to prevent during this biennium.

Pointing out this fact, school authorities and educational leaders were preparing plans for a campaign to have the legislature increase the executive's recommended appropriation for subsidies by about $5,000,000 for the next biennium so that full statutory payments can be made next year and the year following.

The administration bill carrying a deficiency appropriation of $4,300,000 for the 1933-35 biennium for school subsidies was introduced in the house today. If this money is made available, it will obviate the necessity of slashing school subsidies 30 per cent for the fourth quarter, now being paid.

The administration's 1935-37 budget, however, carries only $53,000,000 for school subsidies. The same amount as provided for this biennium and which has been shown to be short of the amount needed unless this $53,000,000 figures is boosted the same shortage will exist in the next biennium which exists today.

School districts already are being paid their fourth quarter subsidies, abated 30 per cent because of the shortage of money. Fourth class districts were paid last month, second and third class districts are being paid this month and Pittsburgh and Philadelphia payments are scheduled to be made next month. If the deficiency appropriation is passed, additional funds will be allocated to all districts.

British Court Supports Her Contention Sir Robert Peel Responsible For Bills

By H. K. REYNOLDS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Mar. 14.—A British court today supported the contention of sobbing, auburn-haired Mrs. Doris Draper that Sir Robert Peel, late husband of Beatrice Lillie, had assumed financial responsibility for her large dressmaker's bill.

She won an order in King's bench division for the return of two ermine coats, worth $1,500, that the dressmaker had been holding "as security," while the court dismissed a counter-claim for $1,259, the balance due when Sir Robert died.

Following her testimony of yesterday that she had lived with the wealthy baronet for five years as "Lady Peel," the slim, attractive Mrs. Draper added tearfully today that Sir Robert "was being divorced" to marry her.

She had had an account with the dressmaker, Ella Wells, before she lived with Sir Robert, she said, but afterwards he paid the bills, as she lacked a personal income.

"Sir Robert made some payments to Ella Wells by telegraphing the cash," Mrs. Draper continued.

Former Screen Star Faces Plot Charges

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 14.—George K. Arthur's cheery laugh. The laugh that made him famous on the silver screen, was missing today as he prepared for arraignment in federal court on charges of plotting the smuggling of a stolen bracelet into the country.

The man who was regarded as one of the outstanding stars of the silent films vigorously protested his innocence. But the authorities had the word of Miss Mary Hewitt Jopling, Park avenue debutante, to offset that plea.

Miss Joplin, it was alleged, was the innocent dupe of Arthur in bringing into the country the bracelet after it had been stolen allegedly from Stephen Raphael, English banker.

The plot, federal authorities insist, had its inception on the beach at Cannes. Arthur, it was charged, met Miss Joplin and said the bracelet, valued at $1,600, was his mother's. He reputedly asked her to care for it on her return to America.

According to federal officials, the former screen star had been Raphael's roommate and the bracelet actually was the banker's property.

Arthur might have avoided arrest had it not been for a letter which Miss Jopling wrote to the mutual acquaintance who introduced them.

She asked the acquaintance to forward the note to Arthur and, she insisted that he obtain the bracelet immediately.

"I have, and I am holding the bracelet," the letter set forth. "I will keep it until Sept. 18. If I don't see or hear from you I will mail it to your mother."

The bracelet finally was pawned and Arthur, according to charges, eventually recovered it. The letter aroused the suspicions of the friend, however, and when the former screen star returned to the country from a subsequent ocean trip yesterday he was arrested.

Plan To Go Ahead On Beaver Park Plan

(International News Service)

BEAVER, Pa., Mar. 14.—Preparations for the program to develop a 5,000 acre outdoor recreational center in the Raccoon creek area were underway here Wednesday, following announcement in Washington of the acceptance of options on the project.

Attorneys were preparing to start work on the clearing of titles on tracts of land, which will comprise a total of 4,759 cases. Meanwhile, Donald H. Graham, Beaver, project manager, arranged to go ahead with his plans for the work.

The area lies in Hanover and Independence townships, Beaver county, and will provide the only outdoor recreational park of its size located in the vicinity of Pittsburgh. Great interest in the project has been evinced by residents in this section of the state.

In announcing approval of the development project, Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, said:

"Farming in this area has been on the decline over a period of several years due to the poverty of the soil in comparison with more fertile areas of the west. The acquisition and reservation of this land by the government will insure to society its most beneficial use in the future."

Youth's Enthusiasm Results In Death

(International News Service)

CHARLEROI, Pa., Mar. 14.—Sixteen-year-old Robert C. Bratten's enthusiasm over his hobby as an amateur photographer caused his death.

In order to take a picture of himself in an unusual manner, the youth climbed with his camera to an upper tier of a high tension tower near his home here. But as he had clicked the shutter his body accidentally contacted the highly charged wires and Robert was hurled to the ground 75 feet below by the electric shock, his clothing ablaze. Death, physicians said, was due to electrocution.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. March 14, six arrests on charges as follows: Violating parking law 4, suspicion 1 and drunkenness and disorderly conduct 1.

It is anticipated that members of council will confer informally within the next few days and decide upon who will succeed the late G. Harry Hoskins as city engineer. Ordinarily councilmen would let the problem hang for a while but inasmuch as a big program of amiesite paving is to be put through this spring someone will have to be named soon so that he can pick up where Hoskins left off. Hoskins was not only a popular figure in city hall and civic life but was also a very good engineer—and according to some, one of the best the city ever had. He was on the job early, worked late, proved efficient and was ever trying to develop projects in order that work could be given to the unemployed. There is no question but that for two years he had been the busiest official the city has had and his departure cast a mantle over city hall and other places where he was known.

With April not far in the offing it is expected that city officials will join in the request of the state health department for clean up week. At present some yards look rather drab but by May a different complexion will be seen.

In the days of prohibition the cry was raised that were liquor legalized it would mean passing of the "speakeasy" and the "Blind Pig", but such has not occurred, evidence of which is seen almost daily in police court. While there may not be as many "speakeasies" and "Blind Pigs" as flourished during prohibition days the fact remains there are some here and persons have not ceased to use their automobiles to transport illegal liquor. It is a serious offense to have unstamped liquor in one's possession. Several times Mayor Charles B. Mayne has threatened to urge prosecution on this charge of persons who have other than legal liquor in their possession. No doubt he takes this attitude from the fact that men have gone into the liquor business, paid a license for so doing and illicit liquor places should be forced out of business.

Frank Coen, game protector for Lawrence county visited city hall today and said that 850 rabbits had been put out for stock purposes in the county. He said the county could have used 1,500 for this purpose. While Coen was talking rabbits, Charles Withers, a member of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association, said that a shipment of trout for stock purposes would be received here next week. During the discussion concerning game and fish Coen said that he believed that between 100 and 200 deer were killed by Lawrence countians last fall.

SCHOOLS COULD USE $80,000,000

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Pennsylvania school districts could use $80,000,000 immediately for school building construction with PWA funds, according to a report from the United States office of education to the Department of Public Instruction. The total needed for this purpose throughout the nation is approximately $626,000,000.

A survey of the school building situation was started by the United States Office of Education last December, and is independent of the inventory of public works projects now being taken by PWA and the National Resources board. The Pennsylvania estimate of $80,000,000 represents the amount that could be used in both urban and rural areas.

Piles Go Quick
Without Salves or Cutting
Thousands of sufferers from itching, bleeding or protruding piles have learned that quick and lasting relief can be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor cutting remove the cause.
Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts lifeless. To end Piles an internal medicine should be used to stimulate the circulation, and restore the affected parts.
Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for hundreds of patients with a marvelous record of success and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID tablets from their own druggist with a rigid money back guarantee.
So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. says "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe clean way to get rid of your Pile misery or money-back."

USES STATE PLAN ON INDIAN RELICS

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Following the example of Pennsylvania in removing valuable pre-historic Indian writings and relics from the Susquehanna river before completion of the Safe Harbor dam, the federal government completed similar work on the site of the Boulder dam, according to Donald A. Cadzow, archaeologist of the State Historical Commission, Department of Public Instruction.

Materials taken from the river bed at Safe Harbor are now housed in the state museum here, and a national museum is being built at Boulder dam where historical materials taken from the "Lost City of Nevada" are to be preserved.

Must Carry Kit Of Extra "Bulbs"

(International News Service)

FRANKLIN, Pa., Mar. 14.—Launching a drive against "one headlight" motorists, state highway patrolmen in this section are making it difficult for automobile drivers who do not carry the kit of extra bulbs, as specified in the law.

A great many drivers have fallen victim to the campaign instituted to correct the driving evil, according to the patrol. Arrests for this violation mean a fine of $10 and costs.

Numbers Racket Workings Bared

Hearing In Philadelphia Brings Out Some Unusual Facts

SOME STARTLING TESTIMONY GIVEN

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 14.—The inside workings of the lucrative $5,000,000 numbers racket were bared in testimony presented at Wednesday's session of the hearing on the Philadelphia Bar Association's charges against eight prominent lawyers, cited for unprofessional conduct.

The startling testimony disclosed how numbers racketeers provided legal representation for their "pick-up men and writers"; how such prisoners were released on copies of the charge without knowing who obtained them; how they were supplied with legal counsel, which they neither asked for nor paid for, and how they were supplied with bondsmen.

The five judges of the common pleas court, sitting en banc at the hearings into the charges that the eight cited attorneys had sold their services on a yearly retaining basis to the underworld kingpins, gave their rapt attention as a parade of underworld witnesses told their stories.

Because of nearly 300 witnesses to appear in the Bar Association's case against Fred C. Gartner, Bernard L. Lemisch and Brad Brodsky, it was announced that hearings in the cases of State Senator Samuel W. Salus, his brother Civil Service Commissioner Herbert W. Salus, and Albert P. Goldberg, a lawyer employed in their office, will not be called before Monday.

This brought up the question of whether the court has power to summon Senator Salus from his seat at legislative sessions in Harrisburg.

A postponement of this hearing may be required unless Senator Salus obtains a leave of absence, it was said.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Letters Intended For This Column Must Be Signed With Name And Address Of Writer.

Editor News:

I believe the taxpayers of this city, if they will stop and consider the expense, will see that the city council should not try and acquire the old post office for a public library. The council has already pulled a boner in not buying the old Shenango hospital and using the required amount of material to build an addition to the present library and using the balance of such material for a city tool house on the city owned site on Jefferson street at Central fire station. This could have been done as a CWA project. It would have meant a large amount of useful labor instead of building parks out in the wilderness where half the people of New Castle don't know where they are located.

Also, why does council lump the expense of tools and material instead of publishing an itemized bill so that every dealer can see it and compare his prices.

Compulsory health insurance would not in the least affect the millions of people still unemployed in the United States. It would affect, though, the small wage-earner, who, 90 per cent of the time, would have to expend more, in direct contributions and indirect taxation, than at present and for this added burden he would receive less efficient medical care than he may now obtain.

YOUR STOMACH AT WORK ★ Curious Facts About Digestion

Many men—and a great many women — are dieting needlessly. They mistake slow digestion, for indigestion. Or they don't know how easily sour stomach and gas pains can be relieved.

A man named Pape long ago discovered a simple way to relieve that acid condition causing certain foods to lie like lead in the stomach. Diapepsin, in tablets that are just eaten like candy, has brought happiness to thousands who thought they could eat only certain dishes.

If you have distress after meals, any acid discomfort at all, your stomach is probably slow in emptying. If you relieve this condition with Pape's Diapepsin, you can eat in greater comfort and enjoyment.

Test this out, and you will find that it works.

Then carry the pocket tin and take a tablet or two after meals until your digestion is "clicking" and the sourness is relieved. Pape's Diapepsin; remember the name. Your druggist will know about it.

STATE SALES TAX SENTIMENT IS INCREASING

FOUR THOUSAND IN DEMONSTRATION

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—A wave of protests chiefly from utility companies today retarded action on Gov. George H. Earle's 22-point $203,000,000 tax program in the house after several of the measures were speedily rushed ahead by the Democratic majority earlier in the week.

After witnessing a demonstration by 4,000 employes and stockholders of utility companies and hearing their representatives denounce the governor's proposed taxes on utilities and business as "unjust and unfair," the ways and means committee deferred plans to report the measure to the house for action.

Sales Tax Sentiment

Increased comment was heard in the legislative halls, meanwhile, on the advisability of scrapping many features in the governor's program for a two or three per cent sales tax, a measure strongly opposed by Governor Earle. Democrats, as well as Republicans, expressed more than passing interest in the sales tax proposal.

Approximately $75,000,000 of the revenue needed for the coming biennium was represented in the assorted tax bills held by the ways and means committee. Some of the bills were before the house briefly for first and second reading this week. The bills would impose new taxes on utility companies, electric current, insurance companies, certain manufacturing companies and bank stocks.

Appropriation Bills

The house today received 13 appropriation bills from Governor Earle to cover deficiencies in the present budget and make money available for the payment of old age and blind pensions in the next biennium. Totaling more than $42,000,000, the bills were referred to the appropriations committee for consideration.

Passed finally by the house, two more of the governor's tax bills to raise $5,000,000 in the biennium by a stamp tax of five cents for each $100 on legal and business documents and $375,000 by cancelling exemptions on the gross receipts tax paid by truckers were in transit to the senate. There they will join the $4,000,000 "chain store" tax bill.

Near House Vote

Four tax bills expected to raise $7,000,000 by increasing fees on trucks and trailers and limiting their size were on the calendar as a special order of business on final passage next Monday night.

The gasoline, amusement and tobacco tax bills, designed to bring in $57,000,000 were similarly scheduled for next Tuesday.

On the calendar for the first time was the bill of Rep. Darlington Hoopes, Berks socialist, guaranteeing labor the right of self organization without interference from employers. The measure was a thrust at so-called "company unions."

A banking department bill sponsored by Rep. H. G. Andrews, Cambria, to strengthen the banking code also was on the calendar for first reading. The Weiss bill requiring banks to disclose information on deposits of persons seeking unemployment relief was listed for the first time also.

Phalanx Fraternity Hears Prof. Graham

Westminster Man Speaks On Journalism Topic Here Last Night

Misunderstanding was blamed last night by Prof. R. X. Graham, Westminster college journalism professor and its news bureau head, as the cause for much of the criticism that may be directed against newspapers of today.

Speaking before the Phalanx fraternity of the Y. M. C. A. on "The Value of Journalism to Other Professions and Vocations," Mr. Graham called for "a greater understanding as to what's back of the story" on the part of readers. He told of the tremendius influence exerted by the 960 daily newspapers now published.

"Contrary to popular belief," Prof. Graham added, "crime news constitutes but two percent of the total volume of news printed today. Because most of that appears on the front page we think the newspapers are full of crime."

PIONEER MINISTER OF ALLIANCE CHURCH WILL PREACH FRIDAY

Rev. William T. McArthur, of Philadelphia, a pioneer in the Alliance work, will preach at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church on Pearson street, at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening.

Rev. McArthur has made several trips to the mission fields and to various parts of Europe. He lately returned from a visit to Scotland and Ireland.

Under the rule which permits a British woman government employe who leavese on marriage to return if widowed, 100 returned to work last year.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy whenever we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

Pleasant News.
Four Good Names.
The Airfleet Controls.
24 Billions a Year.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

SAN SIMEON, Cal., Mar. 13.—IT IS pleasant to read here, at the edge of the Pacific, a Washington dispatch saying that the government will establish a great airport in Hawaii near Fort Kamehameha, named for the last King of Hawaii.

The ide ais to keep enough bombing planes there to take care of unwelcome fliers or surface ships arriving from Asia.

IT WILL be more pleasant to read, as you may do later, that government plans to establish a powerful air base on the Island of Guam, which we are free to fortify, now that the Washington conference agreements have been repudiated and our silly pledge not to fortify Guam is wiped out.

That Guam air base, which should be as powerful as any in the world, and another one located on the land that we shall retain from the foolishly soon to be abandoned Philippines, should provide for any Asiatic danger.

Any Asiatic shipping that might interest us would pass within convenient striking distance of one or the other of those air bases.

IN REPLY to the question, "Whom will you support in the coming presidential campaign," W. R. Hearst tells the United Press he expects to support President Roosevelt, who will doubtless get the Democratic nomination.

As possible and desirable nominations by the Republicans, Mr. Hearst suggests, "Chief Justice Hughes, if he could be induced to run. He adds:

"Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, would make a good candidate for the Republican party, as would Senator Borah, of Idaho, or Senator Norris, of Nebraska."

It is pleasant in these "steal-the-wealth" days to be reminded that there still exist in the United States men of the type of Chief Justice Hughes, Hiram Johnson, Senator Borah and Senator Norris. It is easy to overlook them, with so many mountebanks gyrating.

THANKS TO airplanes, the Greek rebellion is crushed. The old Greek patriot, Venizelos, leading the revolt at the age of seventy-two, fled yesterday from his home on the Island of Crete across the Aegean Sea to an Italian island for refuge.

Weeping, the old man vowed that he would never again set foot on Greek soil. A rebel cruiser took Venizelos to the protection of the Italian flag. Then, last of the fleet that had rebelled, the cruiser Averoff surrendered to the government.

INTERESTING old names come in reports of events in Greece—Chios and Samos, where the "tyrant's" cook found inside of a fish the valuable ring the king had dropped in the sea, and Mytilene, all three islands that the rebel fleet captured, at the beginning of the civil war.

The collapse of this rebellion by some of the most powerful men in Greece, accompanied by the seizure of the Greek fleet, shows that whoever controls air fleet can control the country.

Somebody might tell that to Washington. A little flare-up here is not impossible.

THE CALIFORNIA assembly votes 58 to 17 in favor of the Townsend plan. The state Senate, however, revolted, and defeated the resolution calling on Congress to enact the Old Age Pension bill.

It is not possible for the United States to pay twenty-four thousand million dollars every year, the total cost of giving $200 per month to every man past sixty.

It does not cost the Assemblymen anything to vote for the impossible and it makes him feel politically safe.

Mr. Weber said to Mr. Fields:

"Why did you offer that man the $5,000 for his dog. You ain't got $5,000."

Mr. Weber replied:

"I know it, but ain't it a good offer?"

The United States should establish old age pensions sufficient to insure freedom from anxiety in old age. It is a pity to delude the aged, with promises that cannot be kept, and may prevent any old age pension.

GERMANY'S BODY of highly trained air pilots, members of the civilian "Air Sport" Association, have all been placed under the orders of the regular army and will become a valuable part of Germany's defensive force.

Germany is told by indignant French newspapers, "That is a violation of the Versailles treaty," but without agitating Mr. Hitler.

The Versailles treaty is disintegrating like our own NRA, a venerable bird that is moulting, losing its beautiful feathers prematurely.

SOME THINK that after June first this country will say of the NRA bird, what the poem says of Sir John Moore:

"His breast but once heaved, and forever grew still."

LABOR AND political troubles continue in Cuba, where government decrees "death for terrorism" which means armed attack on the government and sabotage.

Strikers have been thwarted in the attempt to cut off light, power and food supplies. School teachers on strike, are warned to return in seventy-two hours or lose their jobs.

LESS SERIOUS news, but interesting to millions, is the fact that Annette, one of the Dionne quintuplets, cut her first tooth yesterday. The other four are all teething. Annette is first with a real tooth, right in front, where every smile shows it.

New Castle Plant Asks For Trademark Exclusive Rights

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 14.—The Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Company of New Castle and Taylor Township has applied to the United States Patent Office for exclusive rights on a trademark on its products.

The company wants sole rights to use of the combination "Uni-Closet" on combination closets and flush tanks. The company claims it has used the combination as a trademark since March 19, 1934, and would now have the Patent Office restrain others from using it.

Milk cure—that is, a diet consisting at first of milk only—is a very old remedy, since it is mentioned by Hippocrates who lived from about 460 to 357 B. C.

Executive Board Plans Activities

At a meeting of the Executive board of the Christian Endeavor society of the First Christian church Wednesday evening at the church, Laura Snider was appointed program chairman for the new year.

The secretary's report was read and approved and the social committee announced the appointment of the following members to serve on the social committee: Dorothy Osborne, Jane Moffett, Clarence Workman, Lenora Coates, Robert Montgomery and Robert Selby.

A special program was arranged for the first Sunday evening in April, with George Fox as speaker. It was also decided to begin a contest to promote a drive for increasing membership in the Endeavor society, the contest to run for a period of two months.

A box social was planned for March 27 at the church, in a new and novel way.

Recalls Olden Days When Famous Stars Played At Opera House

Most of us over thirty years of age, bemoan the "passing of the road." The theatrical road that is. Apparently the road tours of dramatic successes is a thing of the past and those of us who took the spoken drama seriously long for the old days.

One gentleman in New Castle who looks back with a reminiscent eye to the old days of the road is Albert Dinsmore, who for 27 years conducted the Opera House Transfer here. He knew them all. The stars and the hams, the tragedians and the comediennes, the greats and near greats. All of them went through his hands as he hauled their baggage from the railroad station to the old Opera House and his memory is rich with tales of the old theatre.

Wonderful People

"For the most part they were wonderful people" said Mr. Dinsmore today as he sat reminiscing of the old days. A carefree group for the most part, artists in their work and wanderers at heart. I liked them all. Now and then we got a troupe in that couldn't pay, but they were willing to if they had the money."

As he talked Mr. Dinsmore began naming some of the famous old stars that had played New Castle and whose baggage he had hauled to the theatre. Lillian Russell was one of them, the toast of the world, the beautiful actress who was at home behind the footlights or in the drawing room of a king. Madame Nordica, the Peerless Corinne, Maude Adams and her character of Peter Pan, Dustin and William Farnum, Lou Tellegen, Charles T. Gardiner, Geraldine Farrar and Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw.

"There was a funny thing happened one night when Lillian Russell played here" said Mr. Dinsmore. "Her dressing rom leaked and outside a heavy rain was pouring down. The famous star came out into the backstage area and hunted the property man, who unfortunately was slightly drunk."

"Mister Property Man" said Miss Russell "the roof of my dressing room is leaking."

"Well what do you think I am," he replied, "a shingle?"

Glamorous Anna Held

Anna Held, the glamorous French actress who startled America with her famous milk baths (or was it a publicity stunt) was another who Mr. Dinsmore remembers, but not for her acting. Miss Held was indisposed when she got to New Castle and she stayed in her hotel room from the time the train got in until it left. "Her part was played by her daughter" said Mr. Dinsmore, "but the audience never knew it. Fact is nobody knew it and I kept the secret for years. And I'm not so sure but the daughter was the better of the two actresses."

Honey Boy Evans was the king of the minstrel men who played here, Mr. Dinsmore thinks. He remembers Al G. Fields, Lew Dockstader, Primrose and West, and the others, but Honeyboy led them all. Montgomery and Stone he still reveres as a pair of great actors. Robert Mantell, Richard Mansfield, Al Bernard, De Wolf Hopper, McIntyre and Heath, Guy Bates Post, all of them giants in their line and all of them Mr. Dinsmore knew.

And The Magicians

Harry Houdini was a favorite of Mr. Dinsmore although he liked the Great Kellar, Thurston and the other of the prestidigators. Svengali thrilled him with his mysterious eyes and George Sidney, (Busy Izzy) amused him with his comic actions. Chauncey Olcott thrilled him with that lyric Irish voice of his and Fritzie Scheff went broke here, leaving her scenery behind her.

On and on he mentioned the stars of other days. Eddie Leonard, Jack Richards, Billy Church, Laurette Taylor, Henrietta Crosman, Nora Bayes, Jack Norworth, Bob Fitzimmons, Little Egypt, Chester De Vonde, Otis Skinner, these and a host of others that made the world glad they had lived and trod the boards. In his record book Mr. Dinsmore has the names of all of them and a perusal of them looks like the registry of the theatre for a quarter of a century in the days when the theatre really lived.

He never claimed to be a dramatic critic, he was a transfer man, and a good one. He knew the stars as people, not as characters in a make believe world. And as he sits and talks of the road that is gone, one gets a liberal education in the theatre back of the footlights.

Will Cut Short Lecture Tour

Federal Immigration Authorities To Give Hearing To British Author

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Mar. 14.—Federal immigration authorities went into action today to cut short the American lecture tour of Evelyn John St. Joe Strachey, British communist author arrested on a deportation warrant as an undesirable alien.

Suddenly ordered back here from Cleveland where he spoke last night, the radical was to appear today at a hearing before Fred J. Schlotfeldt, district director of immigration.

Strachey returned willingly but promised he would fight the charges that he made false statement on entering the United States on Christmas day when he swore under oath that he was not a communist and did not advocate overthrow of the government by force or violence.

Kashgar, China, has just received its Christmas, 1932 mail, unsettled conditions in Chinese Turkestan having practically isolated the town for two years.

Under Suspicion

Christopher Stephano, Philadelphian who has been on visit in Greece with his family, is declared in reports to be under suspicion of having financed the Greek revolution. Relatives in Philadelphia deny it. (Central Press)

Olean Salesman Tries Suicide In Pittsburgh

Earl R. Gender, 22, Critically Wounds Self With Gun In Hotel Room

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 14.—Earl R. Gender, 22, Olean, N. Y., salesman, wounded himself in the head and abdomen, police said, today after carefully laying out clean clothes in his hotel room.

The youth, who declined to give any reason for his act, was rushed to Mercy hospital where an emergency operation was performed. His condition is critical.

Watchman Finds Body

A watchman found the youth's body, clad in pajamas, lying on the floor of his room. Nearby lay a revolver with two discharged shells.

Two letters found in the room may provide a motive for the shooting, police believe. One was addressed to Mrs. George J. Gender, (812 W. Henley St.,) Olean, and the other to Miss Lola Truesdell, Cuba, N. Y. Attaches at the hotel, where the youth had been residing since November 6, said he complained of being in ill health and had planned to return to Olean for a rest this week-end.

Sons Of Legion To Have Election

Will Name Permanent Officers Friday Evening—To See Naval Films

Sons of the American Legion will elect permanent officers at their meeting in the Legion Home, Friday evening at 7:30 when a special feature will be the showing of films prepared by the United States Navy by M. L. Nixon, recruiting officer of the Navy Department.

The meeting will close promptly at 9:30 and it is hoped that all members of the squadron will be present to cast their ballot.

The films to be shown are of an interesting nature, showing fleet maneuvers, maneuvers of naval airplans, sight seeing in Washington, and various other subjects of an educational nature.

The consideration of the Americanization program will also be taken up at this meeting. Acting Captain Sam Gaston says, "It is important that we prepare for citizenship, and the Squadron can do no better than to know something of the background of our government. It is in pursuance of this aim that we are adopting a program of Americanization."

It is expected to have several additional new members present at this meeting.

School Board To Meet On Friday

While none of the directors will verify the story, there seems to be considerable authenticity to the statement that there will be no long drawn out fight for the election of a new secretary of the school board on Friday night when the board meets. The election will actually be for the post of assistant secretary but the assistantship will last only till June when the incumbent Hugh M. Marquis retires on age.

At a meeting held several nights ago in the office of one of the directors, reports are that the field of candidates was narrowed to about three and out of this three, John B. Bechtol, William J. Connery and Albert C. Davis, the new officer will probably be picked.

Meadville Starts Housing Project

(International News Service)

MEADVILLE, Pa., Mar. 14.—With the approval of detailed plot plans by the Federal Housing Administration, preparations for work on the Meadville housing project were started today.

The local program, first large-scale project of home building to be approved by the FHA, will be started with construction of streets, sewers and public utilities, according to members of the executive committee. Work on the 200 homes that have been allotted will be begun later.

These homes will rent for $26 to $39 a month. The government will guarantee the mortgage structure up to 89 per cent. Construction costs of the work program will total approximately $900,000.

Keep faith with those who paid

Gas tax and auto fees are paid for highway construction, safety and upkeep. It is true economy to live up to this bargain and to STOP DIVERSION because:

1 IT COSTS MOTORISTS MORE in gas, oil, tires and car repairs to drive on poor roads and streets instead of modern pavements.

2 DEATH, INJURY AND PROPERTY DAMAGE RESULT from narrow, congested roads, from dangerous grade crossings, curves and bottle necks. Let's eliminate them with the money that has been paid for the purpose.

3 HORSE AND BUGGY STREETS block modern highway traffic. Let's widen our arterial streets as we improve our highways and get traffic through towns quickly, safely.

4 MORE THAN 85¢ of every dollar spent for road building goes to the laboring man. Let's give him what he wants — a job, not a dole.

Increasing gas tax without increasing road construction does not give jobs to the unemployed and places an unfair tax burden on the motorist. Ask your legislator today to vote against any increased gas tax!

IT IS YOUR POCKETBOOK DIVERSION WILL REACH! IT IS UP TO YOU TO STOP DIVERSION! Drop in at your local motor club, or any place you see an AAA sign, affix your name to our petition protesting against diversion and thus ask your Legislators to give us a square highway deal for Pennsylvania.

Cincinnati Casts Lot With Rookies

Pitching Staff Is Mediocre; Manager Dressen Has Lots Of Confidence

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

TAMPA, Fla., Mar. 14.—On first base is John Robert Mize, 22, and built on the general lines of a caribou and what the tailors call a stylish stout. On second base is a gentleman named Alex Kampouris, also 22. At shortstop is Bill Myers, aged 24, and at third is Lew Riggs, aged 25.

I might add that on the bench sits Jim Bottomley, once a great first baseman: Tony Piet, supposedly a first class infielder, and Gordon Slade, a major league shortstop for five years. They're going to stay on the bench.

Young Infield

At least, that's what Charley Dressen, the Cincinnati manager said today in discussing his 1935 ball club. Thus, the noble experiment of all the ages, beside which prohibition and the daily double at the race track are made to seem pale and insipid.

No major league club has ever gone to bat with an all-Freshman infield before. No major league club has ever committed itself to a first baseman who has played less than 90 games at the position and who nevertheless cost the owner of this club the rather sonorous sum of $55.00, paid to the Rochester Club. And no major league club, not even Connie Mack's Baker-Barry-Collins combination, went on the field with an infield averaging less than 23 years and a combined outlay of $125,000.

Has Confidence

"That's us," said Mr. Dressen today, succinctly, if not with especial elegance. "Win, lose, draw or no dice, that's my infield. We couldn't win with the veterans last year. So what's the matter with losing with the kids? We just can't go any wronger than we did and by 1936 I'll wake up some fine morning with a ball club."

I looked at the fledgling infield today and was at least two parts impressed. That Myers from the Columbus club is very likely to play 154 games of ball this year and do all right by himself, at that. He's quite a young man out there, with an arm that cuts them down like a sickle in a field of weeds. Mize, awkward but fast, will do at first base: in the first place, because he hits, in the second because he takes throws into the runner very well.

Look To Future

This means that Bottomley will be traded and, by July first, the club will be running fifteenth in a field of eight. However, by July first, Mr. Dressen will be signed to a contract for 1936. It's that kind of a ball team. They's building into the future, not the present, and sooner or later they're going to brush by a few national league clubs that seem determined to survive on the basis of the past.

As they stand, the Reds have fair pitching from Paul Derringer, who won the amazing total of fifteen games for a last place club, ten of them after Dressen took charge in mid-season: Don Brennan, who can win in the minors and not in the majors: Benny Frey, consistent to a fault: Tony Freitas, a little left hander from the coast: Si Johnson and Danny MacFayden, from the Yankees.

This Would Make Eddies' Face Red

(International News Service)

DENVER, Mar. 14.—Was Eddie Klipka, amateur heavyweight boxer, embarrassed?

After receiving the encouragement of his admirers in his dressing room he dashed into the arena and climbed through the ropes into the ring before several hundred men and women fans at a local boxing and wrestling tournament.

Someone called his attention to the fact that he had forgotten his pants.

American Horses In Big Pay-Off

(International News Service)

LONDON, Mar. 14.—Eleven totalisator punters who had faith in American-owned horses had a lucky day in a "tote double" at the Hurst Park race course recently. They received $735 each for an outlay of $2

The winning double was Kellsboro Jack, 1933 Grand National winner, owned by Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark, and Uncanny II, G. H. Bostwick's horse. Mr. Bostwick rode Uncanny II.

The horses were priced at 7-1 and 20-1 respectively, and if a punter had "coupled" them in betting with a bookmaker he would have received $400 for a $2 outlay.

OLNEY SHOWS PROMISE AS BOXER AT HARVARD

(International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Peter Butler Olney, 2d of Brookline, whose grand-uncle was attorney general of the United States and later Secretary of State under President Cleveland, is one of the most promising members of the Harvard boxing team. Freshman boxing team captain last year and member of the football team, Olney is making a strong bid in the 155 lb. class.

Vehicle owners of England paid nearly $163,000,000 for road licenses last year.

Shenango And Bessemer Will Play On Friday

Horteg, McConahy And Leitenen Will End Careers At Shenango High Friday

Shenango High school basketball team will close the 1935 floor season Friday night at the Shenango High floor by battling the fast Bessemer high team. Second place will be at stake in the County league in the final engagement. The game will mark the end of scholastic basketball for three of the Shenango High stars Horteg, McConahy and Leitenen.

The Shenango High girls will play the Bessemer High girls in a preliminary game at 7:30 o'clock.

Two Men Left

Coach Ed Raney will start his strongest team tomorrow night in an effort to take the victory. Shenango just missed the championship last year by a split hair at New Wilmington, when McKean shot a field goal just as the whistle blew. It was a tough old game to lose, but Shenango will be back next year with a faster team than ever and will have Tanner and Gibson as the nucleus.

Bessemer High will go to Shenango determined to knock the Shenangos out of second place if at all possible. This looks like a mighty big task in view of the fact that the championship New Wilmington team eked out a one-point victory on their own floor over the East New Castle boys.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

LISTEN TO THIS

The Sons of the Emerald Isle can still boast of Notre Dame as the "Fighting Irish" without going into whispers. The Student Directory, which lists the enrollment of the university, shows that the Sullivans and Murphys are at the top of the list of names. There are 24 Sullivan names and the Murphys come next, numbering 21. The Jones tribe, usually quite thick anywhere, didn't even rate, being able to show only three names on the whole campus. . . . $15,896,365 was the total betting rung up in the 65-day meet of the Santa Anita race track in California this season. The average daily wagering at the track was almost a quarter of a million dollars. . . . When Creighton university signed Marchy Schwartz to coach the football team they gave him a two-year contract.

This is Jack Moakley's thirty-sixth year as track coach at Cornell and the seventy-second year of his life. He is the oldest intercollegiate track coach and has never dropped a man from his squad. . . . Paul Pirrone, Frankie Wallace and Carmen Barth, Cleveland boxers, plan to invade Europe in April. . . . In addition to winning four letters in football at Notre Dame, Clipper Smith, Santa Clara coach, earned monograms in track, basketball and baseball. . . . Arpad Elo, associate professor of physics at Marquette university, recently won the Wisconsin state chess championship. . . . Joe Managan, former track star at Cornell, worked his way through school by playing a tenor banjo in an orchestra.

It isn't often that three decisions are given in one boxing bout, but it happened in the Mike McTigue-Young Stribling match at Columbus, Ga., in 1924. Harry Ertle, imported by McTigue, who held the 175-pound title at the time, first gave it to Stribling, then to McTigue, and finally called it a draw. . . . The Irish are still at it insofar as Jimmy McLarnin is concerned. They can't figure out where Jimmy was born—Dublin or Belfast. He's too smart to tell and his parents say they can't remember. . . . Sam Hardy, the former Davis Cup captain, says all a young man needs to develop into a top-ranking tennis player is $10,000 and ten years. . . . Robertshaw, center, and Zabriskie, guard, are the only linemen of the 1934 Navy football team who will be back for the 1935 season.

There are golf courses in England that compel golfers to wear red coats. It all started when they were required to warn grazing cattle of the approach of the strange white missiles. . . . Although eight years have passed since he won the national intercollegiate two-mile run, Melvin (Buster) Shimek, freshman track coach at Marquette university, still trains regularly and can outrun most of the candidates who present themselves to him. . . . General George H. Sherrill was the first American sprinter to use the crouch start in track competition. . . . Bill Werber, the Boston Redsox crack third baseman and stolen base artist, is the only one of seven of the Duke university team of 1930 that entered pro ball, who reached the major leagues and stayed there.

Rankin To Meet St. Marys Next

Altoona Will Go Against Fifth Avenue Of Pittsburgh In Other Sectional Battle

(International News Service)

Elimination of more district and local champions increased the pace of the schoolboy race for Pennsylvania's basketball crown today as teams pointed for the quarter finals to be played Saturday.

Another district champion fell by the wayside last night when Allentown defeated Steelton 30 to 24 by rallying in the second half in a thrill-packed game at Harrisburg. As a result Allentown will engage Pottstown in a regional playoff on the Villanova college court Saturday night.

In the only other game last night St. Marys won the district 9 crown from Knox 30 to 25. Rankin, District 7 winner, will meet St. Marys in the quarter-finals Saturday. The other western district game will pit Altoona against Fifth avenue of Pittsburgh.

Japanese Cannot Throw Nor Hit

Babe Ruth Says Sons Of Nippon Have Become Baseball Mad

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Mar. 14.—Babe Ruth sized up the Japanese baseball situation on his visit to the Braves headquarters.

"The Japanese ball players is a good fielder, very nimble on his feet, and daring on the bases," said Ruth. "But two of the most important things in baseball he can't do. He can't throw and can't hit that old onion as we say. One of our good semi-professional teams could defeat the best nine the Japs could get together."

Ruth revealed they have actually gone mad over the game. It is nothing, he said, to see businessmen get up at dawn and play a full nine-inning game before going to work.

St. Michaels Drop Battle

St. Nicholas Of Hazelton, Ohio, Defeat St. Michaels At Youngstown 24 To 17

(Special To The News)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Mar. 14.—St. Michaels of New Castle, Pa., leaders of the Penn-Ohio Church league were defeated here last night by the fast St. Nicholas church team of Hazelton, Ohio, at the Lincoln gym floor 24 to 17. The game was nip and tuck all the way, with the Ohioans forging ahead in the final few minutes of play.

At the end of the first half the Babovskymen were leading at 10 to 9, and held the lead in the second half until near the end of the game when Zuppko went on a scoring spree along with Schirilla and the Hazeltons took the lead. The St. Michaels put up a fine battle, but could not overcome the Ohioans.

James "Shimmy" Balla, the New Castle ace forward, was held scoreless from the field for the first time this year. Carik, Chernyavsky and Mackiewicz played fine basketball for the losers. For Hazelton the work of Schirilla and Zuppko was the bright spots.

The defeat for St. Michaels places them in a tie for the league lead with the strong Lansingville, Ohio, team. The St. Michaels team last night was a vastly improved team over the showing they made earlier in the year.

Two important games will be played in the New Castle Church league at the "Y" floor Friday night. The leadership of the league will be at stake in two crucial battles.

E. quintet, in the final game on the evenings program, however this looks like a big assignment for the Epworths.

The second game on the bill finds the Tifereth Israel and First M. E. teams battling. There is considerable interest in the two feature games for tomorrow night and a packed Y. M. C. A. floor will no doubt greet the tossers when they trot out on the hardwood.

Softball Moguls To Meet Tonight

First Meeting Of Year For Softball Called For Y. M. C. A. At 8 O'clock

Softball managers and officials will gather for the first meeting of the 1935 season tonight at the "Y" at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be presided over by Charles "Bugs" Walther who has been at the head of softball league here for the past seven years.

The meeting is open to all managers and officials of the league only. The custom of players gathering in the meeting room will cease. Two representatives from each of the teams in the league will be admitted to the meeting room, in addition to President Walther, vice-president Dave Riley, and secretary Michael "Jake" Babovsky.

Expect New Teams

It is planned to have a fast eight or ten team league this year with all teams using the 60 foot base line. No other ideas will be accepted as the New Castle league will operate as nearly as possible under the National Softball Association rules and will stick to them.

There is considerable enthusiasm already for softball here, and many new teams will no doubt seek admission to the league.

The first ten teams to be enrolled will constitute the league. Player lists will be required. There is a possibility that contracts will be handed out this year. This will do away with a lot of confusion.

The managers are asked to take notice of the limited meeting tonight and are asked not to request the presence of any of their players.

There will be a lot to accomplish at the meeting and the managers and officials are asked to get to the "Y" on time.

Baer And Louis Bout Is Sought

Pittsburgh Fight Promotors Offer Champion $250,000 To Battle Colored Boy

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 14.—A reply from Ancil Hoffman, manager of Max Baer, was awaited today by Lew Raymond, who offered the world's heavyweight boxing champion $250,000 to defend his title here on July 4 against Joe Louis, youthful Detroit negro.

None too confident of landing the match, Raymond thinks a Baer-Louis fight would draw nearly a half million dollars here. He thinks Louis' sensational rise in fistic circles and his long string of victories entitles hm to a crack at the title.

Raymond has delayed communicating with Louis until some word is received from Hoffman. It is expected, however, the Detroit slugger will be offered the customary challenger's share of 12½ per cent.

Mr. McKee from the Shelby Social club attended the meeting and listened to the plans for 1935. He said that the Shelby would decide whether or not to enter the league soon. The same stand was taken by Mr. Nocera who represented the Shenango Works of the American Sheet and Tinplate company.

Managers of Bessemer, Mahoning, West Pittsburg, Hillsville and Wampum declared their intention of taking out another franchise. As yet the Polish Nationals have not signified their intention of continuing in the loop.

SEES NEWSPAPERS CHECKING CRIME

(International News Service)

TULSA, Okla.—Newspaper publicity was lauded as a forceful crime deterrent by Eli Foster, Tulsa high school principal, in addressing the board of directors of the local chamber of commerce.

"The greatest influence in keeping people straight today is the fear of publicity," he said. "I used to think that fear of the law was the greatest influence for good, but we have come to the place where we select the laws we obey.

"If I had my way every crime and violation would be spread on the first page of our newspapers."

Undertone Of Market Is Firm Today, Reflects End Of Liquidation

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 14.—The stock market lapsed into irregularity today after yesterday's modest recovery. The undertone was firm, however, reflecting cessation of steady liquidation.

There were a few pronounced gains. Union Pacific spurted 2 points. Other rail shares were moderately higher, responding to reports that the I. C. C. would grant the carriers a rate rise "any day."

Sears Roebuck rose more than a point, reflecting the special dividend of 75 cents a share and the good earnings report for last year. Montgomery Ward was better in sympathy. Farm implement issues pointed higher.

Liquor shares were aided by National Distillers excellent earnings report.

On the other hand, American Telephone, ex-dividend, fell more than a point and there was pressure on other utilities. North American and American Water Works equalled their record lows.

Chrysler firmed up on the board's decision to call the dodge debentures. Other motor issues were quiet and easy, as were the accessories. The steels were sluggish and ruled in a narrow range around the previous close. Mining issues were dull, though International Nickel was moderately active and higher. Oils were irregular, as were the industrials.

Adolf Hitler Is Matchmaker

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Mar. 14.—Adolf Hitler, who has unswervingly shunned matrimony himself, today was hailed as the "perfect matchmaker".

The Reichsfuehrer was dubbed Eros by Emmy Sonneman, the blonde actress whose cap has netted the second-best "catch" in Germany, Hermann Wilhelm Goering, whose latest glory is the command of the Reich's new official air fleet.

In her star's dressing room at the State theater here, while she waited for the curtain to go up the premier of the "concert", Fraulein Sonneman told International News Service how Hitler introduced her to Goering, starting the romance.

Introduced By Hitler.

"A couple of years ago, while I was performing with the National Theatre group at Weimar, Hitler, who had just been appointed chancellor, gave me one of the biggest thrills of my life.

"He introduced me to Herr Goering."

She repeatedly referred to her fiance as "Herr Goering", never using any more intimate expression.

"So," she continued, "I suppose it is only fair to give the Fuehrer credit for being a perfect matchmaker.

"I'm thrilled and delighted that he is going to be the best man at our wedding April 11. It's a great honor."

Contracts For Teachers Up

Extension Of Some May Come Before School Board This Evening

COACHING STAFF BEING DISCUSSED

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 14—From all indications the School Board of Ellwood City will have one of its most important meetings tonight in the Lincoln school. The situation has been tense in the Lincoln school for the past few days, although all officials were tight lipped on all questions.

From seemingly common knowledge, extension of the contracts of Head Coach George "Ganzy" Benedict and Assistant and Faculty Manager M. J. Ferrare, ex-coach Todd Lloyd, and one woman teacher, is under question. It was revealed that an important recommendation is expected from the Education committee, headed by J. W. Mayne, this evening.

Regardless of the attitude of officials there is still the fact that for the past few days, the various school directors and superintendent of Schools Vaughn R. DeLong have been visited by several well known coaching candidates. Among those reported to be here were Coach Edw. Treadwell of Franklin: Coach Sachren, of East Liverpool, O., Coach Roark, of New Brighton, ex-Coach of Ellwood Robert Ingle, Paul Cuba of New Castle, former Pitt star and professional player, and Bill King, of Ellwood City, former Ellwood High and W. & J. star.

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 14.—Finishing cagers are again the champions of the Shelby Inter-department Basketball League as a result of their 39-21 victory over the Mechanicals Wednesday night at the Shelby auditorium. In the second game of the evening the Cold Draw passers trounced the Bar Mill, 45-23.

Although the season does not close until Saturday, the Finishing clinched the title with their victory. After losing two games they proceeded to win the first half, and since then have not been defeated. They are scheduled to meet the Office on Saturday, but the game can have no bearing on their standing. The Finishing, who were champs last year, have compiled a wonderful record.

It was a good and close game in the first half, but in the third chapter the Finishing came out with a determination and took a commanding lead, which they never relinquished. The score in the first quarter was 8-4, in the second 19-15, in the third 29-18, and final 39-21 for the champs. Barnes, Frew and Lasso were the big guns in the attack. Tomei was outstanding for the losers.

The Cold Draw seemed to be in top form last night, and after a slow start began clicking on all six. The score was 10-8 in their favor in the first quarter, 23-11 at the half, 29-19 in the third and 45-23 in the final. ### Are Mistaken For Couple Of Rebels In Cuba And Fired Upon By Soldiers

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HAVANA, Mar. 14.—Never did I write a story with so much pleasuse—for I am lucky to be alive to write it!

Taken for a couple of rebels last night, Mrs. Armstrong and I narrowly escaped with our lives when troops sent a spray of bullets whizzing past our ears.

After I had spent a busy day "covering" the revolutionary strike, and Mrs. Armstrong had been equally busily occupied with harassed Americans at the United States consulate, were were about to drag our weary bones to bed when we were attracted to the window by a loud argument in the street.

Bullets Miss Heads

Barely had we protruded our heads when shots cracked out, bullets zinged past us, and embedded themselves in the wall of the apartment.

We hadn't recovered from our fright when soldiers and sailors poured into the room, tearing it upside down in a search for arms. Somebody had been shot from our building, they said.

Our American passports and credentials appeased them, and they left us to bemoan the state of our apartment.

MANY LEGISLATORS HAVE BEEN CALLED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Illness and death have cut a wide swath in the ranks of public officials, particularly members of the legislature, in the two months since Democrats took office, a checkup showed today.

Death of Senator James S. Boyd, Montgomery, was the second in legislative circles within six weeks. The other was Rep. Edward B. Labar, Pike county Democrat.

Both the Republican senate and the Democratic house have been badly hit by absentee members. Four senate members were absent this week and six house members were missing from their seats. Most serious at the present are Reps. Frank W. Ruth, Berks, Democratic floor leader and chairman of the powerful Ways and Means Committee, and Harry N. Boyd, Westmoreland, Democratic whip. Ruth suffered pneumonia and a breakdown two weeks ago; Boyd suffered a stroke nearly a month ago.

On the other side of the legislative hall, Senator Andrew J. Sordoni, Luzerne, has been too ill to take his seat this session.

Illness among Gov. George H. Earle's cabinet has been prevalent. Insurance Commissioner Owen B. Hunt has just returned to his desk after an emergency appendicitis operation. Secretaries H. Edgar Barnes of revenue and Michael J. Hartneady of mines also have been absent from their desks and confined to bed several days since they took office January 15.

Nearly 850,000 tons of rice were shipped from Saigon, French Indo-China, in the first six months of this year.
